

A Look At Education

—by—
Eugene Robinson

We are concluding the first week of school after a wonderful Christmas vacation. Actually, I think most people were glad to get back on schedule and down to the business at hand; that of securing an education. I hope all students realize that the year is half over and semester exams will be given on January 13 and 14. January 17 is an in-service day for teachers and children will not come to school.

I will continue my report to you in regard to the federal aid in the Walton-Verona schools. Methods of School and Community Involvement in Developing This Plan. The elementary staff has held various meetings and discussed the need for the head teachers to be replaced with a principal. The superintendent has talked with the head teachers and all conclude that it is impossible for a head teacher to cope with all the problems that arise from low income families and from low achieving children along with normal problems.

The high school principal and his staff have done considerable work along the lines of remedial work in Reading, Math and Social Studies. Teachers have made a study and have written a report on the problems in working with low income, low achieving students. Also, they have expressed, in writing, some of the problems and how they would use the materials, equipment and teacher aids if they were available.

Many of the parents of the low achievers have come to school and discussed their problem with teachers, head teachers and principals. From each discussion there was always the thought of "not being able to read." A study of the total testing program has been made and there is a great weakness in reading, particularly in the area of comprehension. This being the case everyone feels that a remedial program involving comprehension in Reading, Math and Social Studies is most important. The lack of comprehension will create problems in all these areas, and since basic grants are small we ought to consider a general remedial program.

Our high school principal is a member of the Walton-Verona Community Action Program. He is keeping them informed as to our plans, and by the same token, we know what they are doing. This relationship will avoid duplication of efforts and activities.

The local P. T. A. is involved in an evaluation project. Out of their work came some thoughts that helped develop this plan. Details of Progress Proposals. A project designed to meet the most pressing educational needs of educationally deprived children in the Walton-Verona Schools, when described in a project application at a later date, will not supplant any existing program. In every case the program will be a new one or will be an addition to a program already in existence.

In developing this plan it was realized that all seven of the most pressing educational needs could not be implemented immediately. However, as one of the educational needs is substantially met, and as funds become available other projects will be implemented according to the priority list.

Facilities within the Walton-Verona School system at the present time are reasonably adequate to take care of projects once they are implemented. The need for equipment will depend upon the project being implemented. Each project application shall include a detailed list of equipment needed to effectively implement the project.

The lunch menu in the Walton-Verona Schools for the week of January 10, will be as follows:

- Monday: Frankfurter with sauer kraut, mashed potatoes, cream apple crisp, bread, butter, milk.
- Tuesday: Salisbury steak, cream of peas, baked potato, fruit, bread, butter, milk.
- Wednesday: Turkey salad, green beans, potato chips, pineapple Waldorf salad, milk.
- Thursday: Italian spaghetti, tossed salad, apple pie, milk, bread, butter.
- Friday: Grilled cheese, cole slaw, corn, cake and sauce, milk.

Knothole Supervisors Needed In Walton

Knothole baseball supervisors are needed badly in Walton. We believe this to be a worthwhile program and think the boys of Walton should participate. For the past few years, Walton representation in this program has been practically nil. We are told that last year there were 42 boys of Class C age alone who wanted to play ball but could not do so because there was no coach. Who you give this thought? Knothole meetings are held in the basement hall of St. Paul's School, Florence, the first Monday of each month at 8:00 p. m. A few representatives from our town would be more than welcome. Edward Checkoff of Florence, heads the Boone County Knothole League.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—Is there a special protection for a veteran who has been receiving a 100 per cent disability from the VA for almost 20 years? I thought that a law was passed on this matter.

A—The law to which you refer states that after a veteran has had a service-connected disability for 20 years, his disability rating cannot be reduced below the lowest rating that he has held during that 20-year period.

Q—I have read in your column that a veteran can collect a pension from the VA for the time he served in the service if he retires or becomes unable to work. Is this correct?

A—Veterans of WW I, WW II or the Korean Conflict who were discharged under other than dishonorable conditions after 90 or more days service, or because of a service-connected disability, who are permanently and totally disabled from reasons not traceable to service may be entitled to a non-service connected pension of their income from all sources or $3000 with dependents.

Q—I have heard of a bill in Congress that will enable all ex-GI's to obtain a GI loan for a home, etc. My husband was in the service from 1958 to 1960. Would he be eligible for this benefit from the VA and what limitations are made by this bill?

A—The bill to which you refer has been passed and is now law. If a veteran has had 90 days of consecutive active duty and an honorable discharge, he may qualify for a loan for a home. This loan is administered by the Federal Housing Administration; the veteran must obtain a certificate of veteran's status from the VA. If a veteran has already had a GI loan, he does not qualify under this new loan program.

A Tragedy of Errors by Jerry Marcus

CARD OF THANKS—

We would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to our many friends, neighbors and relatives for all their kindness shown us while I was in the hospital and also after I returned home. Thanks for the many prayers, cards, visits, flowers and phone calls. Your kindness shall always be a treasure of remembrances to us. I am planning to be back with you all on my job real soon. May God bless everyone. Your friend,

JAMES E. BEACH, Warsaw 11-1*

CARD OF THANKS—

We wish to take this opportunity to thank our neighbors, friends, and the Walton Fire Department for assistance in the recent loss of our home and possessions by fire. A special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. "Ab" Ryan for giving us a house to move into; for donations of money, clothing, and furnishings. Your kindness will not be forgotten. We thank all of you.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Webster 11-1*

Every school day in Ky. an average of 390,000 youngsters in grades one thru 12 ride school buses. This represents almost 60 percent of all the children and requires a fleet of 4,400 buses.

Pupil transportation by school buses is the third largest single expenditure by the State Department of Education, costing $12 million a year.

A garbage disposer gets rid of food scraps before they actually become garbage. One of these modern units will help keep your kitchen work counter neat and free of food waste and will remove the nuisance of unsightly garbage at its source.

Disposal of kitchen waste is a daily problem for the homemaker, especially in a rural home. Here are answers to questions often asked by homemakers who are considering the purchase of a disposer.

What can go into the disposer? It can handle any kind of food waste except bones too large for the opening, although such stringy, tough scraps as corn husks and pea pods will need to be fed in gradually, mixed with other types of waste and flushed down with plenty of water. Although this practice is questionable, some soft-surfaced paper items such as paper towels and napkins can be put in the disposer, but they should always be used in small quantities and mixed with food waste.

Such items as bottle tops, glass, rags, string, shells, and paper cartons should not go in the disposer. Although it could shred them, their residue could easily clog drain lines and leave the disposer unusable for a time.

How does a disposer work? Waste is thrown against a shredder until reduced to tiny particles, which are carried away by running water. Cold water is used for flushing away the shredded waste because it congeals grease and prevents dry waste from clogging pipes. Flush the pipes with running water for a few seconds after the motor has been turned off to rinse all remaining refuse from pipes. The disposer is operated by a 1/4 or 1/2 horsepower motor and the shredding mechanism rotates at about 1725 revolutions per minute.

How about cost? Pro-rated over the long life of the disposer, the cost is modest. The useful life of this appliance averages about 15 years, although many last longer. Average daily operating cost is about 3 cents. From 1 1/2 to 2 gallons of cold water per person daily will be needed for full use of the disposer.

Can disposers be used with septic tanks? Disposers work well with septic tanks if the tank is of adequate capacity. FHA minimum property standards for septic tanks are good guides to follow. However, if your septic tank meets your present needs, it will probably be adequate for use with a disposer if you clean it a little more often.

One of our present troubles seems to be that too many adults and not enough children believe in Santa Claus.

WINTER DRIVING TIP
Is your car heater and defrosting equipment in good working order? This precaution is essential to assure clear vision for winter driving, advises Charles B. Jones, Safety Coordinator of the Governor's Coordinating Committee for Traffic Safety. Also replace wiper blades if they are streaking, and use a brush to remove snow from all windows of your car. Then you will see better. For your safety, you also must be seen clearly by others. Check your lighting front and rear for safer night driving in winter.

Don't let your food for thought become cold hash.

If your lawn seems to have suddenly turned into a jigsaw puzzle of tiny ridges, you have a mole problem. Moles can seriously damage lawns, since their tunneling uproots sod, causing grass roots to dry out and die.

The mole is causing homeowners more headaches than usual this year because of the unseasonably warm weather. Warmer temperatures and unfrozen soil have allowed mole activity much later in the year than usual. White grubs and earthworms, the mole's major source of food, have gone deeper into the soil by this time of year and the mole is being forced to travel farther...and tear up more of your lawn...to find food.

Runways should be stamped or rolled out to prevent further drying out of the grass roots. In addition, there are several mole control methods you may want to try. Mole traps made of steel can be placed in the runways. When the ridges are tamped down, you can see where the moles are moving. Put the trap at the front end of an active burrow and...if you are lucky...you may catch a mole.

Poison peanuts are also available for mole control. Put these down in the active tunnels, following label directions carefully. If you're lucky, these may give some help. Or if you have the time, the patience and a shovel, watch the lawn carefully after you've tamped down the ridges and, when you see a mole moving underground, scoop him out.

A sure way of getting rid of the moles is to destroy their food supply, since this is the reason they are tunneling around in your lawn. A soil insecticide is the best way to do this. They are Aldrin, Chlor-dane, DDT, Dieldrin and Heptachlor. Be sure to follow directions.

LOSE $80 A YEAR ON YOUR FARM

Say, how'd you like to lose eighty dollars, in cold cash? No? I guess nobody would do that, if he could help it. But you know, that's exactly what the average farm loses each year...to rats and mice. Eighty dollars. A lot of money, and you don't have to lose it either. Not since Purina came out with Rat-Kill...the bait that rats actually PREFER over grain or commercial feed. And now is the ideal time to set out some bait stations. The old rats carry Purina Rat-Kill back to the nest. It's the new idea for an old, old problem. And it's one of the best investments you can make. Purina Rat-Kill. See us for your rat killing needs.

HOG MARKET TO HOLD UP STRONG

Reports in from all available sources indicate that the present hog market will hold up through 1966. The main reason is that there is just not enough sows available for breeding, due to the extremely high sow market and the number of gilts being sold as finished hogs. Your best bet is to get fast, efficient growth on pigs farrowed now. You can have them at 50 pounds fast on Purina's famous "Fast Start Twins"—Purina Baby Pig Chow and Purina Pig Startena. And they'll have the growth they need to go on to market sooner than the average hog. Purina Baby Pig Chow and Purina Startena keep pigs gaining because they supply vitamins, minerals and antibiotics baby pigs need for health and growth. They're palatable, too—pigs go to them early. Call us today.

A Look At Education

—by—
Eugene Robinson

I shall conclude the portion of the Federal Aid project called Part I or the Basic Data this week. Next week I will start my discussion of the Project Application and how we plan to move in this program.

Procedures and Activities to be Undertaken in Relation to this Program for the Acquisition and Dissemination of Information Derived from Research and Demonstration

The procedures and activities for adequate dissemination of data gathered in this program will be integrated into the present In-Service Program. Opportunities will be made available for personnel to participate in workshops, and consultants will be brought in to discuss problems encountered when working with the educationally deprived child. Publications applicable to programs for the educationally deprived child will be made available to staff members.

Research data and information gained from evaluative procedures will be made available to all members of the professionally staffed only those practices which meet the special educational needs of the educationally deprived children will be strengthened in future years. Significant information derived from projects within this program will be made available to the State Department of Education and any other interested person or persons.

Proposed Procedures for Evaluating the Effectiveness of This Program

The details and results of the 1964-65 school program, as it related to the educationally deprived child, will be used as a reference point when evaluating the effectiveness of the Walton-Verona program.

It will be necessary to use various evaluative techniques since there are seven priority areas. It is fully realized the following evaluative techniques do not include all that could be used; nevertheless, they should render sufficient data to determine the effectiveness of the Walton-Verona program.

1. Results obtained from standardized tests.
2. Attendance record of students.
3. Principal's supervisory reports.
4. Teacher evaluation of the effectiveness of the program.
5. Retention rate of students.
6. Individual case studies of the students.
7. Dropout study.
8. Compare interest level of educationally deprived children.

At the November 10th meeting of the Walton-Verona Board of Education authorized me to request the Department of Education to make a facility survey of the Walton-Verona School District. The committee from Frankfort will be here Tuesday, January 18, 1966. You will be kept abreast with the findings and recommendations that come from the study.

Menu for week of January 17—Monday: No school for children; Tuesday: Weiner Winks, navy beans cole slaw Wednesday: Creamed turkey, buttered peas, fruit, hot rolls, milk butter. Thursday: Hamburger pattie on bun, potato salad, baked beans. Friday: Tuna fish salad, potato chips, banana pudding.

WALTON, KENTUCKY — THURSDAY, JANUARY 13, 1966

Volume 51 - Number 2

Warning Issued by Boone Health Dept.

A statement was issued today warning against the use and the sale of plastic ice balls and the water filled teething rings which have recently caused much concern across the nation. These also include the figures in drink cooler form, different colors, which appeared in the county as a Christmas gift received from abroad. "The plastic drink coolers made in Hong Kong and offered for sale in Kentucky are suspected of being a health hazard because of polluted water inside the container". These ice balls are sold in many shapes for freezing and using in drinks and other foods in the place of ice cubes.

Analysis of the water contained in these ice balls by the Laboratory of the Kentucky State Department of Health has shown definite contamination, however, no disease producing bacteria have been isolated as of this date. "Samples will continue to be analyzed, and notification will be given to the public if harmful bacteria are isolated", according to the Health Department.

Water-filled teething rings, also manufactured in Hong Kong, and reportedly for sale in Kentucky, should be considered unsafe until more definite information is available.

The Health Department warns that anyone having these products should not use them and further warns that those stores having these drink coolers for sale should refrain from selling them to the consuming public.

Students Urged To Enter Essay Contest

The 20th annual Essay Contest of the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons is now in progress. A relatively large response has been generated locally according to a spokesman for the Boone County Medical Society, local sponsor of the contest.

The contest provided a choice of two themes, "The Advantage of the American Free Enterprise System" and "The Advantage of Private Medical Care." Physicians are interested in stimulating young people to think deeply about American freedom and to understand why Americans enjoy the highest quality medical care and the highest living standards in the world.

The local chairman said all students in the 10th through the 12th grades are urged to research, write and submit their entries before the February 1 deadline for the local contest, which offers prizes of $25.00, $15.00 and $10.00. The three best entries in the local contest will be entered in national competition.

Both of the senior high schools in Boone County are cooperating fully and all students attending these schools in the upper three classes are eligible. Your local principal, teachers and librarians can help you find information and books that will be helpful. The student should submit, with his essay, a bibliography listing his references and sources of information, in conformance with accepted literary style. Essays submitted at the local level will be judged by a prominent local public official, a professor of English at a nearby University, and the contest chairman from the Boone County Medical Society.

She served as a student council representative during the 1964-65 school term.

Miss Cummins is also serving as a Residence Assistant. These are students selected on the basis of leadership, scholarship, and the desire to help their fellow students obtain all the experiences and advantages of living together so that someday they will make a worthwhile contribution to society. These girls are on duty at all times for counseling. They also conduct hall meetings, make room checks, and see that quiet hours are observed. The assistants are responsible to the advisors, Dean Janet Brown and President Albert N. Cox.

Advisors and assistants work hand in hand to promote happy home life throughout the dormitories. Mary is a member of the International Club which is a club made up of students from all countries represented at Midway Junior College.

Meal Planning Is Important Today

Did you notice during our holiday entertaining that guests were conscious of whether the vegetables were buttered, let extra helpings of high calorie foods go by and maybe even refused bread or other foods? Family eating patterns in the United States have changed drastically in the last few decades.

Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, University of Kentucky Foods Specialist, listed the reasons for the change in meal planning in the lesson she taught to Boone County Homemakers. The chief reasons were as follows:

1. One-fifth of adults over 25 suffer from some heart or circulatory disease.
2. One-third of adults in the U. S. are overweight.
3. One-third of the women are employed outside of the home.
4. There are over 8,000 different items to choose from on supermarket shelves.

Mrs. Johnson emphasized that due to these social and technical factors that meal planning was even more important today. The homemaker needs to satisfy the family's diverse nutritional needs to make convenience foods and planning work for her; to keep her family happy by using a variety of foods that are pleasing, and to keep abreast of new products on the market.

This was the first of a series of four lessons which Homemakers will be studying during the Spring. The other lessons will be, "What's Your Market Basket?" (1) Breads, Cereals and Staples; (2) Milk and Milk Products; (3) Fruits and Vegetables.

Leaders who were in attendance were: Mrs. Janice Sweeney, Mrs. Jean Yountcheff, Mrs. Ruth Glenn, Mrs. Lawrence Teeter, Mrs. Dorothy Chute, Mrs. Pat Lawrence, Mrs. B. M. Stevens, Mrs. Lucille Major, Mrs. Alfred Becker, Mrs. Sally Hicks, Mrs. Raymond Stephenson, Mrs. Russell Kelly, Mrs. Vernon Anderson, Mrs. Roger McGuire, Mrs. Ralph Voderichmidt, Mrs. Don Egor, Mrs. James Clayton, Mrs. George Rettig, Mrs. B. J. Clark, Mrs. Martin McCage, Mrs. Alice H. Sleet, Mrs. Roy Davis, Mrs. Phyllis Williams, and Mrs. Jan Nelson.

The 1966 General Assembly

—by—
Representative Dan J. Roberts

To all of the citizens of the 60th Legislative District, a sincere thanks for the confidence that you have placed in electing me as your representative. The task has begun... the 1966 General Assembly began on January 4 and will continue to mid March. I shall from time to time try to acquaint you with some of the most important issues. It would be much easier for me to do a better job for you, the citizens, if I could have your ideas on some of these most important issues.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

1. TWO BILLION DOLLAR BUDGET. The 1966 Budget Bill has already been presented to this session of the General Assembly. This amount will represent all of the money spent by your State Government for the next two years. Out of this amount 665 million is estimated to be included in the general revenue, the remainder coming from the State Highway fund, Federal Government and Bonded indebtedness. Any way that you look at it, the amount of money it is beyond imagination. This means that the Legislature will be spending 33 million dollars of your money daily during the 60-day session.

2. CIVIL RIGHTS. This piece of legislation is designed so that this State may give its moral obligation that is needed, beyond the provisions of the Federal Law.

3. STRIP MINING. This is an attempt to make corrections for abuse of our land caused by anger mining or strip mining. This does not create any problems within this area, but in some sections of the State creates serious erosion and flooding of valuable land.

4. EDUCATION. Most of this subject is included in House Bill No. 17 (Budget Bill). The Kentucky Educational Association had asked that $1,000 per class room unit be included in the budget to provide for a $900 teachers pay raise and $200 additional for capital outlay.

The budget, as it now stands, provides for a $400 pay raise for teachers. There is a very strong feeling among the legislators to provide an additional amount in the budget for school teachers pay raise. This would make it necessary to reduce the amount allocated for some other services. I, myself, would like to see this raise. These are just a few of the many bills that have been introduced... before the end of the session we will have considered some 600 more separate issues. All of these issues will in some way affect you, the citizens of this district. I will be most happy to have your views and comments. If it is possible, make a visit to your State Capital during the session. Have any ideas? Let me hear from you.

TO OBSERVE SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY, JANUARY 23

Mr. and Mrs. Steinhauer were married at St. Mary's by Rev. Georgehr on January 24, 1906. To this union two children were born, Margaret Heideman and Wilmer Steinhauer. They have 11 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

The many friends of this couple are cordially invited to attend the open house and share with them this joyous occasion.

TAYLOR MILL

Ernest J. Kyle, Reporter

Well, the holidays are over and we think everyone is glad, although we heard one kid say, "I wish we had Christmas every day." Well, if that was the case, we would have to build madhouses where all the old stations are. It's glorious for one day, but 365 days, nix on that.

We got the good news from our grandson, Capt. Richard Dorsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dorsey of the Tower, that he had just been promoted to major in the Air Force. He is receiving congratulations from fellow officers and friends here at home.

We were going to report the visitors we had during the holidays, but suffice it to say that but one of our nine grandchildren and 18 of 21 great-grandchildren were here during the week, which must be some kind of a record.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Ida McBee, who formerly was our neighbor on Harris Pike. We extend heartfelt sympathy to her husband, Leonard McBee, and the children. They lived at Sadleville, Ky.

The attacks on women driving cars alone are getting pretty close to home, as there was one on Taylor Mill and one on Decourcy Pike last week.

We hear that a new fixit shop has started up on Station Road for radio, television and small appliances. Their motto is, "If we can't fix, junk it."

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can well, and doing well whatever you do, without a thought of fame.

Your share of 1500 pounds of food per person in 1966 will cost more is the prediction given at the 43rd annual Agricultural Outlook Conference at U.S.D.A. last November.

Although total per capita consumption of food will be about the same as in 1965, there will be a continued downward supply of livestock products available. More food from crops will be seen than in 1965. Retail food costs are expected to increase about four percent in 1966, but that is less than the six percent increase experienced in 1965.

The portion of income being spent for foods is not rising as fast as income. Income after taxes, up until November, is up six and a half percent over the previous year. The percentage spent for foodstuffs in 1965 is expected to decline slightly again in relation to income. Higher retail prices, population growth, and added marketing services are responsible for higher food expenditures this year and will likely be the factors to cause future increases.

Food expenditures this year are averaging about $430 per person. This is a simple average of $85 and a half billion divided by the total population (including Armed Forces overseas) of 194.8 million on July 1, 1965. It compares with $420 per capita spent in 1964 for foods.

Meat prices have been a major factor behind the increase in average retail food prices during 1965. All meats contributed to the price increase, but the largest increases were seen on pork and lamb. Pork prices are at record high levels, and smaller supplies are responsible for this. Beef prices are well above those of a year ago, about in line with prices in the fall of 1962. Poultry meat prices are higher this year despite heavier supplies.

Poultry meat consumption has and is still increasing as red meat supplies have been caught short, so to speak. All meat retail prices are expected to continue high in the coming months, however, the additional increases are expected to be less than those of 1965.

You won't notice the change by examining your next plate of vegetables, or sipping a glass of milk, or even digging into a juicy steak, but there is a "new" man producing your food. Today's farmer bears scant resemblance to his predecessor of just a few decades ago. Developing new abilities to meet new demands, he has become a skilled businessman behind a mechanized plow as he applies modern techniques to an ancient occupation. His hats are many: he must be something of a veterinarian, bookkeeper, chemist, mechanic, weatherman, geneticist and conservationist.

Some city dwellers may still think of a farmer as strictly a simple man of the soil, preoccupied with vigorous physical labor such as weeding a scythe or a pitchfork, or working up a sweat behind a horse-drawn plow. But that is as archaic as picturing a bareheaded catcher standing at a safe distance behind home plate and reaching for a pitcher's throw on the mound.

Baseball, the national pastime, has developed to where the catcher can now thump his padded glove in the air-conditioned comfort of Houston's domed stadium. Farming, the national industry, has been so modernized that you can now find a farmer working in the field while seated on a foam rubber seat inside the glass-enclosed cab of an air-conditioned, diesel-powered harvesting machine.

There's far more mental work today. For instance, now a farmer must have some of the veterinarian's skills. In the old days you took potluck and tried some old fashioned home remedies when your animals got sick. Today, you type to read up on all the auras and drugs available for administering to your livestock. This is not by any means replacing the veterinarian, but you can't call him out for every small ailment.

Separating the debits from the credits is another fertile area of mental farming. In his role as bookkeeper, the farmer maintains records and analyzes his expenses frequently. He is faced with such investment decisions as: "would it be more profitable to buy seed and fertilizer in the fall when prices are down and store it until spring? It might be wiser to keep the money drawing bank interest. Like any other businessman, he must always be on the alert for possible tax advantages.

Experience is a hard teacher, because she gives the test first, the lesson afterwards.

TODAY'S WINTER DRIVING TIP

Keep your distance, and then some. Winter drives are admonished by the National Safety Council. On snow and ice the interval between moving cars must be lengthened. The Governor's Coordinating Committee for Traffic Safety joins the Council in this request, and adds: Remember that in winter, half the posted speed limits may be too fast at times. Adjust speed to the changing road surface conditions.

Coming up ...another big year for the South!

RECENT YEARS have been big growth years for the South. In the past six years, businessmen have invested $2½ billion in new and expanded industrial projects along Southern Railway's lines alone. These developments, totaling more than 2,000, have created thousands of new jobs. And expanding business has brought in its wake new opportunities for personal development in education, the arts and other non-commercial pursuits.

Just as surely, another bright year lies ahead. The South's economy will continue to expand and diversify for the same good reasons as before... dependable, productive workers... abundant natural resources... booming markets... low-cost rail transportation... and many others.

Particularly in the agri-business field will there be exciting new opportunities for profit and growth, made possible by Southern's drastically reduced freight charges for hauling grain into the Southeast from the Midwest. Agricultural economists confidently predict that the great new livestock and related agri-business expansion stemming from Southern's low grain freight rates will annually put 2 billion new dollars into circulation in the South, ringing cash registers everywhere.

Working together, we can make 1966 the "best year yet" for the South!

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—How can a veteran selling his home be relieved of liability on a VA guaranteed loan?

A—One method is to require the purchaser to pay off the GI loan with his own resources or to obtain a new loan. Another method is to have the purchaser assume all the veteran's liabilities on the home and have the VA approve the assumption agreement and specifically release the veteran from further liability to the VA.

Q—In 1946 my ten per cent disability was reduced to zero per cent. The reduction to zero per cent made reinstatement possible if my disability recurred. Does my zero per cent entitle me to reinstatement my National Service Life Insurance, which I dropped in '48?

A—Since it appears that you have a service-connected disability, you may apply for the new insurance which is being sold by the Veterans Administration. Application must be made before May 2, 1966.

Q—My application for insurance under the law which permits service-connected disabled veterans to apply for insurance until May 2, 1966, was rejected because I had a non-service-connected disability in addition to my service-connected disability. This non-service-connected condition has improved and is no longer disabling. Will the insurance now be granted?

A—You should make another application for the insurance as soon as possible based on your present condition of health.

December 27, members of the Piner Teen Bee 4-H Club donated $100.00 to the Piner-Fiskburg Volunteer Fire Department.

This club is made up of eighteen boys and girls ranging in age from 13 to 18 years, and they raised this money by selling candy bars in their annual candy sale.

Last April they also donated $100.00 to the Kathleen Kunkel I. F. Y. E. Fund which they raised in the same manner except for $10.00 which was raised by selling pecans.

Members taking part in this year's candy sale were as follows: Don and Bruce Courtney, Jerry and Gayle Reed, Tom, Ed and Kay Cummins, Sandy LaFollette, Jerry Bray, Cherri Northcutt, Marcia Cook, Linda Whaley, Tressa Jackson, Edith McMillan, Martha Helmer, Janice Daniels, Nancy Baker, and Davy Worthington. The leaders are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cummins, Robert G. Maddox, electrician, and Mrs. Raymond LaFollette, sewing leader.

In 1963 they also donated $100.00 to the Piner-Fiskburg Volunteer Fire Department and $20.00 to the North Central Kentucky 4-H Camp at Carlisle, Nicholas County. This money was raised from a Hoot-nanny, bake sale and pecans.

They also have a project of sending get-well cards to the sick and shut-ins of the community, sympathy cards to the bereaved and birthday cards to the elderly citizens. These are also paid for from their club treasury.

On December 18, some of the members gathered at the fire house to decorate it for Christmas before the Ladies Auxiliary of the Department held their bake sale. They also put up a Christmas Tree outside. They bought a string of lights for the tree, Chief Williams also donated a string.

Members working on this project were Sandy LaFollette, Don and Bruce Courtney, Tom and Ed Cummins, Marcia Cook, Jerry Bray, Janice Daniels, Cherri Northcutt, and Jerry and Gayle Reed. Adults serving as chaperones were Mrs. Raymond LaFollette, Harold Bray, Fire Chief Williams, Richard Rich, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cummins and Mary Cummins.

In driving rain or heavy fog, it is better to stay at home or to stop driving if you are caught on the road. Unless you have clear vision ahead, you may drive off the road, crash into a car ahead of you, or collide head-on with an oncoming car. Softer Hands

IT'S ROUGH—If you do housework and dishes and use detergents, you know how fast your hands dry out and chap. But did you know that there is now an anti-detergent type hand cream, created especially for hands of the modern detergent generation? Gloves help, of course, but apply cream before as well as after household jobs and you'll notice the difference. Latest Pacu-ni surveys reveal that most women use hand cream regularly before retiring, because cream stays on and restores moisture to the skin while they sleep.

WATCH OUT FOR LICE AND MANGE ON CATTLE & HOGS

With the exceptionally warm weather we have had this fall and early winter, lice, fleas and mange have really had a picnic with cattle and hogs. In many cases cattle have lost patches of hair and loss of weight. You can stop this stress and dollar loss in your cattle and hogs by using Purina Hog and Cattle Dusting Powder. This low cost product remains active on treated animals long enough to kill most of young lice that hatch after treatment. Can be used as a bedding deodorant with sows and fat hogs. Kills insects in the bedding. Hog and Cattle Duster powder is an excellent product for controlling lice and mange in cattle and hogs during the winter months, when crawling insects are a problem. Just merely dust or rub powder into the hair coat of all animals in the herd. Available in 20-lb. drums or 1-lb. shaker cans. Check with us today.

Mrs. L. M. Deuser, who has been ill for a week or more, is somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gasker of Oswego, N. Y., visited friends and relatives here during the holidays. Having spent a few weeks in the hospital, Joe Sweeney was very glad to be able to come home on Dec. 22, in time for the Christmas holidays. His granddaughter, Mrs. Howard Willoughby, and her daughters came to visit and were joined later by Mr. Willoughby. They all started back to Florida, Dec. 29.

Miss Emma Yates spent the holidays with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mayo Smith, of Crestwood, Ky. During the next week she was recalled to Crestwood because of Mrs. Smith's illness. We learn she is improving.

Joe Sweeney, who spent from Thanksgiving to almost Christmas in the hospital, came home on the 23 of December, only to have to go back the next day. He is now home.

Miss Lena Mills, well known here, is a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital. We hope she is well soon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rapp quietly celebrated their 62nd anniversary

Kenton County Garden Club

The Kenton County Garden Club met with Miss Elma Taylor, Dec. 17, at her home on Sidney Drive.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Taylor. The minutes of the last meeting were read and the treasurer's report was given. It was again stressed that each member consider herself a committee of one and watch for items which would be useful at the fair. We should purchase same and be sure to keep the sales slip. Having no new business, the meeting was turned over the program chairman.

The program chairman called on Mrs. Wesley Hall, who gave the devotional, reading a story of the Nativity from "Christ and the Fine Arts." Each member present had brought a Christmas decoration. These were admired and discussed. We were pleased to find that we have so much artistic talent among us. Numbers were drawn and each seemed pleased with the arrangement she took home with her.

Delicious refreshments, in the Christmas tradition, were served by the hostess. No meeting is to be held in January.

A Look At Education

—by—
Eugene Robinson

For the last few weeks we have discussed the preliminary work and basic data for this year's Federal Aid to Education Act.

This week, I shall discuss the actual application that we have filed with the Department of Education.

Summary of Proposed Project
The purpose of the Remedial Project for the Walton-Verona School District is to establish and implement a program geared to meet the individual needs of children who are classified as educationally deprived in the areas of reading, math and social studies. Because of the size of the grant it was felt that all these areas should be included in the General Remedial Project. The need for such an effort in all areas has been realized for a long period of time. However, funds have not been available for such a program.

This Remedial Project will be made available to educationally deprived in the Walton-Verona Schools regardless of race, color or creed, consistent with criteria used in determining incidence and severity of need for a Remedial Program.

Present facilities owned by the Walton-Verona Board of Education are adequate to carry on this program. Instructional material and equipment will have to be purchased. Also the salary of 3 of an elementary principal will be paid for starting January 1, 1967.

Evaluation will take place during the entire time the project is in effect. The procedures for evaluating the project are outlined in the project application.

Data obtained in the evaluation of the program will be made available to all in our program as well as other areas needing and desiring such information.

Neediness and Severity of the Need for a General Remedial Program
1. Results of the testing program administered at the close of the 1964-1965 school term showed that 26 percent, or about 350 students, ranked below the norm for their grade level. Also some 95 students had an IQ of below 90.

2. Absenteeism was checked at the close of the school term. This check indicated that the law breakers or slow learners missed some 50 percent more than the average student.

3. The librarian records on these students indicate that some did not check out books all year and others checked out one book at the average student's four books.

4. In making a survey of the doubts it was determined that in every case there was a reading problem.

5. Study hall teachers reported that the slow learner was not working in this class and that the students did not seem to be able to do the regular assignments. Thus, the need for a remedial program.

Special Educational Needs Which Project Has Been Designed to Meet

Data gathered from research regarding the slow or non-achiever indicates he usually experiences difficulties in all the subject matter areas. Consequently, such a student usually has poor study habits, lacks the motivation to study, does not have confidence in himself and, in general, possesses negative attitude toward all phases of the school program. With this in mind, this General Remedial Project in Walton-Verona has been designed to meet the following special education needs:

a) Help the student overcome emotional and psychological problems, and negative attitudes.

b) Provide a program adapted to helping meet the needs of children deprived economically and culturally, as well as educationally.

c) Assist the child in question to change his image of himself, of a person in authority and his development of self-discipline and self-control traits.

Menu at Walton-Verona Schools for the week of January 17:
Monday: Barbecue on bun, baked apples, ginger bread and sauce.
Tuesday: Wiener Winks, navy beans, sole steak.

Wednesday: Creamed turkey, buttered peas, fruit, hot rolls, butter, milk.

Thursday: Hamburger patty on bun, potato salad, baked beans.
Friday: Tuna fish salad, potato chips, banana pudding.

How fortunate is he who, in this busy world, enjoys both the willingness and ability to help his fellow man.

Representative Dan J. Roberts

The third week of the regular session of the 1966 General Assembly is drawing to a close. Only one Bill has become a law. House Bill No. 1, the Budget for the fiscal years 1966-67 and 1967-68 was signed by Governor Edward Breathitt on Friday, January 14th after passage in the Senate by 31 to 5, had previously passed the House 99-0. However, slow this might seem the legislature is far ahead of schedule in the passage of this act.

The legislature is now completely organized all committee appointments have been made, from now until adjournment, the third floor of the Capital will be a Bee Hive of activity. Your representative has been assigned to nine separate committees: Agriculture, Aviation (Chairman), Conservation (vice-chairman), County Government, Education, Fish and Game, Insurance, Railroads, and State Parks.

Sixty-eight House Bills and 42 Senate Bills introduced before the printing of the Legislative Record of January 14th. These have been assigned to various committees for study. Some of these will require committee Hearings.

Some of the important issues: Senate Bill No. 1—Repealing 10 gallon production tax on distilled spirits.

Senate Bill No. 2—Relating to regulations on strip mining.

Senate Bill No. 42—Amending KRS 31.120 to prohibit any proposed city from incorporating under the provision of KRS 81.040 when any part of its boundary is within one mile of an incorporated city of any class.

House Bill No. 10—Authorizing cities or counties to regulate garbage disposal.

House Bill No. 25—Increasing from $5.00 to $10.00 per day the amount paid to Grand or petit jurors.

House Bill No. 33—An act changing the boundary of each of the seven Kentucky Congressional Districts.

House Bill No. 35—Increasing the pay of election officers.

These are but a few issues to be considered. One of the most important is the Human Rights Bill (House Bill No. 2). This act is expected to pass with some amendments. Eliminates discrimination in connection with employment and public accommodations within the Commonwealth. This act also authorizes the establishment of local human rights commissions.

I shall try to have more information for you later in regard to the serious problem of the financing of elementary education, and how we may meet this crisis. How we may be able to furnish additional class rooms and provide additional funds to pay teachers the salaries that they need and deserve.

Try to visit your State Capital during this session of the legislature. Learn more about your state government.

Kenton Elementary PTA
Kenton Elementary School will hold its first PTA meeting of the new year on Thursday, January 20 at 8:00 p. m. in the school gym.

Following the regular business session, Mrs. Art O'Brien, president, will present Dr. Edward Reardon, the guest speaker of the evening. His topic will be, "Exceptional Child."

There will be refreshments in the cafeteria following the meeting. Everyone is invited to attend.

Walton Police Court
Traffic Court conducted Wednesday January 12th by Judge K. E. Johnson resulted in the following: Ticket No. 254, 1959 Chevy, $1.00. License 52-214, Improper Parking Francis Bishop, Cincinnati, Cross-center line and forcing cars to dodge, $15.00.

For age and want, save while you may; no morning sun lasts a whole day.

KILGORE-TANNER
Mrs. Phyllis Kilgore (nee Kite) was united in marriage to Charles L. Tanner on New Year's Eve at the Presbyterian Church at Union, Ky. Rev. Hoffman performed the ceremony.

Witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wiedner, and the attendants were Mrs. Mabel Kite, mother of the bride, and Mrs. T. Tanner, mother of the groom.

The newlyweds are now making their home in Florence. Their families and many friends wish them a long and happy life together.

Bake Sale Saturday
The Boone County Association for Retarded Children is sponsoring a bake sale on Saturday, Jan. 22, from 10:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. at Chinatown in Erlanger.

Arrangements for donations of homemade cakes, pies, cookies, bread, and candy may be made by calling Mrs. Mary Haynes at 384-3257 or Mrs. Bernard Ends at 283-0605.

Everyone is urged to cooperate in making this sale a big success. The needs of retarded children become more demanding all the time. Enrollment in the various classes is increasing and supplies must constantly be changed and replaced. This is one way everyone can have a part in helping promote the retardation program.

Wisdom is knowing what to do next.

Boone Democratic Club Meets Tonight
The Boone County Democratic Club will hold its January meeting at the Stringtown Restaurant in Florence with a dinner at 7 p. m. on Thursday, January 20. Mr. George W. (Ab) Ryan of Walton president, will preside. Other officers are: 1st vice-president, John Kohman; 2nd vice-president, Robert Eades; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. Walton Stephens; secretary, Charles Patrick and treasurer is Robert Green. Directors are Chas. H. Arbo, Roddy, Victor Miller, William Campbell, L. C. Masters, Carlton Anderson and Burnam Roberts.

A cordial invitation is extended to all Boone County residents and those from neighboring counties to attend these informative meetings. Mr. Ryan also extends a special welcome to high school students who may be especially interested in government procedures. An exchange of ideas between adults and youth could be very stimulating and lead to the growth of new procedures and policies for Boone County.

Please make dinner reservations with Mrs. Charles Patrick of Hwy. 60, George Ryan, Walton or Roy C. Nestor of Florence.

4-H Klip Klop Klub

The Klip Klop Klub held its December meeting at Geraldine Dixon's grandmother's home. There were nine members and a guest present.

President Nancy McLafferty presided at the meeting. Pledges to the flags were led by Robbie Van Corn. Stephen Vaughn's minutes were read and approved. Barbara Bachmeyer was then complimented for her good job as club reporter.

Members caroled with the 4-H Junior Council on Christmas Eve at Farmer's Rest Home.

Some members received booklets from the American Shetland Pony Club and the Appaloosa Horse Association.

The club decided that since membership in the club closed in October, no new members would be accepted. This year all members must attend all meetings or forfeit their membership and the right to participate in 4-H club activities. The club also decided to send an article each month to the Kenton County 4-H Newsletter, and to try to win the "4-H Club of the Month" award.

Mrs. Ralph Howard, Reporter

We are in a new year and look for new things to happen. Let us hope they are all good things with good results. We have really had a mild winter this year so far which makes it better on the heat bill.

Mrs. Angie Schoebay was the lucky winner of a color TV given in one of the contests and we wish her lots of beautiful looking this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leonard visited the Howards last Sunday and took them out to dinner.

Mrs. Fox of the Holiday Dry Cleaners at Cherokee Center reports business is picking up but would like your articles to clean and would appreciate it.

Mrs. Leona Kavanaugh of Staffordsburg is again in the hospital having x-rays taken of her leg. They removed the cast and she will remain there for a while before going home again.

Two little girls living with the Burkes have been adopted, leaving them very lonesome without them. Mrs. Herbert Barrow and daughter visited at the home of her parents on Saturday.

Mr. Ralph Howard and Jerry Colcord went to Cincinnati Saturday to haul their tobacco.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lancaster of Staffordsburg are spending the winter in Florida, having left during the holidays.

Staffordsburg Homemakers The club met January 11 at the home of Mrs. John Shaw of White Tower. Twenty-five members answered roll call and one visitor, Miss Mary Rich of Rich Road.

Mrs. Bluch Rich read a memoir of the clubs back in 1936. It was written by Mrs. Vaughn, then vice-president, and told of how they managed their county and civic events at that time. There were eleven county homemakers clubs of which Miss Zelma Byerly was the demonstration agent and worked very hard arranging the affairs of the club and the lessons given. Now there are 33 Homemakers Clubs in Kenton County and everything is so far advanced in the past 30 years. All the things we have learned to better our homes and make them more beautiful and comfortable and many things to treasure made from cast-off articles done over; all the wonderful trips were arranged by our club at a more reasonable cost and so very nice to remember.

A sewing lesson was given to finish necklines better - by Mrs. Faulkner and Mrs. Howard. Care of trees and shrubs by Mrs. Stein.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess. A few games played and adjourned. The next meeting will be at Latonia Lakes Club House, February 1st with Mrs. Lathan Wayman as hostess.

Mrs. Stella Richardson was very pleased on a recent Sunday to have as callers, her grandson, Billy G. Richardson, and a friend from Owensboro, and as a dinner guest her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Dryden, of Washington, Ky.

We are a little late, but nevertheless glad to report a couple of little boys as late arrivals in the community. The first, Bryan Stephen Carpenter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carpenter, was born on December 15; also Joseph Edward Bach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bach, arrived December 28. Our very best wishes to both families.

Miss Emma Yates, who went to Crestwood, Ky., to help her sister, Mrs. Mayo Smith, who is ill, returned home for a few hours Friday. She reported that Mrs. Smith is still not too much improved. So Miss Yates will remain in Crestwood as long as she is needed.

Miss Lena Mills, a well known teacher in Kenton Elementary, is quite ill in St. Elizabeth Hospital.

We just learned that Mrs. Russell Daugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maddox, is a patient in Booth Hospital.

Mrs. J. W. Shaw entertained the Homemakers Club at her home on Tuesday, January 11. We had a beautiful day and only two members were absent. The morning was taken up with the business session. A very interesting reading was given by Mrs. Bluch Rich, a report made in 1936 by Mrs. Vaughn, who was at that time County president. Mrs. Domico, a new member, gave the devotion, reading Psalm 19:14. Mrs. Stein gave the lesson on selection of evergreens. After a delicious luncheon and some friendly visiting, we enjoyed the lesson on necklines, which was presented by Mrs. Ralph Howard and Mrs. Lee Faulkner. As a bit of recreation we had a story told to which each member added a new twist—some interesting, some true and some just for a laugh. The next meeting of the club is set for February 1 at Latonia Lakes Clubhouse with Mrs. Lathan Wayman as hostess.

W. S. C. S. Meets

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the church for the January program. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Don Keepey. Thank you notes were received from the folks to whom we had sent Christmas remembrances.

Since the topic for the month was "Poverty," Mr. George Steinfert, "Poverty," Mr. George Steinfert, one of our Co. Commissioners was invited to tell us something of what is being done for the aged and the needy persons in the county. We were glad that he brought Mrs. Steinfert and together they told an interesting account of welfare work. It seems that in addition to their public work, Mr. and Mrs. Steinfert have, for several years, collected and repaired old and broken toys to give to little ones who would otherwise not have any.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Rucker and Mrs. D. Keeney.

Should we buy an automatic washer and dryer or continue using a self-service laundry? If your family has been trying to answer this question, the results of a recent USDA study may be helpful.

Costs of owning and using an automatic washer and dryer and of using a commercial self-service laundry were compared in a study made by the Consumer and Food Economics Research Division of the USDA.

Which is less expensive? It depends on the amount of laundry done, the study showed. The more loads of washing and drying you do in a week, the lower the cost per load for home laundering. If you do fewer than five loads per week, the cost is higher at home than at a self-service laundry. If you do five loads or more, it costs less to do them at home.

The study, using prices in the Washington, D. C. area, compared costs strictly on the basis of investment in the appliances and depreciation; operating expenses, the water, electricity, fuel to heat the water; supplies, detergent and disinfectant. Costs of transportation to the commercial laundry were not included.

Advantages other than those of cost were not considered in the study. Time saving and convenience features of doing the laundry at home may outweigh the cost difference for many families.

For example, putting clothes in to the machine at home is more convenient than taking them to a laundry some distance away. Also, homemakers can do other jobs at home while the clothes are being washed and dried. On the other hand, some homemakers prefer the self-service laundry because they can do several loads at one time.

Which is better for your family depends on your particular situation. Consider cost, time and convenience when making your decision.

Special holiday treats—the box of Christmas chocolates or a dessert topped with chocolate syrup often call for special treatment after the party's over. Chocolate stains on clothes, tablecloth and napkins appear often at this time of year, but they usually present no problem if given the proper attention.

If the fabric is washable, sponge the stain with cool water or soak it for 30 minutes or longer. If the stain remains, work detergent in to it, then rinse thoroughly and allow the article to dry. Use a grease solvent to remove any greasy stain that still remains. If

Kenton Cardinals Meet

The Kenton Cardinal 4-H Club met at the home of Genita Kleontrup on January 11. Mrs. Hugh Mullins, leader, and 12 members were present.

During the business session, the electric projects and the election of officers for the coming year was discussed. It was decided to have a skating party at Lloyd's Roller Rink on January 28.

Following adjournment, refreshments were served.

Coal production in Kentucky totaled 82,700,000 tons last year, holding the state as the second largest producer of bituminous coal in the nation.

Goshen Missionary Meeting

The January meeting of the Goshen Christian Missionary Ladies' Group was called to order by the president, asking all to stand and repeat the Lord's prayer.

The secretary asked all members to answer roll call with their New Year's resolution.

The sunshine reported totaled 74 cards sent and 36 visits made to the sick.

A "thank you" note was received from Bro. Edward Cuthrell for the donation to the Up State New York Mission.

The ladies voted to have a Stanley Products social but the day and time was not decided at this time.

After the meeting, a very nice luncheon was served by the hostesses for the month, Mrs. Woodson Marshall.

A very interesting program was presented by Mrs. Claude Burns in the afternoon. The topic was, "Jesus, the Teacher—His Method," with all taking part.

Those present were: Mrs. Roy Elliott, Mrs. Otis McMillian, Mrs. Lawrence Fisk, Mrs. Chester Mullins, Mrs. Marshall Hills, Mrs. Woodson Marshall, Mrs. Claude Burns, Mrs. Dewey Good, Mrs. Roscoe Colston, Mrs. Elbert Calen, and Mrs. Raymond LaFollette. Children present were David Hills and Andrew Burns.

Hostess for next month will be Mrs. Chester Mullins with Mrs. Marshall Hills in charge of the program.

A very interesting reading was given by Mrs. Bluch Rich, a report made in 1936 by Mrs. Vaughn, who was at that time County president.

Mrs. Denney, a new member, gave the devotion, reading Psalm 134. Mrs. Stein gave the lesson on selection of evergreens. After a delicious luncheon and some friendly visiting, we enjoyed the lesson on necklines, which was presented by Mrs. Ralph Howard and Mrs. Lee Faulkner. As a bit of recreation we had a story told to which each member added a new twist—some interesting, some true and some just for a laugh. The next meeting of the club is set for February 1 at Latonia Lakes Clubhouse with Mrs. Lathan Wayman as hostess.

W. S. C. S. Meets

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the church for the January program. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Don Keeney. Thank you notes were received from the folks to whom we had sent Christmas remembrances.

Since the topic for the month was "Poverty," Mr. George Steinfelt, one of our Co. Commissioners was invited to tell us something of what is being done for the aged and the needy persons in the county. We were glad that he brought Mrs. Steinfelt and together they told an interesting account of welfare work. It seems that in addition to their public work, Mr. and Mrs. Steinfelt have, for several years, collected and repaired old and broken toys to give to little ones who would otherwise not have any.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Rucker and Mrs. D. Keeney.

Lucky Clover 4-H Club

The January meeting of the Lucky Clover 4-H Club was held at the home of Chela Richardson, Roselawn Drive. The session was called to order and minutes read, after which all projects were discussed by Mrs. Marshall, leader.

A bake sale is being planned for some time during March at the Taylor Mill Branch Bank. The proceeds will go toward 4-H jackets. A paper drive by all members will also contribute to this project.

The next meeting will be held February 4 at the home of Clayton Keeney on Riggs Road. At this time the Lucky Clovers hope to win the plaque for having the best meeting.

The dawn of a new year always brings new hopes, new dreams and challenges—and yes, the inevitable frustrations that thread their way through our daily trials and triumph. As the saying goes, our work is cut out for us.

Should we buy an automatic washer and dryer or continue using a self-service laundry? If your family has been trying to answer this question, the results of a recent USDA study may be helpful.

Costs of owning and using an automatic washer and dryer and of using a commercial self-service laundry were compared in a study made by the Consumer and Food Economics Research Division of the USDA.

Which is less expensive? It depends on the amount of laundry done, the study showed. The more loads of washing and drying you do in a week, the lower the cost per load for home laundering. If you do fewer than five loads per week, the cost is higher at home than at a self-service laundry. If you do five loads or more, it costs less to do them at home.

The study, using prices in the Washington, D. C. area, compared costs strictly on the basis of investment in the appliances and depreciation; operating expenses, the water, electricity, fuel to heat the water; supplies, detergent and disinfectant. Costs of transportation to the commercial laundry were not included.

Advantages other than those of cost were not considered in the study. Time saving and convenience features of doing the laundry at home may outweigh the cost difference for many families.

For example, putting clothes into the machine at home is more convenient than taking them to a laundry some distance away. Also, homemakers can do other jobs at home while the clothes are being washed and dried. On the other hand, some homemakers prefer the self-service laundry because they can do several loads at one time.

Which is better for your family depends on your particular situation. Consider cost, time and convenience when making your decision.

Special holiday treats—the box of Christmas chocolates or a dessert topped with chocolate syrup often call for special treatment after the party's over. Chocolate stains on clothes, tablecloths and napkins appear often at this time of year, but they usually present no problem if given the proper attention.

If the fabric is washable, sponge the stain with cool water or soak it for 30 minutes or longer. If the stain remains, work detergent into it, then rinse thoroughly and allow the article to dry. Use a grease solvent to remove any greasy stain that still remains. If

The Kenton Cardinal 4-H Club met at the home of Genita Kloenstrup on January 11. Mrs. Hugh Mullins, leader, and 12 members were present.

During the business session, the electric projects and the election of officers for the coming year was discussed. It was decided to have a skating party at Lloyd's Roller Rink on January 28.

Following adjournment, refreshments were served.

Goshen Missionary Meeting

The January meeting of the Goshen Christian Missionary Ladies' Group was called to order by the president, asking all to stand and repeat the Lord's prayer.

The secretary asked all members to answer roll call with their New Year's resolution.

The sunshine reported totaled 74 cards sent and 36 visits made to the sick.

A "thank you" note was received from Bro. Edward Culbrell for the donation to the Up State New York Mission.

The ladies voted to have a Stanley Products social but the day and time was not decided at this time.

After the meeting, a very nice luncheon was served by the hostesses for the month, Mrs. Woodson Marshall.

A very interesting program was presented by Mrs. Claude Burns in the afternoon. The topic was, "Jesus, the Teacher—His Method," with all taking part.

Those present were: Mrs. Roy Elliott, Mrs. Otis McMillian, Mrs. Lawrence Fisk, Mrs. Chester Mullins, Mrs. Marshall Hills, Mrs. Woodson Marshall, Mrs. Claude Burns, Mrs. Dewey Good, Mrs. Roscoe Colston, Mrs. Elbert Callen, and Mrs. Raymond LaFollette. Children present were David Hills and Andrew Burns.

Hostess for next month will be Mrs. Chester Mullins with Mrs. Marshall Hills in charge of the program.

Every day should be passed as if it were to be our last.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I receive a pension from the VA and also Social Security benefits. I would like to know if a veteran such as myself has any preference for housing being built with government funds.

A—Any information on preference in obtaining housing must come from local housing board in the city or town where the veteran resides.

Q—My husband is a veteran of World War II. He is 40 years old and receiving compensation from the VA for a disability which is service-connected. I would like to know if he is still eligible for a 30-year mortgage on a home loan.

A—He may well be. An eligible World War II veteran's entitlement for a GI loan expires 10 years from the date of discharge from his last period of active duty, any part of which occurred in World War II, plus one year for each three months of active duty in World War II. In no case will entitlement extend beyond July 25, 1967. The nearest VA regional office can establish his deadline date.

Q—The VA considers me permanently, totally disabled as a result of a peacetime military accident. I was originally informed that my child is not entitled to VA educational assistance since my injury was not the result of the performance of an act of duty. Is this still true?

A—The law has now been changed and your child will be eligible for educational assistance.

A WORLD IN TROUBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs the moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

What has happened to this marvelous world of ours in this twentieth century of God's grace? Mankind seems to be passing through a sea of troubles which has no counterpart in human history.

There are wars and rumors of wars among the nations, and many of the nations themselves are split into warring factions, each faction striving for supremacy, and each intolerant of the views, hopes, and rights of others.

The great trouble with the world is that men have forgotten God. They no longer seek spiritual guidance, but follow the vain ways of the modern world. He have become a cynical, materialistic generation.

If this drift toward world tragedy and chaos is ever stopped, the churches of the world must do it. The world's hope — our hope — is in God and His Church. He alone can save mankind from a sorrowful fate.

The Church seeks to turn the hearts of men from the ways of war and fear and hate to the ways of peace and love.

LET'S ALL GO VISIT THE PURINA RESEARCH FARM

That's right... a large group of livestock and poultry producers throughout Kentucky, Indiana and parts of Ohio will journey to the Purina Research Farm, Sunday, January 29 and will return February 1. We have a group going from our store and would like to extend a warm welcome to all farmers in the county to go with us. The Purina Research Farm is the largest research farm in the world, devoted to helping American farmers produce meat, milk, fur, wool, and eggs at lower cost and higher quality. Ideas picked up on this trip could add extra profits to your farming income in the years ahead. See new farrowing houses, slatted floor finishing houses for hogs and cattle. Talk to the experts in animal nutrition. Hear Purina's farm manager express his views of the livestock producer of the future. Call or visit us now and get more details about this exciting future building trip.

PUSH THEM TO MARKET FAST

If you're looking for big daily gains at low cost... If you'd like to ship hogs in less than five months, farrowing to market, the Purina Hog Program can help you do it. Purina Hog Chow, the famous finishing chow, has what it takes to help hogs pile on economical pounds. One of the important ingredients in Hog Chow is Terramycin. This broad-range antibiotic inhibits the growth of many disease organisms in the intestinal tract. This results in promoting fast growth and efficient use of feed. Try Purina Hog Chow the next time you feed out a bunch of hogs. See for yourself how quickly and economically your hogs race to market at low, low cost per pound. Let us help you cash in on the booming hog market.

INSTANT PROTECTION FROM LICE, MITES AND FLEAS

For long-lasting control of lice, mites and fleas on hogs—just rub Purina Hog & Cattle Dusting Powder into haircoat of your hogs. It goes to work immediately before those pests can decrease vitality and cause weight loss and general unthriftness in your animals. Purina Hog & Cattle Dusting Powder is specially formulated with long-lasting insect killers for use on livestock. It's the easy, economical, sure 'n' quick way to control profit robbing insects on your hogs or cattle. And, as prevention measure for hog lice and to keep down odors, just sprinkle some in the bedding occasionally. It really gives hog lice a hard time—and you an easy one—especially in winter. Available in 1-lb. and 20-lb. sizes. Get yours today!

THE EASY, SURE WAY TO KILL WORMS IN CATTLE

Two pounds of feed out of every 10 pounds fed can be wasted because of worms... You can help stop this loss with New Purina Worm-Kill containing Thiabendazole. Its wide margin of safety makes it the wormer of choice for young, old, pregnant, heavily infested, or even stressed animals. It will not cause setbacks or cut feed consumption. No side effects at recommended levels. And it's ready-to-use, top fed or mixed in the feed. Ready to use New Purina Worm Kill Checkers is ideal for worming cattle on pasture or in feedlots. See us today for a profitable method of worming your cattle.

A Look At

On Tuesday, January 18 a group of four men from the Kentucky Department of Education visited in our schools for the purpose of checking our facilities. They were W. T. McGraw, General Supervisor from the Division of Instructional Services; Sam Taylor, Assistant Director of the Division of Instructional Service; Edwin R. Ward, Supervisor from the Division of Buildings; and George and James Reed, Field Supervisor from the Division of Pupil Transportation. These men spent most of the day studying our school program. They were concerned with pupils transported, stops that buses make, maintenance and other phases of our transportation system. After making a study of our transportation, they visited classrooms, offices, lunchrooms, storage areas, boiler rooms, and every nook and corner of our buildings. In addition to looking at our transportation problems and buildings, they made a study of the grounds around both the Walton and Verona buildings.

Along with the study or inspection of our facilities these men took from our records a five-year record of pupil membership in both schools as well as by grade for the past five years. In addition, they made a study and notes from a map prepared by this office. This map has each child pinpointed and from this they could tell where our school population lives.

The purpose of all this is for them to make recommendations in so far as future buildings or additions should be added to relieve our present overcrowding. They predicted they would have their study completed by the middle of February and copies of their recommendation to the board for their consideration.

I am proud to report to you that they were impressed by what they saw. They commented several times about the cleanliness of both buildings, the cleanliness of the lunchrooms and how good the food was. They also expressed pleasure at what they saw going on in the classrooms. They were pleased with the staff and the conduct and attitudes of students from grades one through twelve. They commented how clean, neat and orderly our boys and girls were in the classrooms and lunchroom. Their comments and appraisals made me feel proud to be associated with the schools.

I want to use this as one means of expressing my appreciation and congratulations to the custodians, cooks, principals, teachers and children for the fine impression you made on the State Department of Education. I also would hasten to add that no effort was made to make this impression. It was just a routine day in so far as our program was concerned. Again I want to say I am proud of this and think that every person in the community should be. We should publish the report that the department makes when it is available.

Owners Must List Property

Says Revenue Commissioner

Owners are required to list property with the county tax commissioner before March 1, according to State Revenue Commissioner J. E. Luckett.

The Court of Appeals has ruled property must be assessed at its fair cash value, and the law places the responsibility for listing and valuing property upon the owner, Mr. Luckett said.

The law requires the county tax commissioner to list and value property if the owner fails to do so. Unless the owner does this or inspects the tax roll during the week of the first Monday in May, he may lose the right to appeal the assessment, Luckett said.

If a taxpayer has had an average assessment in the past, his 1966 tax bill should change little, if any, Mr. Luckett stated.

Each woman is asked to bring a sandwich and the host church will provide dessert and coffee. A nursery will be available.

Bullock Pen Plans
Expansion Program

Plans for expansion of water lines and services of Bullock Pen Water District are proceeding on schedule. It has been announced by District Board Chairman, H. C. Hedger. "This proposed expansion of facilities concerns the entire district. It is our desire to expand the system wherever possible in Grant, Boone and Kenton Counties. We are getting new customer contracts almost every day from all three counties and, if financing works out, we hope to serve new customers in all of our new area in Southern Kenton County, in Boone County down Ky. 16, both East and West of Verona, down Ky. 14 West of Verona and down Eads Road just East of Verona. We hope to be able to serve the Sherman-Mt. Zion Road, West of the Interstate in Grant County where enough new customers will sign the customer contract to make expansion possible. Simply stated, we are interested in getting signed contracts from all over the district, as this will be our first opportunity for real expansion since the system was completed several years ago," Mr. Hedger said.

Anyone within the district who is not presently served and who would like to be should sign a customer contract as soon as possible. "No assessment is involved in this. The whole thing is financed by revenue bonds retired from system income. It's really too good for anybody to miss out on if they want water and the advantages of water," said Asa M. Rouse, attorney for the district. Mr. Rouse advised that those who were interested could contact any one of the following men: Clarence Mullins or Woodson Marshall, both of Brach-Piner Road; H. C. Hedger or Bob Snow, both of Sherman-Mt. Zion; John Farrell, Cliff Reed or Giltner Meeks, all of Crittendon; Raymond Stephenson or Harry Reed, Verona; or Asa M. Rouse of Walton.

"The success of this planned expansion program depends entirely on the people. If they really want water, we will try in every reasonable way to get water to them," Mr. Rouse said.

Courage consists not in blindly overlooking danger, but in seeing it, and conquering it.

Boone Vaccination
Assistance Program

Parents of infants and children five years of age and under whose immunization records are not on file at the Boone County Health Department, will be receiving an important inquiry card in the mail soon, according to Mrs. Mary Cress, R. N., Boone County Health Administrator.

She said the cards ask parents to indicate whether their children are under the care of a physician for protection against such serious diseases as diphtheria, whooping cough, lockjaw, polio, measles, and small pox.

Mrs. Cress urges parents to follow directions on the cards and to return them promptly to the Boone County Health Department. The postage is free.

Purpose of the cards, Mrs. Cress said, is to locate unimmunized children five years of age and under, and to encourage parents to take the children to their family doctor for the needed immunization against these serious diseases.

"Locating persons who have not been immunized is the first step in keeping Boone County disease free," Mrs. Cress said.

The next step is urging the unimmunized persons, especially infants and pre-school children, to get necessary protection against the named diseases. The nurse added, "If your family has not been fully protected against communicable disease, you should arrange for them to be protected before disease strikes."

The proper title of this program is the Vaccination Assistance Program.

The 1966
General
AssemblyBy
Representative
Dan J. Roberts

The nineteenth Legislative Day... 41 days remaining... of the 1966 session of the Kentucky General Assembly.

The third week, ending January 21, was one of the busiest weeks for the members in this session. All of the activity was in consideration of only one issue... regulating strip mining operation in Kentucky (House Bill 36) and (Senate Bill 3).

This is the week that was... being held on Monday at 8:00 a. m., at the Frankfort Airport, 44 members of the Legislature, and news people boarded planes, arriving in Kentucky (House Bill 36) and (Senate Bill 3).

Beginning at 10:00 a. m., Tuesday, public hearings on House Bill 36 and Senate Bill 3 were held in the House Chamber by the Conservation Committee of both House and Senate. The hearing was conducted by Senator Floyd Ellis as Chairman, of Bowling Green. Three full days were required for this most interesting hearing... one day was given to the opponents and proponents, and the third day for summation by both sides. The hearing ended on a note of emotion as among the final witnesses were some of the mountaineers testifying as to the devastation to property, interrupting the leisure living habits of the mountain people that has existed for many years.

Many of the members of the Legislature could be easily confused by the strong arguments that were presented by both sides, but the most convincing evidence was being able to see the strip mining operation, first hand.

Senate Bill 3 was out of committee on Thursday and House Bill 36 was voted out of committee on Friday. Predicting that this new law will be passed by both the House and the Senate this week, but not until after a continued hard fight by the opposition.

It was a real pleasure to have been a guest of some of the local members of the Farm Bureau at a luncheon on Tuesday, also to have them as my guests in the House later that afternoon. Your representative was not to another group from Gallatin County that same day. I am always glad when it is possible for anyone to make a visit to the State Capital during the session. Be sure and look for me, as I intend to be there every day.

Have that letdown feeling which sometimes follows the holidays? You can quickly get rid of it if you press yourself into new creativity. And you don't have to buy a new car, redecorate the house or get a new wardrobe to recapture your zest for living.

Although spring seems miles away, now is a delightful time to plan and get started on your spring wardrobe. That lovely piece of silk you bought last April may not look so inviting when snow is banked up against the house or giant spears of ice cling to the eaves. But the feel of the soft silk and the gay azure color are sure to set your spirits soaring. And when yours go up, so do those of each member of the family.

Bearcats Swamp Wildcats, 108-70

Ronnie Brown tossed in 39 points to lead all scoring as the Walton-Verona High School Bearcats defeated the Wildcats of Gallatin County, 108-70, on the local floor, Tuesday of last week.

Pioneers Trim Ludlow, 54-48

A fairly low-scoring game was won by Simon Kenton High over Ludlow in the NKAC as the Pioneers rallied in the fourth period to edge the Panthers, 54-48, on the loser's floor.

The score was tied at the end of the third period, 36-36. Layne Myers led Simon Kenton with 16 points, and Dunhoft was high for Ludlow with 15.

Bearcats Bow to Pioneers by One

Walton-Verona Bearcats lost to Simon Kenton's Pioneers by one point last Friday night on the winner's home court by the score of 61-60. Poore had 17 points for the highest scorer for both teams.

This game was one of the best played by the 'Cats, as a team, this season. The five starting players were in the game until Gadd fouled out with only seconds remaining. Four Bearcat players were in double figures. The winners went into the lead, 47-46, at the end of the third period and stretched it to a six-point edge in the final period, but the 'Cats had whittled this to but one point as playing time ran out. The locals held the upper hand at the half, leading 30-27.

as possible, with examples to illustrate how farming transactions are treated for Federal tax purposes. Matters which normally occur in farming are covered in this booklet, and it should provide answers to most questions and problems you may have in preparing your tax returns. If you should need further assistance, please contact your Internal Revenue office.

Good records are essential to the preparation of your tax return. Having adequate records available will also have valuable time if your return is selected for audit.

A sample Federal income tax return, with schedules normally used by farmers is shown in the front of the booklet. This sample is based on records illustrated in other parts of the booklet which were maintained currently during 1965 by a fictitious farmer, "Mr. Brown." Each entry in the sample return is numbered and keyed to an explanation for that entry. Copies of the Farmer's Tax Guide are available at your Extension office.

The world is filled with the sound of many drums. Drums of militarism stir man to war and conquest. Drums of conformity invite him to keep step with low standards and false values. Drums of greed lure him into the killing pace of selfish getting and gaining.

But a different drum sounds, too. It beats in the rhythm of law and love, and rings with the sound of eternal truths. It beckons man to integrity and true self-fulfillment; it calls him to the path of duty and to the way of service. The different drum is God's.

A man must choose which drum he will listen for and follow. Many years ago, Henry David Thoreau wrote: "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer."

God's house is one place where you will hear the "Different Drummer." Worship there this Sunday with your family.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

God Is Redeemer

Lesson for January 30, 1966
Background Scriptures: Deuteronomy 7:8-11; Isaiah 43:1-3; Romans 2:1-26; Ephesians 1:3-6; Hebrews 10:19-22; Revelation 2:8-11.
Devotional Reading: Deuteronomy 7:8-11.

THERE is probably no way to write about this week's topic without sounding like a sermon, and these columns are not intended as sermons. Anyhow, sermon or not, brace yourself, for we are dealing here with the most profound and troubling questions man can ask, and the most profound answer that has ever been found. When we hear bright and cheerful talk about the love of God, his grace and mercy, and how wonderful it is to have him for a companion, protector and guide, when we hear such a line, we are sometimes troubled by a dark suspicion: This is lovely, but is it realistic? The truth is, man is bad. The great barrier between God and man — between God and me — is sin. How can I be in harmony with God? How can I love him? Can God even pretend to love me without seeming to condone what is worst in me? How can my sin ever cease to be an iron curtain between me and the love of God I hear about?

God the Redeemer
The answer in one word is: Redemption. That is a short-hand expression for whatever act or process it is that destroys my sin and swings me back into the great mainstream of God's loving will. Now in all the world's religions there are really only three answers to the question: How is redemption possible? One answer is — There's no problem. Sin is an illusion, man doesn't need to be redeemed, he is doing all right, thank you. This answer is an impossible piece of optimism for people who know what depths of evil man is capable of. So there is another answer, found in some churches though not in the Bible: Man needs redemption, but he can redeem himself by the good things he does. That's like saying a drowning swimmer needs no rescue, he can swim for himself. A helpless man cannot help himself, that is just the trouble and the tragedy. So the third answer is: Only God is the redeemer. This is his nature, this is his character, this is in his power and his alone.

Redemption in Christ
The New Testament writers, it may be said, wrote on some phase or part of the same subject always: redemption. They have different ways of putting it, but they all agree that redemption is "in Christ". How can God be Redeemer and also Christ be the same? This question overlooks the fact that according to the New Testament, Christ and the Father are One. Christ is both God and man, as the church has always believed. Christ identified himself with the Father, and on the other side he identified himself with man. Jesus both lived and died as the God-man. Jesus identified himself with man as he is — sinning, rebellious man. And in so doing he took on himself the consequences of man's sins. He who knew no sin of his own was "made to be sin" for our sakes. He took to himself all the misery and sin of man and on the Cross died not for himself, but on behalf of every man. (He "tasted death for every man," one writer puts it.)

The life outpoured
Often in the New Testament the blood of Christ is spoken of, as the way or means by which we are redeemed. This is not a repulsive thought as some persons think. The Blood, in Scripture, means or stands for Life. Being saved or redeemed by or in Christ's blood, means by his outpoured life. Christ is pictured in the New Testament as the Lamb sacrificed for the world. His shed blood is the life poured out in service and obedience. The church has always believed that Christ's life was perfect, but the crowning perfection was his death for others.

Besides, a well lighted home . . . indoors and out . . . discourages prowlers and vandals.

Now, you can rent an outdoor lighting unit for $3.25 to $4.50 a month (depending on bulb size). This low-cost includes installation, maintenance . . . even the electricity.

The LIGHT KNIGHT Outdoor Light is especially suited for sparsely settled residential areas where there are no street lights.

Unit operation is carefree: On at dusk, off at dawn, automatically.

Pretty Wedding at Richwood Church

Miss Joann Houston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Houston of Walton, became the bride of Mr. Gary Roaden, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rodgers of Eaton, Ohio, in a beautiful candle-light ceremony at Richwood Presbyterian Church on Saturday, January 15.

Rev. Julian Charles, a former minister of this church, performed the double ring ceremony. The church sanctuary was decorated with baskets of white gladioli, palms and candelabras of white tapers.

As her attendants, Miss Houston had as bridesmaids, Miss Connie Newhall of Covington, and Miss Suzanne Taylor of Fort Mitchell. Her matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Fred Spillman, of Walton. The dress, light ceremony attire, was fashioned alike in floor length A-line skirts of shell pink velvet with the bodice in burgundy velvet styled with a scoop neck and long sleeves. The headpieces were of matching art in the darker shade and their bouquets were pink and white carnations.

Little Lisa Disney, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. Her dress was also pink and as she entered before the bride she carried petals of roses and carnations in her basket. Master Steve Stephenson served as the ring bearer for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and she looked lovely in her gown of white satin. The lines of the floor length gown was in the front and the back of the dress were formed into a bustle effect with a flat bow at the waist and the full back flowed out into a train. The long-sleeved bodice was trimmed in lace as was the skirt. Her shoulder length veil was of silk illusion, and her bouquet was white carnations which formed a cascade of blossoms.

The groom, Mr. Roaden, chose for his best man, his brother, Amos Roaden, of Burlington. The ushers were Fred Spillman and Mike Jamieson, of Walton. Jimmy Houston, brother of the bride, and Harry Parker, cousin of the bride, of Milton, Ky., lighted the tapers and assisted the ushers with their duties.

Before the ceremony, traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Harry Hensley at the organ. A soloist was Mrs. Ed Egan, who sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee." Before the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

Following the wedding ceremony the bridal party formed a receiving line and were greeted by their many friends and relatives who enjoyed the reception held in the community house next to the church. Serving at the refreshment table were Miss Brenda Parker and Miss Barbara Houston, and assisting them was Mrs. Mary Flynn. These girls are all cousins of the bride.

On Monday morning following their wedding the newly-weds left by car for Payne Field, near Seattle, Washington, where Mr. Roaden is stationed with the Air Force.

A Look At Education

By
Eugene Robinson

Word was received from the Department of Education last week that our Title I project had been disappointed pending some revisions that have been made this week. The project revisions involve some release time for teachers to work with slow students. Because of these changes I felt that it might be well to dispense with the discussion of the Federal Aid Program until the project is finally approved, sometime within the next two weeks.

The adult math class, meeting on Thursday evening, has been moving along with good success. They have averaged about twenty people since starting the class.

There have been some questions in regard to school for the remainder of the year. The following is a schedule of dates I thought parents might be interested in:

February 25—End of fourth six weeks period...report cards due March 8.

March 17—School closed for the State Basketball Tournament.

April 8—End of fifth six weeks period...report cards April 26.

April 11—School closed for a Spring Vacation and KEA meeting.

May 29—Baccalaureate services.

May 31—Awards Night.

June 1—Commencement...last day of school.

Someone asked about the report I promised to give on the Evaluation Forms that were passed out at P.T.A. In great disappointment and regret, I must tell you that I have nothing to report. Only two parents completed these forms, and I think it would be only folly to take time and space to report on these. These may be far from community feelings. However, I do want to thank the two parents who were concerned enough to take the time to fill out these forms. I shall refer to them in considering certain phases of our program. The lack of interest in this evaluation points out one or two things, and we at school will have to use our own judgment in deciding the attitude of our public. (1) Everyone is satisfied with what is going on, or (2) parents are more concerned with other problems than they are with school problems. I can't believe everyone is altogether satisfied because I am aware of criticism and complaints, and realize that some are justified. On the other hand, I feel that a great deal may be lack of concern. At any rate we attempted to find out what the patrons felt was wrong with their school and asked for recommendations. We shall continue to do what we feel is best for the boys and girls in the Walton-Verona School District, and again say we welcome any suggestions and constructive criticism.

4-H CLUB CANDY SALE

Boone and Kenton County 4-H Club members are having a 4-H Candy Sale, beginning February 1 and continuing until February 14. The sale is being held for the purpose of raising funds to support 4-H club work in Kenton and Boone Counties, including awards to outstanding 4-H members, 4-H camp building fund, ribbons, trophies and other supplies for the boys and girls.

Beckham Shields, president of the Boone County 4-H Council, and club leaders in Kenton County are supervising the sale of the candy. More than 2,000 boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H in the two counties.

Valentine Dance to Be Held At Cherokee Bowl, Feb. 12th

A Valentine dance, sponsored by Kenton County 4-H Junior Council, will be held Saturday, February 12 from 1:30 to 11:30 p. m. at Cherokee Bowl, Taylor Mill and Cox Roads. It will be a semi-formal affair and the admission will be 75c per person or $1.00 per couple. Music will be furnished by the Madress Band, and is open to the public.

Why are people so dissatisfied with everybody else but so satisfied with themselves?

He who helps another helps himself.

KENTON COUNTY FEEDING NEWS

PETE GOETZ & DICK FEDDERS
PURINA FEEDING ADVISORS

J. H. FEDDERS FEED CO.

16th & Russell, Covington, Ky. 431-2622

COLD WEATHER & YOUR CATTLE

With zero readings lately and snow covering the ground your cattle use up a tremendous amount of energy in just keeping warm...generating body heat. It takes more than hay to supply them with digestible protein, vitamins and minerals they need to ward off disease. Purina high energy protein blocks with more than 15,000 units of Vitamin A per pound can help you winter your cattle with low feed cost and come through the winter in better shape. Purina Range Checkers can also supply the needed nutrients that will cut your hay feeding in half and still carry cows through the winter in better shape. Check with us today on how these two products can go to work for you.

NEW PRODUCT FOR SOWS

We just received word that Purina's new break through in feeding brood sows, Farrowing Chow, will be available at our store this week. New Farrowing Chow is to be fed to sows five days before farrowing and seven days after. This is a complete feed which enables sows to produce more milk, keep in a laxative condition, reduces the possibility of milk fever and adds the extra nutrients to the sow's milk that baby pigs need to get off to a fast start. It took Purina Research more than five years to develop this tremendous product which can add extra dollars to your hog profits. Check with us today about the merits of new Purina Farrowing Chow.

TREAT FOR A TREAT

Treat your milk cows to a gallon of Purina Golden Bulky on top of their regular ration at each milking during the next 30 days and then set back and watch them treat you to more milk. Let's hope that...that is our objective in milking cows...to get more milk per cow per day of life at lower cost for EXTRA PROFITS. Try the Purina Golden Bulky 30 day test NOW!

Helping Hand from March of Dimes Makes Little Girl's Tasks Easier

How to get out of drying dishes is an art most little girls try to perfect early in life.

But one little Baltimore girl has worked very hard for the "privilege" of helping mommy in the kitchen.

Indeed, any chore that requires the use of two hands is a delight for five-year-old Linda Whitecotton, who had only one until last year.

The little blonde beauty is a congenital amputee. She has no right hand, only useless, knuckle-like bumps at the wrist. She does have a good left hand and, as a toddler, learned to use it with double-duty dexterity.

But because both hands are needed for so many things like dressing dolls or drying dishes, the simplest activity often became a frustrating trial for Linda.

"She'd work so hard to make one hand do the work of two, it was sometimes heart-breaking to watch," says her mother, Joan Whitecotton.

Because Robert Whitecotton, her father, was in military service when Linda was an infant, the family moved often. Whenever they sought help for Linda, they found themselves involved in unending debate about the advisability of providing her with an artificial hand.

"We couldn't get any agreement as to whether she should be fitted with a prosthetic device early or when she was older; or whether she should have a hook, which would be efficient, or a 'cosmetic' hand which would look natural but might not work as well," Mr. Whitecotton recalls.

It was not until the family settled in Baltimore in 1964 that the parents learned of the March of Dimes program to help children with birth defects. A friend advised the father to contact the Baltimore County Chapter of the voluntary health organization. Within a short time, Linda was wearing a remarkably workable hand, gloved with lifelike, flesh-toned plastic.

By moving her shoulder muscles under straps which activate the hand, the determined little girl can make her "new" fingers pick up, hold and release objects of almost any size. Naturally right-handed, she has learned, with the help of occupational therapists on the March of Dimes Center medical team, to use the artificial device efficiently in feeding herself, coloring, and even for holding slippery wet dishes as she briskly applies the towel.

"We've always supported worthy causes as we could afford to," her father says. "But until a problem like a birth defect strikes home, you just don't realize what every contribution means. Without the help of the specialists at the March of Dimes center, Linda might still be struggling along with just one hand."

Club Women Launch Movie Project

JULIE ANDREWS IN SOUND OF MUSIC

"MOVIES AND YOU" material for provocative club programs is being offered by the General Federation of Women's Clubs to all communications and public affairs chairmen. These materials are also available to other groups whose members, as responsible citizens, are becoming increasingly aware of the importance of motion pictures in community life.

When the project was announced, Mrs. William H. Hasebrook, President of GFWC stated: "Movies are very much a part of our culture and merit our attention." "MOVIES AND YOU" is contained in two booklets: Reel 1 interprets the fact that motion pictures, along with being fine entertainment, reflect society... ideas are put into terms of human experience. It also deals with the diversity of films produced today, their place in the mass communications media, and how to select films.

Reel 2 contains specific program suggestions for the club and community. These include film projects for young people, film panel discussions, and programs for special days.

To obtain the free booklets, write to Community Relations, MPAA, 622 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10036.

Sunburst Coffee Cake

Just one taste of Sunburst Coffee Cake, tempting and hot from the oven, endears this breakfast specialty. Juicy mandarin orange slices radiate atop the 'crunchy' coconut-brown sugar topping. Beneath the sweet crown, you'll find the tender light cake.

This quick-mix coffee cake is twice as easy with convenient self-rising flour — a baking product suited to busy schedules. Pre-blended leavening and salt eliminate extra measuring and sifting steps for you.

And enriched self-rising products offer pleasure plus nutritional benefits. Made with enriched self-rising flour, Sunburst Coffee Cake contains three B vitamins, plus the minerals, calcium and iron, all necessary for maintenance of daily good health.

SUNBURST COFFEE CAKE

6 to 8 servings

- | | |
|------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|
| 1/4 cup butter or margarine | 1 1/2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour* |
| 1 can (11 oz.) mandarin oranges, drained | 3/4 cup sugar |
| 1/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar | 1/4 cup all-purpose shortening |
| 1/2 cup chopped nuts | 3/4 cup milk |
| 1/4 cup flaked coconut | 1 teaspoon lemon extract |
| | 1 egg |

Melt butter or margarine in 9-inch round cake pan. Starting from center of pan arrange orange slices spoke-fashion on bottom. Mix brown sugar, nuts and coconut and sprinkle over oranges. Sift together flour and sugar into mixing bowl. Blend in shortening and 1/2 cup milk. Beat 2 minutes on medium speed of electric mixer or 300 strokes by hand. Blend in remaining milk, lemon extract and egg. Beat at medium speed 2 minutes or 300 strokes more. Turn into pan, spreading evenly. Bake in preheated 350° oven 45 to 48 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan on wire rack 15 minutes before inverting onto serving plate. Serve warm or cool.

*If you don't sift and in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into a one-cup measure, level off, then remove two level tablespoons, according to USDA recommendations.

Biscuit-Wrapped Lamb Kabobs

Biscuit-Wrapped Lamb Kabobs dress everyday foods with glamor, yet they're simple to prepare. Thread skewers with lamb cubes marinated in French dressing, pineapple chunks flavored with mint extract and mushroom crowns. Then wrap each in strips of biscuit dough and bake to a luscious golden brown.

Just three ingredients are necessary to make the biscuit dough. The self-rising flour already contains exactly the right proportions of leavening and salt. Cut in shortening, stir in milk and your biscuits are ready in no time at all.

All products baked with enriched self-rising flour are important sources of good nutrition. Enriched self-rising flour adds thiamine, niacin, riboflavin, calcium, iron and protein to your family's daily meal plan.

BISCUIT-WRAPPED LAMB KABOBS

Servings
1 pound lamb shoulder, cut in 1-inch cubes
1/4 cup creamy French dressing
1/4 teaspoon mint extract
1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) pineapple chunks and syrup
2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
1/4 cup shortening
1/2 to 3/4 cup milk
1 can (4 oz.) mushroom crowns, drained

About 2 1/2 hours before serving, toss lamb with dressing to marinate; add mint extract to pineapple. About 1/2 hour before serving, set out ten 8-inch skewers and lightly grease a baking sheet. Preheat oven to 425°. Measure flour into bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Blend in enough milk to make a soft dough. Knead gently 30 seconds. Roll to 10 x 11-inch rectangle. Cut into ten 1-inch strips. Drain lamb and pineapple. Thread skewers with lamb, pineapple and mushrooms, beginning and ending with pineapple. Wrap biscuit strips around kabobs, sealing ends to spiral. Place on baking sheet. Bake 15 to 20 minutes.

*If you don't sift and in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into a one-cup dry measure, level off, then remove two level tablespoons, according to USDA recommendations.

How does U. S. Department of Agriculture research help you? During 1965, experiments and studies by USDA's Agricultural Research Service resulted in new products and processes, more efficient marketing and information to help homemakers with family nutrition and home management.

USDA research, the past year, not only benefited rural, urban and suburban consumers but also expanded markets for agricultural products... a boon to farmers. In addition, some of the research will lead to new industries providing employment for many people.

Among the new foods developed by USDA were several that will interest weight watchers... a low-fat cheese made from skim milk that looks and tastes like very mild cheddar but contains only 5 to 7 percent butterfat, compared with cheddar's 31 percent. A process was also developed for removing about two-thirds of the oil and calories from peanuts... the processed peanuts, look, taste and smell like "ordinary" roasted peanuts.

USDA scientists also added to the list of convenience foods that save consumers time and work. Among these was dry apple flakes which can be mixed with water to make applesauce, compressed into small disks for use in packaged cereals or added to cake mixes to help keep cakes moist as well as add a natural apple flavor. A low-cost, improved process produces these flakes, which have already been tried successfully in several commercial products.

Instant sweet potato flakes, developed earlier by USDA, are now being produced commercially by several food firms. This product not only gives consumers a tasty convenience food but also provides farmers with an outlet for hard-to-market, odd-sized sweet potatoes. During '65, results of marketing research helped bring products to consumers in prime condition and at lower cost. Some of the developments were a new instrument to sort fruits and vegetables for ripeness and internal defects; a new way to load bagged potatoes to get them to consumers in better condition; a loading pattern, to improve cooling of citrus during shipment, and economical ways to pre-cook peaches before shipment.

Helpful USDA publications issued during the year included a booklet on setting up and using a budget; a bulletin on ways to mend common clothing damage, such as rips and worn spots; and a food purchasing guide for group feeding. Floor plans and design suggestions were also developed for comfortable, convenient, and safe housing tailored to the special needs and limited budgets of retired people.

God, Living Spirit

Lesson for February 6, 1966

Background Scriptures: John 16:7-15; Acts 2:1-4; Ephesians 6:1-2; 1 John 4:13-21.

PEOPLE WILL tell you that they are confused by the Holy Spirit. This is strange, for in the Bible the Spirit is always thought of in connection with light, help, leadership, comfort. How can such a spirit confuse us? The truth is, it is not the Holy Spirit that causes the confusion, but people's ideas about the Spirit. Let us understand to begin with that in virtually all cases, the expressions of the Spirit of God are not like a sort of religious gas of mysterious properties. Also it is not a name of some kind of holy influence, a sort of aura that God gives off, or the kind of influence that all good people have, though they may not realize it.

Spirit, Holy Spirit, Spirit of God and Spirit of Christ all mean the same thing. Let us understand also that the Spirit of God is not like a sort of religious gas of mysterious properties. Also it is not a name of some kind of holy influence, a sort of aura that God gives off, or the kind of influence that all good people have, though they may not realize it.

God within
What then is the Holy Spirit? One of the best and simplest definitions is this: The Holy Spirit is God at work in the hearts of men. The Bible seldom if ever says what the Spirit is, but it says a good deal in the New Testament about what the Spirit does. We could almost say that the Holy Spirit is that which makes men good, loving, and so on; but the true Spirit is never a "that which" but a "one who".

"The Spirit is as much God as our Lord Jesus is and he is never a 'what', but a 'Person'." The Church says, "I believe in the Holy Spirit," but in saying this (following the Bible) the church is not proclaiming a second God, much less a third one. We believe there is only one God. We believe that the Creator God is the God, and is also (and no less) the God who rules in history and in the hearts of men. Whenever God works in the minds and hearts of men, there is the evidence that the Spirit has been at work. If a person who is confused about the Holy Spirit will please remember that he is by no means like a ghost, but is God himself visiting us and inspiring every good thought, will and work we have or do, we can't go far wrong. Every time we are confused about this, we can get rid of much confusion, by saying, instead of Holy Spirit, just God.

Spirit of Christ
When the church therefore says, I (we) believe in the Holy Spirit, we are meaning much the same as if we said, I believe that God can and does communicate with men, living in their hearts and active in their lives. The church from earliest times has called the Spirit the Spirit of Christ. That is to say, whatever we think about the Spirit must be in harmony with what we know of the mind and intentions of our Master, God in the heart and Christ in the heart and the Holy Spirit in the heart, — these are all the same.

How God works
When we say God's Spirit "works" or "acts" or "lives" in a human heart, what exactly do we mean? Can't we speak more definitely about this? Yes, we can if we follow what the Bible suggests and says. Consider only a few of the services God-in-the-heart renders to believers. The Spirit makes men realize their sins. When a person reaches the point of beginning to see himself as God sees him, that is a work of the Spirit, an effect of the God who lives within the man. What we can be sure of is that while today not everyone who is filled with the Spirit can speak in "tongues," the Spirit does in our time do for God's people what he did then — stir them with courage and faith.

INFORMATION FOR TRAVELERS—This is the architect's sketch of a new information center to be built at Prestonsburg for the State Department of Public Information. The building will be at the intersection of the Mountain Parkway extension and U. S. 23. The Finance Department said bids will be opened in mid-February and construction will begin about the last of that month. Construction of the center will take about six months.

STAR BRIGHT

When Millie goes to bed she stops by the stairway window to say good night to her favorite star. It twinkles in the frosty evening sky, and to me it seems remote and cold. But to Millie, the star is a warm and glowing friend. It's just a matter of viewpoint. A grown-up sees through the eyes of experience. The child gazed through the eyes of innocence. And as we all know, it isn't easy to exchange our experience for innocence again.

Yet, this is exactly what many of us need to do. Many of us need a new approach, a new look at the old things, the old truths. We need to open our eyes, and let ourselves see; to open our ears, and let ourselves hear.

There is no better place to discover this new approach than in your church. In church next Sunday you will wind a new point of view. Let yourself see, let yourself hear. You will be surprised at the results.

Measles Season Here

The "measles season is here," reports the Boone County Health Department. Measles is a serious disease which can no longer be passed over as "just another child's disease."

"Science has done its part, and now it's up to the parents to rid themselves of the misleading notion that measles is a harmless disease," stated Mary Cress, R. N., acting administrator of the Boone County Health Department. She reminded parents that the start of a new year is also the start of a new measles season.

For years, most parents have considered measles a harmless disease which is sure to attack most children sooner or later. The number of deaths from measles, however, has been higher than those from polio...it is a leading cause of death among infants and young children.

In addition to fatalities, many children suffer from a variety of complications which strike about one out of every six victims, and these include pneumonia, ear infection, inflammation of the heart, and encephalitis (inflammation of the brain).

There is no need for measles to be a common disease which strikes 75 to 95 percent of all susceptible children in an epidemic. There is now a vaccine which can make measles a disease as remote as smallpox. Susceptible children, 12 months to 15 years, are urged to be vaccinated.

Parents who desire more information on either the disease or the vaccine should contact their family physician or the Boone Health Department.

A woman never admits she has lost an argument, she just thinks she has failed to make her position clear.

L. J. Rapp spent an afternoon recently with his old friend, Joe Sweeney.

Mrs. L. M. Deuser, who has not been well for some weeks, is now somewhat improved.

It served to remind one of old times when we saw a number of young folks fix up lights and go coasting at the Judy Rapp home.

Mrs. Leona Cavanaugh, who has been suffering from a broken leg, was returned to the hospital to remove the cast, and is again at home, doing as well as can be expected. Her friends and neighbors will be glad to see her up and around again.

The snow for the last few days has been so pretty to look at, but has been a detour to travel. One can see quite a change in the time the sun goes down on bright days. So we can all look forward to spring. Heard someone say one day the past week that they had seen a robin.

The first railroad in Kentucky, and among the first in the U. S., was completed in 1835 and was from Lexington to Frankfort.

Would you think it a good idea to take a real good look into the operation of the entire school system from the state level down, to determine whether present funds are spent within the proper channels? These are but a few questions that we will be required to answer. All of the members of the General Assembly are in sympathy with the teachers in their quest for higher salaries and I predict that before another school year, this most important issue will be resolved.

ST. CECILIA 4-H CLUB MEETS
The St. Cecilia 4-H Club held its first meeting of the year on Jan. 10. The meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Steve Elbert. Minutes were read by Secretary Peggy Justice, and Karen Schoborg, treasurer, gave her report.

After the meeting Mrs. Goetz distributed the 4-H project books for the coming year. Many projects will begin shortly. Plans for a skating party were also discussed. Following adjournment, games were played.

The 1966 General Assembly
By Representative Dan J. Roberts
24th Legislative Day... 36 Days Remaining in 1966 Gen. Assembly.
PROBLEMS, PROBLEMS!

EDUCATION: Our state ranks first in many things, but we cannot look with pride at our rank in education. Only four states among the fifty pay their school teachers less than we pay our teachers in Kentucky. Worse than this, we could have easily been 50th in this important service had it not been for the improvements made in the past six years.

The previous administration, under the leadership of Governor Combs, granted a $1,100 raise in school teachers pay... this increase was fairly easy, considering the new retail sales tax bringing in about 100 million dollars in new tax revenue. Yet at that time we were far below the national average for teachers' pay.

The present administration, under the leadership of Governor Breathitt, with no new taxes, is granting a $900 raise for teachers pay, 100% of the above is coming from the general revenue fund of the state. This last raise is made possible due to the rise in the state's economic growth.

Kentucky ranks 30th in wealth among the fifty states and we rank 12th among the fifty in the state's contribution to aid Elementary Education... nearly 65% of the total salaries paid to teachers comes from the state general fund.

The estimated general fund revenue for the year 1966-67 is 342 million dollars, of which $226,103,386 is allocated to education (including higher education), leaving $115,896,632 expenditures for general government, health and welfare, resources development, safety, capital construction and other.

Estimated revenue for the year 1967-68 is 366 million dollars, of which $248,281,586 goes for education, or about the same ratio as the year 1966-67.

NOW...here we get the additional funds to finance an additional $500 pay raise for 29,000 school teachers? Should this come from state funds? Would you say; this additional amount should be paid by a tax increase at the local level?

Regulations Changed In Vaccination of Bovines

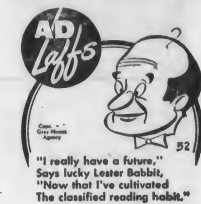

A major change in the regulations concerning the vaccination of bovine animals for brucellosis has been instituted by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture.

Wayne Siniger, Extension Agent, said that beef and dairy females that are to be calfood vaccinated for brucellosis must be vaccinated between four and six months of age...that the previous maximum age of eight months has been lowered to six months.

Mr. Siniger further stated that this change is vital to all dairy and beef producers if they are to have official vaccinations for the brucellosis. Further information may be obtained from your County Extension Agents or veterinarians.

The 1966 General Assembly

By Representative Gas J. Roberts

The week ending February 5th, marked the half-way point of the 90-day session of the 1966 session of the Kentucky General Assembly. We had in this hectic week: Holiday snow, Teachers Protest Day, public hearings, and much confusion.

Monday: Holiday, the birthday of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Tuesday: Snow. Also due to the snow and very bad road conditions it was impossible for many of the members to reach Frankfort—neither the House or Senate was able to do any business as there were not enough members present for a quorum. Among the 38 House members present, your representative answered the roll call.

Wednesday: Teachers Protest Day. The teachers pay raise has caused state-wide concern, and 138 members of the Assembly are looking for the right answer, and it is my prediction that this issue will be resolved before the end of the session.

Thursday and Friday: Public hearings. House Bill 186 to repeal the death penalty for all crimes. This is one of the most important debates so far and is scheduled to continue through to this week. This issue will possibly be ready for action in the House late this week or early next week.

Other issues for consideration in the House this week:

House Bill 111 to gear the maximum unemployment insurance benefits, to one of the average weekly wage. House Bill 140 to repeal the whiskey production tax (10 cents per gallon) and replace a part of the lost revenue with a higher consumer tax on whiskey.

Important bills to look for: Auto Insurance, Auto Insurance, Corrupt Practices, New Constitution, and Pinball Control (Senate Bill 104).

Your Representative has several bills to be introduced. Among the most important is the complete rewrite of the enabling laws pertaining to Planning and Zoning—Chapter 100 of the KRS. This bill is the result of six years of study by the Kentucky Planning Commission, 1960, 1962, and 1964. Your Representative was a member of all of these committees. Other bills to be introduced by me will follow in more detail within the next week.

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

The teacher protest on low salaries and the "protest day," which was covered by snow, has been quite a controversial thing. There are pros and cons and you can make a point either way. When people will write letters to the editors of papers stating that they as husband and wife make from $10,000 to $12,000 a year and cannot get by, you and I know it is a little ridiculous. However, this is not the normal situation. Because of this and numerous questions and comments, such as the above and others: "Why don't teachers quit teaching if they don't like it...let them go to another state..." I feel compelled to use my column for a time to discuss the situation. This week I shall copy an article by Shirley P. Williamson, a classroom teacher. This may explain why some of the teachers stay on the job in spite of low salaries.

What Value Education? Are Dollars and Cents the Only Measure of Success?

by Shirley Williamson

Someone has been brainwashing Kentucky teachers. We have been told for the last four years how much money we are making. We are told we have never had it so good. But now, I have discovered what the rest of the working people earn.

The Census Bureau report entitled, "Money Values of an Education," points out that at present earnings of an elementary school graduate can expect an average lifetime income of about $182,000. A high school graduate is worth $258,000 in lifetime earnings. A college graduate averages $455,000. Teachers have sadly missed the money boat somewhere.

The typical or average beginning Kentucky teacher with an A. B. degree earns around $4,300. That teacher may earn $30 to $50 per year for experience up to ten years. This will make a total salary of $4,700 or $4,800 per year. If he works 44 years, or from age 21 to 65, he will have a total lifetime earnings of $201,200.

I went to college to become a teacher. Therefore, I earn just about what I would if I had terminated my education at grade eight. On top of that, by going to college, I acquired an appreciation and longing for the nicer things in life. I would have been much happier with my $182,000 because I wouldn't want as much with it. I won't get a raise next year, but most of the teachers in our system will. Thirty whole dollars for the year! It's automatic up to ten years, but my ten years are up. I am frozen at my present salary.

I wonder how many college graduates would accept a position at $4,300 and be told they would receive only a $30 annual increase up to ten years?

In addition, they could never expect another increase until they returned to college and earned a Master's degree. Then, they could have the tremendous increase of $300 per year for the M. A., and could not expect another raise until they earned 30 hours above the Master's degree. Even with all this education, they would not be earning the average lifetime earnings for the high school graduate. No one but a teacher would do it.

We do it because 80% of us have husbands to make the family living. People yell that married women should retire and more young men should enter the teaching profession. I am the first to agree. We desperately need more young men. But teaching is a luxury that few men with college degrees can afford.

The public hastens to say "you are making good money for nine months work." Isn't it a terrible waste of manpower, brainpower, and education to employ a teacher with a Master's degree or a Bachelor's degree for only nine months of the year? The men who do (Continued On Last Page)

Burley Growers Vote On Poundage Plan

Growers of the eight-state burley tobacco belt will vote on Thursday, March 10, on a new control system. It is acreage-poundage control, the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service has announced. If approved, the crops of 1966, 1967 and 1968 would be covered.

The growers operate now under the acreage-allotment system, and this limits acres that may be grown, but has no control on total poundage grown on or sold from those acres.

The acreage-poundage provision or system would limit both acreages planted and pounds marketed from those acres. Approval must be by at least two-thirds of the growers voting.

A total marketing quota of 625 million pounds would be permitted under the proposed poundage system. Allotments under this would total 304,878 acres. Permitted sales from the allotments would average about 2,000 pounds an acre. If a farmer sold more than his poundage quota one year, it would be deducted from his sales quota the following year.

The poundage-acreage system was in effect in the flue-cured belt last season.

Poundage quotas for farms would be established on the basis of each farm's yield during the years 1959-1963.

P.T.A. Well Attended Despite Bad Weather

The Walton-Verona P.T.A. and Open House at the Verona School was very well attended despite the cold and snow.

Mr. Anderson, President of the Northern Kentucky Education Association and a teacher in the Conner School, Hebron, was introduced by John Shoemaker, principal, at speaker for the evening. Mr. Anderson was there on behalf of the teachers and did an excellent job in explaining their position and the reasons for their asking for more money for salary and school needs.

Mrs. Marion A. Waller, president, presided during the business session. Robert Porter of Verona, gave the devotional. The P.T.A. voted to buy a new piano for the Walton school. This had been a project for two years, with much discussion at various meetings. An upright piano will be purchased, and the purchase of the piano was appointed earlier this year.

For the room count, Mrs. Gardner's third grade and Mr. Mathis' fifth grade had with eight parents representing their rooms.

The February meeting will be at the Walton school, February 28. This will be Open House at the local school. A Founders Day program will be presented.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—My son is a Navy veteran and the father of six children. He is unable to acquire insurance due to disabilities. It is my understanding that the policy he once held while in the Navy is still open to him until May, 1966.

A—He should contact the nearest Veterans Administration Regional Office for information and pamphlets on the new insurance being sold to veterans who have a service-connected disability. This insurance will be sold until May 2, 1966.

Q—I am single and receiving a non-service-connected pension from the VA of $78.75 per month. I would like to know how much I am allowed to earn per year by the Veterans Administration? This pension is under the "old pension law."

A—A veteran without dependents receiving a non-service-connected pension under the old law, may not have an income which exceeds $1400 per year.

Q—I was a private in the Army in WW I. I had a GI insurance policy of $10,000 and $6.70 was taken from my check every month. I have recently been told that GI's in WW I did not have to pay for their government insurance. Is this correct?

A—Service-men in WW I had to pay the premiums on their government life insurance policies.

If the worst happens, and you get the best of it, it isn't so bad after all.

A movie also will be shown to viewers. It deals with training for agricultural engineering jobs, and the jobs available.

On Saturday, February 19, Prof. Blaine Parker, chairman of the U. K. Agricultural Engineering Department, and Prof. Gerald Isaacs of Purdue, will speak on "Mechanization of the Future." Complimentary tickets for the show are available at your county Extension office and the vocational agriculture instructors.

What tobacco variety should you pick for the 1966 burley crop? The one that does the best job for you. Each farmer has reasons for the variety he picks. His farm has a certain type soil environment which may include black root rot, fusarium wilt or black shank organisms. Thus selection of the proper variety for the farm is important.

If your land has a black root rot problem or fusarium wilt, or both, KY 12 or KY 21 or KY 12 (a hybrid) is recommended. If wild-fire is a problem, either KY 12 or Burley 21 are recommended. These two, incidentally, are the only two recommended for wildfire control.

The farmer has free choice of varieties. Stick with the variety that has given you best yields and quality. If you want to switch, use the stick-row system first to compare the present variety with the ones you are considering.

If you're still using KY 16, KY 41A, KY 35 or KY 38; you are penalizing yourself. Burley 21, KY 10, KY 12 and hybrids are the best varieties now for Kentucky use. This has been shown by field checks.

An idea isn't worth much until a man is found who has the energy and ability to make it work.

You cannot reason with those whose reasons are not based on reason.

W-V Averages Earlier Defeat

The Walton-Verona Bearcats avenged the defeat they received earlier in the season at the hands of the St. Thomas Tomcats. Last Friday night, on the Walton floor, the Blue and White took a hard-fought game from the visitors by a 70-69 score. The Bearcats were in front at all quarter stops and took a 12-point edge into the final quarter.

G. J. Poore was the big gun for the winners, sinking 33 points, on 10 field goals and 13 charity tosses. Mark Hlason and Tom Horan had 22 and 18 tallies, respectively, for the Tomcats.

St. Thomas: Horan 8, 2, 18; Hason 8, 6, 22; Kleier 1, 0, 2; Stagman 1, 2, 4; Schulte 4, 1, 9; Kubala 1, 2, 4; Imhoff 4, 2, 10—total 27, 35, 69.

Walton-Verona: Poore 10, 13, 33; Brown 6, 2, 14; Gadd 4, 0, 8; Chipman 1, 4, 6; Searcy 2, 0, 4; Arlinghaus 2, 1, 5—total 25, 20, 70.

The St. Thomas reserves won a close JV game by defeating the W-V reserves, 50-48.

BASIS OF COMPARISON—All models are two-door hardtops equipped with V-8 engine, automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, radio and heater. Monthly payments have been computed on manufacturer's suggested retail price, 1% down and all monthly payments. Not included are the extra you pay for on practically any new car: whitewall tires, deluxe wheel covers, destination charges, state and local taxes, interest, insurance, and licensing fees.

The hard facts are all in the chart. You can practically pay the price of a Chrysler and get a lot less car all the way around. Or, you can come in and move up to the Chrysler class for far less money than most people suspect. Confidentially, which choice makes the most sense to you?

CHRYSLER'S 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY WITH THIS COVERAGE: Chrysler Corporation warrants, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, against defects in materials and workmanship and will replace or repair at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business, without charge for required parts and labor, the engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings of its 1966 automobiles, provided the owner has the engine oil changed every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, the oil filter replaced every second oil change and the carburetor or filter cleaned every 6 months and replaced every 2 years, and every 6 months furnishes to each dealer evidence of performance of the required service, and receives the dealer to certify (1) receipt of such evidence and (2) the car's then current mileage.

Will Your Income Be Limited With The 1966 Tobacco Acreage Cut?

One way to increase farm income and profits is to diversify your operation with livestock. New methods of feeding cattle now enable a man to handle 50 to 500 steers by himself without additional labor. Purina's new BIR program eliminates the need for hay and routine feeding. Depending on the starting weight, a group of cattle can be ready for market in 90 to 120 days. New discoveries in hog feeding eliminates manure handling and enables hogs to reach market in four and a half months. The outlook for feeder pigs for the next ten years is very encouraging. On the average, 25-30 head of steers can replace the profit from one acre of tobacco. The profits from 10 sows can also replace the profit from one acre of tobacco in a feeder pig operation. Let us plan with you on ways to increase your 1966 farm profit.

Feed Purina Range Protein Blocks Now

Now is the time to keep Purina Protein Blocks before your brood cows, heifers, and wintering cattle. Cattle will only eat between a pound and a pound and a half per head, which will carry them through the winter in fine shape. Cows in better shape will be able to produce more milk for their calves. The high vitamin A level found in Protein Blocks helps cows breed back faster. In fact each block contains just what cows and calves should have to make certain they get the protein, vitamins, minerals and nutrients lacking in grain or grass. Throw out about one block for every seven head. Ask for quantity prices.

One Way To Save More Pigs

Baby pigs need iron to help keep growing and ward off anemia. New Purina Iron-Plus gives them the iron they need as they need it. Just 1 cup (8-ozs.) of Iron-Plus per litter twice a week, and you can raise litter after litter with assurance that you are providing top protection against iron deficiency anemia, one of our most costly baby pig problems. Call or stop by our store and ask for NEW Purina Iron-Plus...for baby pigs, the product that helps build health, stamina and increase your income at market time.

New Product For Sows

We just received word that Purina's new breakthrough in feeding brood sows—Farrowing Chow—will be available at our store this week. New Farrowing Chow is to be fed to sows five days before farrowing and seven days after. This is a complete feed which enables sows to produce more milk, keep in a laxative condition, reduces the possibility of milk fever and adds the extra nutrients to the sow's milk that baby pigs need to get off to a fast start. It took Purina Research more than five years to develop this tremendous product which can add extra dollars to your hog profits. Check with us today about the merits of new Purina Farrowing Chow.

Treat For A Treat

Treat your milk cows to a gallon of Purina Golden Bulky on top of their regular ration at each milking during the next thirty days and then set back and watch them treat you to more milk. Let's hope that, that is our objective in milking cows to get more milk per cow per day of life at lower cost for EXTRA PROFITS. Try the Purina Golden Bulky 30-day test NOW.

teach must hunt summer jobs, and often they compete with high school students for work. The public and the educational leaders are pushing for teachers to go to school in the summer for additional training. Most teachers would like to teach nine months and go to school for two months every summer. The expense of school, plus the necessity of making a living, often prevents it.

We want to send our children to college, but if they want to go to college to prepare to teach, they will be better off staying at home if they are interested in making money during their lifetime. If you can arrange for your child to marry a spouse who can support him, or if you can will him a lifetime dowry, by all means send him to college to become a teacher.

My daughters and several of my students want to become teachers, and I encourage them. I wondered why I hothored to do so with such overwhelming odds at making a decent living even after they get several years' experience.

Then I ran into an old friend who had completed only grade school. Naturally his annual earnings quadrupled mine. "I ain't seen you in ages," was his greeting. We talked a while and he exclaimed, "I made $15,000 last year. Just between you and me, I have did well. I don't see how you stand it cooped up with them ignorant young 'uns ever day."

Then I knew the answer was a lot more than money.

The Most Flattering Clothes

Do you know what figure type you are? Do you know the line, design and fabrics that accent your positive features and hide figure faults? Whether you are a home seamstress or a "ready made consumer" these are some of the questions that will be discussed in an illustrated program, "The Most Flattering Clothes You Can Wear."

The meeting will be held Thursday, February 17, 10:00 to 12:30, at the Northern Kentucky Community College, Covington.

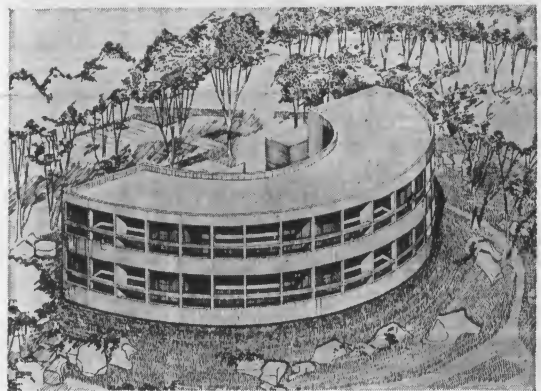

Mrs. Jewell Monhollen and Miss Nancy White, Area Extension Agents specializing in clothing, will present the program. The home agents from the eight counties, Campbell, Boone, Kenton, Carroll, Gallatin, Owen, Grant and Pendleton, will serve as examples of the various figure types.

Anyone interested in clothing selection is invited to attend and learn about how clothes enhance the person.

For further information, call your county Home Demonstration Agent.

A Look At Education

By
Eugene Robinson

I would like to discuss a problem with you that does not concern the school program. I suppose, indirectly it could, and does effect the school. However, it is operated completely independent of the school. The problem I have reference to is Knottville Baseball for the Walton and Verona communities.

A few years ago Knottville Baseball was very active in this community. In fact, there were only two teams from Walton that played any at all. There were also some 45 or 50 boys that wanted to play but no one was willing to manage them and, because of this, they did not get to play. The two men that managed teams last year are to be commended and congratulated for their efforts in helping these boys. The sad thing about this is that in an area as large as Walton and Verona, only two men were willing to do this work.

I believe that we, as adults, have a moral obligation to do better than this by our boys. Because of my feelings on this matter I answered the notice in the local paper and attended an organizational and planning meeting for the Boone County Knottville Club on Monday of last week. To my sorrow, I was the only person from this area in attendance. My purpose in going was to accept the job of managing one of the Walton teams. The County Supervisor informed me that, in so far as he was able to determine, no one was planning to enter a team from this area. This is just not right because our boys deserve the same opportunities as other Greater Cincinnati boys, and if we as adults do not make them available, we are doing them a great injustice.

I know there are some men in this community that would be willing to give a little of their time in supervising and managing our boys while they enjoy a little baseball. Really, this would be asking very little of any adult.

Because of the lack of organization in the Walton and Verona area, I have somewhat appointed myself to see if this community will support Knottville Baseball. I discussed this with the County Supervisor and he is willing to give us some of his time. I do not know much about the Knottville program, but I do love baseball, and I want to give them a chance to play. I also know that many of you have the same qualifications.

I have two requests to make and hope many of you will respond. (1) If you are willing to manage or help manage a team, please call me at school or at my home. (2) If any civic club, business house, or individual would be willing to support the program in a financial way, you are also requested to call me. I know many of you will volunteer help in the form of services or money, and we need both. Also, we may call on some that do not volunteer.

In making this request, please understand that we are including both Walton and Verona. There are enough boys in Verona to have a Knottville team. One of the finest fields in the county is located at Verona, so all that is needed is some adult leadership. Remember, if you will help in any way—managing, money or otherwise, I urge you to contact me at school or at home. At a future date I will call some meetings for those of us that are willing to help, as well as, have some meetings with interested boys.

Verona Heart Volunteers

Mrs. Walt Ryan, chairman of the Heart Drive in Verona, Sunday, February 20th, announces the following volunteers who will be working with her: Diane Rich, Linda Vest, Wanda Chipman, Barbara Rushing, GLo Searcy, Beverly Stephenson, Capple Mullins, Ruth Mullins and Cleo Messmer.

Court Approves Home For Aged

An $800,000 Home for the Aged has been approved by the Fiscal Court of Boone County. The court has indorsed, in principle, a plan under which a 100-bed home would be constructed.

The home will be built in the near future as a combination convalescent hospital and a home for the aged and indigent. It will replace the current county infirmary, which occupies 40 acres next to the Fairgrounds in Burlington. County Judge Bruce Ferguson said, "There will be no debt for the county. The county can sell tax-free revenue bonds to pay the estimated $800,000."

Several tracts have been investigated by the court as a potential site for the structure.

A New Golf Course Planned Near Walton

According to reports, an 18-hole golf course is being planned for the Walton area. All that is needed, it appears, is to get 200 members signed up, and fifty of these have already done so.

Plans for the proposed course were unveiled last Friday night at a dinner meeting at First Federal Savings and Loan, U. S. 25, just South of Walton. A number of business men attended the meet.

Backers of the new golf course, to be called "Parker-Glo," are Carl M. Parker and his wife, Gloria; Wilfred J. Scott, Mr. Parker's father-in-law, and Attorney Truitt R. DeMoisey, all of Walton.

The new club, it is said, will be constructed on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Parker, located on York Road, off U. S. 25, two miles south of Walton. The designer is said to be Taylor Boyd, Milford, Ohio. In addition to a clubhouse with two dining rooms, there will be a cocktail lounge, a pro shop, a stainless steel all-electric kitchen, and a full-size swimming pool. There will be a 3-acre picnic area, black-top parking for 120 cars, and a 25-acre wooded area.

Mr. Parker said a 2½-acre lake is planned for the course which will have enough water for greens and other uses.

Backers say construction of the course could start within six or eight weeks. The club will be privately financed, Mr. DeMoisey said.

Barbara Ann Wolsing, 325 Webster Road, Independence, a freshman at Villa Madonna College, is one of ten students to be awarded a scholarship grant by the college for the 1965-66 Spring Semester, according to Rev. Donald Moeller, chairman of the Scholarship Committee. The grants are made on the basis of academic achievement, character and leadership in extracurricular activities.

Barbara is a 1965 graduate of Holy Cross High School, Latonia.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Simon Kenton High School, and is presently employed at The Cincinnati Gas & Electric Company. Mr. DeCicca, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. DeCicca of Geneva, N. The wedding will be an event of April 23, at the Cathedral Basilica of Assumption, Covington. The Nuptial Mass will begin at 11:00 with a reception immediately following at the Landwehr Building, Covington.

Family and friends are welcome.

Verona Bank Moves To Its New Building

Depositors and customers of the Verona Bank, Verona, are now doing business in the new bank building, located on Route 16, just East of Verona, near the Verona school, which was recently completed.

Mrs. Wilma Grant, Walton, the cashier, said that as of Monday, February 14, business was conducted at the new location. Mrs. Harold Vest is the assistant cashier.

The moving operation took place last Saturday as the bank was closed for a legal holiday. However, it will take several weeks to get things straightened out and in the proper place, Mrs. Grant said.

As soon as weather permits, the surrounding grounds and the parking area is completed, the directors and bank officers plan to have Open House, and the public will be invited. In the meantime, Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Vest invite you to stop in and see their new business home and of which, we might add, they are very proud.

SOCIAL AT ALL SAINTS SCHOOL

The monthly social at All Saints will be held in the school basement at 8:15 p. m., Saturday, Feb. 19. Refreshments will be served. Everyone is invited.

Heart Sunday Is On February 20

February 20 has been set aside as Heart Sunday. Much has been written in the newspapers, stressed over radio and television, so we are all familiar with the importance of giving to the Heart Fund. The heart and allied ailments are the number one killer in the world today. It is important to continue with the medical research and the educational program already under way to combat this killer.

In the Walton and Verona areas members of the Wa-Na Woman's Club and volunteers are conducting a house-to-house canvass on Heart Sunday... Feb. 20... between 2:00 and 4:00 p. m.

Mrs. John M. Taylor is the Heart Chairman in Walton, and Mrs. Walt Ryan heads the drive in Verona. Because of the area to be covered volunteers are needed. If you live in either area and would like to volunteer your services, call Mrs. Taylor, 485-4711, or Mrs. Ryan, 485-4613.

Wa-Na Club Holds February Meeting

Frank Sullivan, landscape designer for Ammon Nursery, Florence, was guest speaker at the February meeting of the Wa-Na Woman's Club, held Monday night of last week.

Mr. Sullivan selected as his subject, "The Individual's Role In Community Beautification." He showed color slides. He pointed out in each slide the "dos" and "don'ts" of landscaping. He answered many questions of club members, and all through his informative talk, he stressed how an entire community could be stimulated into action by the actions of a few community leaders.

Mrs. Gayle McElroy gave the devotional for the evening. She selected the familiar passage from the 13th Chapter of 1 Corinthians as the scripture, then read excerpts from an article, "Don't Grow Old, Grow Up—True Love, It Grows with You."

Mrs. John M. Taylor, president, conducted the business session. The club will sponsor a Whisk party on Thursday, February 24, at the American Legion Building at the end of High Street. Many prizes will be given, refreshments will be served and all for the price of $1.00 per ticket. Complete details will be given next week. The Wa-Na Club wishes to thank Oak Hill Homemakers for the donation of $25.00 toward the new wall storage cabinets the Kindergarten had built in their room at First Baptist Church.

Heart Sunday... February 20... the club members and other volunteers will conduct the Heart Fund drive in Walton and Verona. The club has been active in this program for a number of years.

Wa-Na members plan to sponsor a sewing contest for high school (Continued On Last Page)

Forehan-Sipple Wedding

Mrs. Jerry F. Sipple

Miss Pamela Kay Forehan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Forehan, Morning View, recently became the bride of Mr. Jerry F. Sipple, son of Edgar and Anna Sipple, both of Covington, at the Piner Baptist Church, Piner.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was Bro. Ken Hubbard. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of dulled satin highlighted with lace and pearls richly embroidered on the bodice. The gown had long tapered sleeves and a full back skirt with dramatic train edged in lace. Her crown was hand-made of crystal and pearls.

The bridesmaids wore matching full length gowns of red velvet, carried white fur muffs accented with a cluster of miniature red poinsettias and wore white fur headpieces. The flower girl wore a full length green velvet gown and carried a muff identical to the bridesmaids.

Decorating the altar were arrangements of white mums and candelabra with Christmas greenery. The candle holders decorating the windows were of red and white poinsettias with white glittered candles.

The bridal party consisted of Mrs. Betty Proffitt, cousin of the bride as matron of honor; Miss Linda Forehan, cousin of the bride as bridesmaid; Miss Susan Proffitt was flower girl—Mr. James Casson, cousin of the groom, was best man; Mr. Wayne Baker was the attendant; James Casson, Jr. was the ring bearer, and the ushers were Mr. Dennis Forehan, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Larry Maxey. Organ music was furnished by Mrs. Lois Reinhardt, and Mr. Carlos Oliver was soloist.

The couple now resides at 14 Inez Ave., Covington. Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yockum and son of South Bend, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. George T. Bedell, Jr. and son of Annandale, Va., and Mr. Charles Gates of Dallas, Texas.

The 1966 General Assembly

By Representative
Dan J. Roberts

The week ending February 11, has brought us well into the 1966 session of the Kentucky General Assembly. Much of the time spent thus far has been in the organization of the assembly and the consideration of administration issues. The remainder of the time will be used to consider issues brought up by the membership, along with several important administration issues yet to be considered.

161 Senate bills and 331 House bills have been introduced to date. Nine Senate bills and 26 House bills are ready for vote this week. The most important among these are: House Bills 237, 239, 260 and 166.

House Bill 257—Amending various sections of KRS Chapter 220 relating to water pollution, and fixing higher penalty for violations.

House Bill 259—Establishing a Kentucky Air Pollution Commission with regulations and control.

House Bill 260—Providing for the conservation, development and the proper use of water resources in Kentucky, 257, 259 and 260—I believe these issues are real important to insure proper development of our resources and will support all of these issues. I would be happy to furnish copies of these bills to interested groups.

House Bill 166—Amending Chapters 431, 433 and 435. To prohibit punishment by death for any crime committed. Do we need to repeal this law? Is the existence of this law our statute a deterrent to crime? Where does our responsibility end in punishment of crime? How do we justify war as a protection to society? Would it be wrong of me to vote against the repeal of this law?

Education—School teachers pay raise. This is the most important issue to be decided in this session. This is also the issue that has brought the most pressure on the members of our legislature and has many political implications, some that have not been brought to light. Your representative is for the teachers pay raise, but frankly, I am not for some of the pressure methods used to bring action on this issue. I have always met the responsibilities necessary to bring about the proper method of financing education and pledge to continue to do the same in the future.

Basketball King and Queen Are Crowned

Miss Nancy Jones was crowned Queen and Ronnie Brown was made King of Basketball at the Walton-Verona High School last Friday night.

Both of the basketball games, the annual ceremony of crowning the King and Queen was held. Paula Beigle and Dean Lockard were the crown bearers and presented the court of honor and King and Queen onto the floor for the crowning.

The varsity ballplayers and the cheerleaders, in order of entrance were: Donna Sue Webb and Dwight Searcy, Vicki Lucas and G. J. Poore, Linda Farwell and Dennis Chipman, Lana Black and Bonnie Keeton, Gail Pence and Dale Gadd, Bonnie Brown and Nancy Jones. The girls wore formal and the boys wore their warm-up basketball outfits.

Coach Lando Lockard crowned Ronnie Brown as Basketball King and then King Brown placed the crown on the head of Nancy Jones, who reigned as Queen of Basketball for the evening.

The Queen carried an armful of American Beauty roses, a gift of the Student Council. The cheerleaders presented their sponsor, Mrs. Paul Beigle, with an orchid corsage.

The Student Council of the local high school sponsors this annual event. The candidates for King and Queen are selected by the vote of the high school student body from the group of varsity cheerleaders and varsity basketball players.

Both Mr. Brown and Miss Jones are seniors and will be graduating in May.

This is the coveted honor among the boys playing basketball during their high school days and for the girls who go out for cheerleading year after year.

NEW PRODUCT FOR SOWS

Purina Research has announced a new hog product that's now ready for hogmen to use. It's New Purina Farrowing Chow developed after 5 years of testing at the Purina Research Farm Brood Sow Unit. It's available now at our store. New Farrowing Chow is fed to sows from five days before farrowing until seven days afterward. It has the extra palatability, the bulk, the vitamin fortification a sow needs in her ration during this critical period. New Purina Farrowing Chow is a complete 14% protein ration containing grain. It's easy to feed and priced right, too. Drop in and pick up a bag for your sows now. Farrowing Chow is also available with an NF-180 option to help control sows in baby pigs.

HOG PRICES ADVANCE—WEIGHTS INCREASE

Average prices for barrows and gilts climbed back to near record highs last week. Last week at this time hog prices averaged $17.10 or $11.30 below current levels. The continuation of exceptionally high prices for hogs is being reflected in heavier weights. With little or no discount for heavy hogs, producers are tending to keep their hogs on feed longer. Hog slaughter continues to average over 20 percent less than a year ago, considerably lower than was indicated by the last report of hogs on farms for finishing purposes. Prices for hogs are expected to remain at favorable levels until well into 1967. Let us show you what the Purina Hog Program can do for you.

PUSH 'EM TO MARKET FAST

If you're looking for big daily gains at low cost...if you'd like to ship hogs in less than five months...farrowing to market, the Purina Hog Program can help you do it. Purina Hog Chow, the famous finishing chow, has what it takes to help hogs pile on economical pounds. One of the important ingredients in Hog Chow is Terramycin. This broad-range antibiotic inhibits the growth of many disease organisms in the intestinal tract. This results in promoting fast growth and efficient use of feed. Cash in on the high hog market by feeding out your pigs with Purina Hog Chow.

A VITAMIN BOOST

You can give your feedlot cattle and brood cows a strong Vitamin A boost this winter with Purina Cattle-Plus. This combination Vitamin A and D2 Health Aid goes to work fast...helps pull your cattle through stress periods...and is especially good for steers coming off poor range or pasture...Cattle-Plus can easily be added to your regular chow rations or mixed in Purina's "Built-In" Roughage rations. One pound of Purina Cattle-Plus contains more than 5,000,000 units of Vitamin A and 1,000,000 units of Vitamin D2. Cattle-Plus helps prevent foot rot and lumpy jaw. For less than five cents per 100 lbs. you can add 2,500 units of Vitamin A and 500 units of Vitamin D2 to each pound of your cattle ration...Check with us today.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 19 — 10:00 A. M.

The area's much publicized General Store, known as Craig's Grocery, Rabbit Hash,

EVERYTHING MUST GO! The frame one-story building, refrigerator, meat slicer, and drink boxes. Some honest-to-goodness antiques, including two very old spool cabinets. A lot of old home remedy medicines. Also, grocery items, lunch meats, bacon, dry goods, shoes, rubbers, and general merchandise. This store was founded 47 years ago by Charley Craig, the father of W. J. Craig. The reason for selling is to settle an estate.

CHARLEY BROWN & LARRY BURCHAM, Auctioneers
PERCY RYLE, Clerk

DIRECTIONS: Because of the high water, it will be best to go out East Bend Road from Burlington for a few miles and turn right at junction of Union-Rabbit Hash Road, toward river. The anticipated 55-ft. flood crest still leaves the store with ample parking space.

Antique Collectors: This may be your golden opportunity.

Social Service Group Mails Questionnaire

The Boone County Social Service Advisory Committee has mailed questionnaires to all service clubs, social clubs, veterans' organizations, churches, volunteer fire departments, parent-teacher groups, and to other clubs and organizations in the county, requesting information as to the type of service or social work they perform in their communities.

"The purpose of the questionnaire is to determine the amount and types of assistance available in Boone County in addition to the aid program of the Department of Economic Security of the State of Kentucky," said Judge Bruce Ferguson, committee chairman.

Judge Ferguson stresses that all information furnished will be held in strict confidence and asks that organizations receiving the questionnaire complete and return it as soon as possible.

The county Social Service Advisory Committee was established by law (KRS 205.300) to advise the Commissioner of the Department of Economic Security on the administration within the county of the public assistance and children's services programs. Committee members were appointed by Gov. Breathitt and serve without compensation.

Judge Ferguson requests any or ganization desiring further information in connection with the questionnaire or the committee's work to contact any of the members who, in addition to himself, are Mrs. Julia Greene, Hebron; Rev. Thomas Terry, Burlington; Mrs. Pauline McDavid, Burlington; Asa M. Rouse, Walton; S. A. Matthews, Erlanger, and James Wethington, Walton.

The 4.2 million farm workers on United States farms in December (down 3 percent from a year earlier) represented a record low for the month. But, farm work forces were above a year earlier in the states of Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma, and California, and as large as a year ago in Rhode Island, New York, Minnesota, South Carolina, Wyoming and Nevada. Florida's total for the month, below that of a year earlier, was still well above the 1959-63 average for the month.

Meanwhile, the January-December 1965 average farm work force at 5.6 million, was 8 percent below that of 1964, 19 percent below the 6.9 million average farm work force of 1959-63 and the lowest on record. It still harvested the biggest crop on record (the all-crop index at 117, was 4 percent above the previous high, set in 1963).

Work forces in 1965 were below the year before in 44 states. The exceptions: Florida, where the farm work force was not only above that of 1964 but above its 1959-63 average total as well; Wyoming, where the farm work force was the same as both a year ago and the average of 1959-63; and Rhode Island and Delaware, where farm work forces, though below 1959-63, were the same as the year before.

WHITES TOWER

Mrs. Al Kinsel of Sipple Drive, visited Mrs. Howard, Thursday, at the Tower.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hobbs of the Tower, was rushed to St. Luke Hospital where his stomach was pumped and he was kept over night. The next day he was returned to his home feeling fine.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Leonard Mann of Hands Road, and extend sympathy to his wife and other relatives.

Cora and Jerome Cox of the Tower, braved the snow storm as there was no school, and took off for their home in Williamsburg. With them was George Perkins of Independence.

The Staffordsburg Homemakers met Tuesday at Latonia Lakes Club House with Mrs. Wayman as hostess, who served a delicious lunch. The next meeting will be on March 1 with Mrs. Ware as hostess.

Mrs. Laura Porter of Staffordsburg, was taken to the hospital last Sunday. We hope she's better now.

Against God

Lesson for February 20, 1966

Background Scriptures: Genesis 3:1-13, 22-24; Romans 1:18; Hebrews 11:31; Mark 7:14-23; 1 John 1:5-10; Devotional Reading: Psalm 51:1-12.

ANYBODY WHO read this column last week must have felt there was something wrong about it. The writer painted a picture with red-colored paint. He made it out that in the Bible man is located next to God, the one creature on earth that is like God, "in his image". All this fine talk when anybody who knows anything at all knows that men are often much more like devils than like God. Has the writer gone clear off his rocker, or is the Bible diametrically, ridiculously wrong about man and mankind? Not at all. Man is by God's intention and purpose made in the image of God; this is man as God wants him to be. But no book is plainer than the Bible in showing that many a man is an awfully long way from what God's dream for him is. The race of man has been infected with a disfiguring and disabling disease. The name of this disease is SIN. Each person individually, and the race of man as a whole, is riddled with it.

A race of liars

But sin is more than a misfortune, an accident, or a disease. Sin is something for which man is responsible. However much we may blame others or even blame God (as the first man did, in the Genesis story) the fact is, you are responsible, I am responsible. Each of us and all of us. For sin is an active, not a passive thing. It is as active as an armed rebellion; it is an armed rebellion — against God. Most sins are against people, but every sin is against God. Sin is utterly bad because at the root of it is a colossal pride, a lie that reaches to the stars. Sin is against God; against his love, his wisdom, his truth, his will. Sin is the final folly. Sin is saying to God, "Get down off that throne and let me take your place. I know how to manage my life better than You do. I do not need Your help. I do not need You." Sin is so mingled with falsehood that in the Bible the Devil is called the father of lies.

From within

We can speak of sins in general, but we should not forget that no one ever commits sin in general. Sins are always particular, concrete. Jesus of course knew this. He once gave a rapid list of sins, (Mark 7) and then said a remarkable thing about them all. They all come from within, he said. The sins Jesus names are (we would say) partly visible and outward, partly invisible. Envy and evil thoughts, for instance, are "inner", while theft and deceit would be called "outer"; but Jesus says they are all "from within". A sin is just as real, just as personal, just as bad, whether in human eyes it can be seen or not. Sin—in other words — is not just what we do, it is the way we are. The cure for it must be something deeper than cutting off a bad habit here and there. The cure must be a change in our very selves, our spirit first of all.

But if not . . . ?

This is what "Conversion" means, isn't it? Conversion means a turning around, a turning of the entire self; from hating and despising and neglecting and slandering God, from loving and glorifying, and obeying and witnessing to God in every possible way. Only God really can turn us around. Only he can convince us we need to change, only he can reach those inner rooms of life from which emerge all our particular acts of thoughts of pride and disobedience, and to work the impossible miracle of bringing us to the point of accepting his love and not demanding it, — of saying Thy will, not mine, be done. But suppose we say a final No to God? Suppose our hearts are so icy that not even God's love will thaw them? Then — well, what is the prospect for any man in permanent rebellion against the Lord of all?

Individual and family health insurance policies issued by insurance companies protect nearly 15 million more people today than they did 10 years ago, according to Health Insurance Institute.

Staffordsburg

Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Reporter

Quite different weather this week end than the last, but with all the inconvenience caused by our 12 or 13 inches of snow, we were lucky. I had a letter from Mr. and Mrs. William Gadsker, who are well known here, telling of the very real blizzard they had in Oswego, N. Y. They had 101 inches of snow in 4 days, winds 45 to 60 miles per hour, drifts 30 feet high, no papers printed for 2 days and no mail for three days.

Rev. and Mrs. Rucker enjoyed the company of their granddaughter and her husband on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. W. Church are students at UK and arrived in time for the preaching service.

We regret the passing of Stanley Swinford, who had been an invalid for many years and suffered much. His mother, Mrs. Lila Swinford, and sister, Mrs. John Shaw, live in our neighborhood and all of his family are known here. Our sympathies go out to them, but the best consolation to offer is, "He giveth His beloved sleep."

The WSCS met on Tuesday evening with Mrs. J. Snowden. The lesson was on dropout with Miss Helen Richardson in charge of the program. She had put much effort into the preparation and much interest was shown. The business meeting followed. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Deuser called on Mr. and Mrs. Denver Blinder, Sunday evening.

Mrs. David Irvin visited her mother, Mrs. Caroline Armstrong, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney spent Wednesday with Mrs. Stella Richardson.

Mrs. S. A. Roberts passed away last Friday following many months of illness. She was well known here and will be missed by her many friends.

The Homemakers club met Feb. 8 at the club house in Latonia Lakes, with Mrs. Lathan Wayman as hostess. Most of the members were present, with a few visitors. The lesson on choosing wallpaper was given by Mrs. Alex Edmonds, who had done quite a lot of research on the history of the development and manufacture. Mrs. Don Nehring reviewed the interesting book, "Night Comes to the Cumberlands." A delicious luncheon was served at noon.

The Kenton County Garden Club will meet on Thursday, Feb. 24 at the RECC auditorium. Mrs. Al Rutter of Kenton Hills will show slides taken on their African safari during the past autumn. We hope to have a good number present. If you are interested in beautification or gardening, come and get acquainted. We would love to enroll you.

Watch That THUMB!

Peter loves to "fix things," even though he sometimes gets hurt in the process. Yesterday he pinched his finger with the pliers. Today he'll probably end up by banging his thumb with the hammer. But tomorrow he'll be right back at it again . . . learning the hard way!

From childhood, we learn best by personal experience. Our natural curiosity makes it difficult for us to accept advice from others. We want to find out for ourselves . . . and life has some hard lessons to teach us. Among other things, we have to discover that material possessions are no guarantee of happiness . . . and that money can't buy love, or health, or peace of mind.

Religious faith is another aspect of life that must not be left unexplored. Christianity has been tested by time . . . and it stands ready to be tested by YOU. Don't miss the greatest experience of all. Visit the church of your choice this Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Our church is for the building of character and discipline. It is a place of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither discipline nor character can survive. There are many things that we can do to help and support the Church. They are: (1) For the new child, (2) For the new member, (3) For the new family, (4) For the new church, (5) For the new world. TAYLOR MILL

Ernest J. Ryle, Reporter

There is one bad word that everyone is using now, so we are going to leave it out of this column, as there is nothing we can do about it.

Well, our neighbor, Dykes Belew, got away to Florida last week. Talk about luck, that guy could fall in a mudhole and come up with a diamond necklace.

Bob Mathis of Jones Road, Walton, says "no wonder beef is so high—it cost me $10 to feed one small steer last week." It all happened this way: Bob was expecting the artificial breeding man but was called from the barn by other chores, so as he usually does, he laid a $10 bill on a feed drum in the driveway of the barn. When he returned and the man had not been there, he looked on the barrel, no bill, but one of the calves had reached through the bars and was contentedly chewing on the ten spot, which was just disappearing to the port of no return.

Howard Noel of Decoursey Road has been staying with Chas. Dorsey and wife during the snow-in at his home.

Bob Brumback and family and Chris Alsip and family were Sunday guests of the writer and wife.

Cooperative Homemakers

The Cooperative Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Selena Spriggs with 12 members present: Mrs. Martha Sleet, Mrs. Rosella Sleet, Mrs. Mary Riddell, Mrs. Anna P. Johnson, Mrs. Gladys Florence, Mrs. Bessie Smith, Mrs. Troy Davis, Mrs. Agnes Sleet, and the hostess, Selena Spriggs, and Mrs. Mamie Weaver.

There were three book reviews, "Peace of Mind" by Mrs. Smith, "Lines of Living," by Agnes Sleet, and "Jean Dixon" by Selena Spriggs. A nice luncheon was served.

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

After sidetracking one week to make a plea for Knothole Baseball helpers, I want to return to my discussion on teacher salaries and the much discussed teacher protest day. However, at this time I want to remind my anonymous phone caller, of two weeks ago, that I have not received my crying towels. Really, I didn't expect to get them because of all the anonymous calls and letters that I have received in the last few years, none want to do anything to give away their identity. In the past I have found out who many of these people are, others I never know. One thing I do know, a person cowardly enough to call or write and refuse to give their name could be dangerous with their talk and attitude.

The lady's article that I copied two weeks ago explains the plight of many teachers. As I stated last week, there is much misunderstanding, and depending upon your position you might be able to defend teachers or oppose them. One of the reasons for the protest day, and other aspects of the salary demands by KEA, is that for years teachers have gone along and accepted whatever the politicians wanted to give them. Now that a stand has been taken many people do not understand. They think teachers are above such actions. Well, maybe they should be because the teacher has a tremendous influence on children and they should be examples. Also, teachers ought to be above the tongue lashings they get from disgruntled patrons and the unjust criticism to their ability and effort, but neither is the case.

I would like to point out some reasons why KEA took the stand they did on the Protest Day and why I support them on this issue. The next stand they plan to take I do not agree with or support, I have reference to the so-called sanctions which, in my personal opinion, is not right. Generally speaking teachers have taken the stand they have because of the following and other reasons which space does not allow me to list.

(1) Unless a person is in administration and is employed longer than the 9 month term he cannot, and does not, receive a salary that compares with salaries of people with similar education. Maybe the public doesn't want teachers to receive salaries that compare; however, teachers feel their pay ought to compare with professions that require like training.

(2) The certification requirements in Kentucky are more rigid than many surrounding states. If requirements are higher in Kentucky then teachers feel the salaries should compare with surrounding states. Many teachers with a Masters Degree, and having held a position for a number of years, have to return to school or lose their certificate.

(3) Some teachers regularly certified and with 25 or 30 years experience have not received a salary increase in the last five or six years. This is reason for people to complain.

(4) Many people in responsible positions outside schools talk to teachers saying, "We are proud of you and think you have a good school. You deserve more pay and money to work with." Then when the opportunity comes for that person to help they work against the teachers and schools. After teachers, or any other group, hear this for a few years they feel compelled to take a stand.

(5) Public officials from Washington, Frankfort, and the county seats either vote or get their law makers to vote a salary raise for themselves. Teachers do not understand why they are not included; particularly when their work is equally important (so they are told).

Much has been said about working six hours a day and just about nine months. If teachers could work more than nine months, and they would like to, would this be one of the money-making projects of the club.

Walton Well Covered by Heart Sunday Solicitors

All sections of Walton were well solicited by Wa-Na Club members and many outside volunteers on Heart Sunday. About 30 workers gave time Sunday afternoon to this worthy cause. Mrs. John Taylor, Chairman, could not give a complete report as the business hours are yet to be solicited this week before the final figure is totaled.

The Wa-Na Club and Mrs. John Taylor, the Chairman, want to give special thanks to some who helped. The following girls from the Walton-Verona School F. H. A. who are working toward degrees in their organization and who helped a community project in which to work volunteered their services: Donna Sue Webb, Cynthia Ramsey, Janice Brown, Marsha Milner, and Regina Mayes. One girl from the Simon Kenton Chapter F. H. A., Jane Kunkel needed this project toward her degree so she volunteered to help. Others helping were: Joella Sleet, Connie and Jan Ann Denny, Linda Martin, Hasty Taylor, Margie Shields, Evelyn Jones, Beverly and Linda Arnold. The Chairman, Mrs. Taylor even put husband, John, on one section of the town where she needed help. If any other helpers besides Wa-Na Club members are not listed, the club and the chairman says "thanks."

Mrs. Walt Ryan, chairman of the Heart Sunday drive in the Verona area, reported her volunteers turned in $123.25. This amount was for the 1965 collection by nearly ten percent, and should any response come in from residents not at home, who were left small brown envelopes in which to mail their contributions, the increase could easily reach 10 percent. The 1965 figure was $114.60, compared to this year's $123.25.

The Wa-Na Woman's Club sponsors the Heart Fund in the Walton and Verona area. There were few members in the club that much of the collecting is done by volunteers. Mrs. Ryan and her workers are to be commended for their excellent showing.

Support The Ky. Auto Inspection Bill

More than 900 persons were killed in Kentucky highway accidents in 1965. These tragedies vividly point up the fact that law enforcement officers need all the tools they can get to strive to curb such needless slaughter.

A bill introduced by Gov. Edw. T. Breakey, providing for annual motor vehicle inspection in Kentucky deserves the support of all citizens. It will help to save lives!

Well-recognized is the fact that defective cars are involved in many accidents. A survey showed that states with periodic inspection of motor vehicles have nearly 20 percent fewer fatalities than those without such laws.

The annual inspections in Kentucky would be conducted by private garages or service stations licensed and checked on regularly by the state. The motorist would pay a fee not to exceed $2.50. He could have repairs made anywhere he chooses.

A National Traffic Safety Committee poll showed about 97 percent of the persons interviewed favor periodic inspection of all motor vehicles.

Many public-spirited groups in Kentucky are backing the proposal submitted by the Governor's Coordinating Committee for Traffic Safety, but more support is needed. Write your representative and senator about your sentiments...you'll be helping to save a life...perhaps your own.

Letter To the Editor:

February 17, 1966

To: The Editor, Walton Advertiser

Subject: Reply to Mr. Robinson's, "A Look at Education"

Knobhole baseball was very active in this community until July of 1965, and if Mr. Robinson will recall, the chain of events that took place last year pertaining to the use of the playing field in the rear of the school, he will understand why I and a lot of other parents of the "Knobhole" players have lost all interest in Knobhole baseball. As I recall, even the high school baseball had to finish their season at some other field because of a fence that was erected on the ball field at the rear of "our school" by the Walton Softball League.

Mr. Robinson's statement that "it takes very little of one's time to manage one of these teams" is false, I believe. It not only takes a lot of time, but quite a bit of money out of the manager's own pocket. Here are just a few items of time and money—

1. Uniforms.

Lucky Clover 4-H Club

The Lucky Clover's February meeting was held on the 18th at the home of Clayton Keeney. Neva Jo Finnell called the meeting to order. Leader, Mrs. Marshall, and Junior leader and secretary, Laine Ellen Marshall were present. The pledges were said and minutes of the last meeting read.

The planned paper drive was postponed until warmer weather. Two committees were appointed. Paper drive committee members are Jeff Parsons, Glenn Finnell and Clayton Keeney. They are to collect the papers from all other members. The bake sale committee selected were Chela Richardson, Emily and Mona Coleman and Jo Ann Duncan. This committee is to make posters and decide on a date and place for the sale.

2. Bats, balls, bases, catcher's equipment.

3. Two nights a week practice...one regular game a week.

4. Transportation, gas and oil for trips to and from away games.

About all a manager gets for his team from the Boone County Knobhole Association is a couple of balls at the beginning of the season.

For those of you who have read Mr. Robinson's column, please note he said there was a very good field at Verona to play on.

I have but one question to ask "why should our own boys have to go to Verona to play Knobhole ball when we have a very good ball field here in Walton, behind our very own school?"

Could it be that the leaders of our school are responsible for this, as the result of a contract that was signed between the School Board and the Walton Softball League?

JOHN STILL,
A Former Coach and Manager

Editor's Note: All Letters to the Editor must be signed by those sending in the letter and if, in our opinion, any statement is libelous, it will be deleted.

Laine Ellen taught the girls how to make a lock stitch in sewing. As a special meeting project, she plans to teach them how to knit. She then gave a quiz on 4-H and what we know about its history, and a project guessing game.

Methodist Youth Meet
The Covington District Methodist Youth Fellowship sponsored a mid-winter institute Saturday and Sunday at the Calvary Methodist Church, Bellevue.

Attending from Walton were Peggy Crosthwaite, Shelley Kendall and Linda Mastin. Mrs. William Mastin and Mrs. Farrell Crosthwaite attended some of the programs.

The principal speaker was Rev. William Garriott of Ashland:

WANT ADDITIONAL FARM INCOME?

If you have been thinking about ways to add additional income to your farm, we would highly suggest that you attend the Big Cattle Demonstration at the Bourbon Stockyards in Louisville, Friday, March 4th. You will see cattle sold on grade and yield basis that have been on full feed for approximately 100 days. You will see the daily gains these cattle made, feed cost per pound of gain, and the profit the cattle made. There will be carcasses cut out and on display with explanations by several of Louisville's leading packers. Also on the program will be several of the top people in beef production at the University. Equipment cost, labor and return on investment will also be figured. The program will start at 1:30 p. m. Call us and we will pick you up and have you home before dark. DON'T MISS THIS CHANCE TO INVESTIGATE A NEW WAY TO ADD ADDITIONAL PROFIT TO YOUR FARM.

WHAT IS DISEASE COSTING YOU?

We thought you might be interested in some of the latest facts concerning disease as estimated by the USDA: Livestock diseases in the U. S. cost $80 every second. Worms reduce gains one-half to one pound per head per year in the average beef animal. Mastitis costs an average of $29 per cow per year. A wormy pig takes three pounds more feed to reach market weight. One out of four pigs die before weaning. One rat eats 25 pounds of feed each year and contaminates 100 pounds. Ask us how we can prevent these losses on your farm. Let us build a complete Disease Prevention Program for your farm using Purina Health Aids.

A PIPE-LINE CLEANER WITH NO ACID NEEDED

Yes sir, Purina Dairy Pipe-Line Cleaner is a free flowing, white granular cleaner, combining powerful detergents, anticorrosion agents, water softeners and a source of available chlorine. It's excellent cleaning properties and non-foaming action make it ideal for in-place cleaning of dairy pipe-line equipment without the use of an acid cleaner. Let us tell you about this new, improved NO-ACID NEEDED pipe-line cleaner.

WANT TO REDUCE MASTITIS GERMS

One sure way to stop mastitis from spreading is to use Purina Disinfectant in your flank and udder wash and teat cup rinse. Use one tablespoon of Purina Disinfectant to each gallon of water. Use a clean paper towel for each cow. Change solutions when they become dirty. Purina Disinfectant has better than a 99 percent kill of bacteria. When used properly, it is harmless to skin and equipment. Costs only pennies a day. We have this product at our store now.

Piner Busy Bees Meet

The Piner Busy Bee Sixth Grade 4-H Club met in Mrs. Betty Brown's room at Piner School on February 11 at 10 a. m.

The meeting was called to order by President Vickie Cooper. She welcomed a new member, Janet Pence, and told that we had a member who moved and left our club.

The program chairman, Trudy Northcutt, led the club in the 4-H pledge.

The song leaders, Melissa Connelly, Debbie Swango and Doty Robinson, led the club in singing three songs, "America, the Beautiful," "The Streets of Laredo," and "Switzerland."

The group then gave the following play, "Pop's Income Tax." The characters were: Mr. Lunkhead, Albert Denton; Mrs. Lunkhead, Marla Hyatt; Bess Lunkhead, Doty Robinson; Tom Lunkhead, Mike Huffman; Melba Fruty, Vickie Cooper; Henry Green, Raymond Eckler. After the play, Mrs. Betty Vernon, assistant home demonstration leader, made several announcements.

The next meeting will be held on March 11, at which time the boys and girls will work on their projects and Mrs. Vernon will teach a demonstration lesson.—Reporter

Piner 5th Grade 4-H Club

Mrs. Betty Vernon came to the Piner School on Friday, Feb. 11, and met with the Fifth Grade 4-H Club. The president, Greg Ashcraft, presided.

Dennis McIntosh was in charge of the program. Charlene Goeck and Judy Bray gave a demonstration on measuring ingredients for recipes. The club gave the 4-H pledge and sang a song.

The next meeting will be held on March 11.—Reporter

Man Redeemed

Lesson for February 27, 1966

Background Scriptures: Romans 8:1-11; Ephesians 2:1-10; Titus 2:11-14; 1 Peter 1:3-5.

Devotional Readings: Romans 8:1-11.

WHAT CANNOT be put into words can be attempted in a picture. Every language is supplied with picture words we may call them drama words or story-words — not so much to compass the whole truth as to point out the direction in which we may look for truth. The more important a truth is the more necessary these story-words are to express it. The Bible is no exception.

Dr. Foreman writes, "Most of our words about God are such words, and when we come to what God does for men in redemption, only story-words will do. Let us see what we can make of the word used in the title above — the various words 'redeem', 'redeemer', 'redemption'."

Back in the family again

These words are fair translations of words found in both Old Testament and New. The Old Testament "redeem" referred to a custom now passed away but then very important and familiar to all. When an ancient Hebrew got into trouble, let us say got into debt so far he could never pay his way out, his creditor or creditors would take him over as a slave. That he might have a wife and children made no difference to the creditor, who had no other way of getting his money back except to make a slave of the debtor. Now it was the duty of the next-of-kin, if it was at all possible, to go to the creditor and buy back his relative by paying his debt and thus restoring him to his family and friends. This buying-back was called redemption and the self-sacrificing relative was called the redeemer.

The cost

"You were ransomed (redeemed)," writes St. Peter, "not with perishable things such as silver or gold but with the precious blood of Christ." What is the price Jesus paid for being a redeemer? Years ago in the days when the white man was pushing the red man back and back away from their old homes, some U.S. soldiers were murdered by Cherokee Indians. The troops, being for vengeance, were about to destroy the Cherokees, men, women, and children, in revenge. At this point (so the story goes) a chief named Junaluska got the ear of the leader of the soldiers, and offered to bargain, if you will let my people go, he said, and give us a safe conduct across the Mississippi, I offer my life for theirs. The soldiers agreed; and so Chief Junaluska died — for his people. How would the Cherokees have felt about their chief? And what was the market value of the lives he saved? You do not offer money to one who has saved your life.

Conquest and Liberation

Another meaning wrapped up in that word Redemption is deliverance, conquest, freedom. In the last days of World War II, probably the most wretched human beings were Germany's war prisoners. Tortured, on the edge of starvation, those living corpses cheered when they heard the sounds of air raids, America ruled the skies. Freedom was at hand. Freedom came to those men so long shut off from hope. This is ransom-by-conquest. Christ is the freedom-bringing champion of those who are enslaved to evil, — the devil's prisoners, so to speak. But can you imagine one of the men thus set free, able to live where he liked and to do what seemed desirable — can you imagine such a man throwing away his freedom by clinging to the old barracks of the prison camp and refusing to leave? Or can you think happily of a freed prisoner cherishing his new freedom because it would give him an opportunity to carry on a life of crime? Saint Paul makes much of the truth that those who have been set free (redeemed) have an obligation to live as men whose lives so to speak have been given back to them.

The words most frequently mis-spelled by high school and college students are: their (there), too (to), receive, believe (beller), all right, separate, coming, until, and character.

At 20 we think a man of 40 is old, but at 60 we look upon 40 as the age of bare maturity.

Joe Claxon

Recommended varieties of vegetables for Kentucky growers this season were listed by Dr. D. E. Knave, U. K. Ag Experiment Station horticulturist. The varieties have all been tested in the field, he said — some of them for several years. The list:

Early Stake Tomatoes: Morton Hybrid and Campbell 146, which performed about the same, yielding about 45,000 pounds of fruit an acre. These varieties were tested under certain practices of staking and tying. Unstaked plants had the highest yields; staked and tied tomatoes were second. Staked, tied and pruned plants had the lowest yields but were best for larger, earlier fruit.

Sweet Peppers: Delaware Belle, now recommended for Kentucky use, yielded 305 bushels an acre. Penn Wonder, a smaller pepper, yielded 426 bushels. Yolo Wonder, a mosaic-resistant variety, yielded 274 bushels. Dr. Knave said plants at a one-foot spacing in the rows yielded better than a two-foot spacing system. Highest yields were obtained where black plastic-mulch was used.

Sweet Potatoes: All Gold was the highest yielding, 250 bushels an acre under black plastic-mulch. Centennial was second with 180 bushels.

Spring Broccoli: Spartan Early was best, with 5,000 pounds an acre. This variety has a high percentage of main heads. A closer spacing in rows gave a higher percentage of main heads and increased uniformity of harvest for some varieties.

Late Sweet Corn: Golden Security was the best yielding, 1,500 doz. marketable ears an acre. Titan, a larger ear variety, was second.

Lish Potatoes: Of red varieties, LaSoda was highest, with 215 cwt. per acre. Kennebec was the best white variety, 170 cwt. an acre.

Lima Beans: Small seeded Henderson was best of the bush type, with 245 bushels. Fordhook 242, a widely used large seeded variety, yielded 250 bushels an acre. In pole beans, Burpee Best, with 225 bushels, is recommended.

Tomatoes: In early varieties, Morton Hybrid was very good, as was Manhattan. They averaged about 28,000 pounds of fruit an acre. Of the mid-season types, Flora Lou and Tom Tom, a hybrid, were very good, about 30,000 pounds an acre. In the late types, Big Boy, a hybrid, and Mananap were best, with 30,000 pounds an acre.

Early Sweet Corn: Goldcup, Spring Gold and Northern Belle were best. They averaged about 2,200 dozen marketable ears an acre. When planting times of these varieties were delayed, lower yields were recorded, except for Goldcup. Spring Gold, planted two weeks earlier than normal, did not take any longer to mature than Spring Gold plantings made at the regular time.

Bibb lettuce is still recommended. Cherry Bell radishes, and Ebe-nizer onions.

A Great Leader Still Leads

It has been said that a man is tallest when he is on his knees. The familiar picture of George Washington kneeling in prayer at Valley Forge reminds us that the "Father of our Country" was a man who walked close to God and who taught his soldiers to pray.

Washington recognized that human frailty is not a sign of weakness—that it is the first step toward finding the needed strength. To call upon God for the resources we lack is to supply our deepest want.

The example of our first President still points men to God. Just as George Washington found God's strength available, so do men in our time when they call upon Him in faith. Discover Him in your own life. Worship God in your church next Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and financial support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Reddy... Aim... WIRE!

Four out of five homes have weak house-wiring! But, under-sized wiring cannot carry all the power appliances need for peak efficiency. So, your toaster and iron heat slowly, your sweeper and washer are sluggish and fuses blow when you use too many appliances. However, big full HOUSEPOWER wiring can feed appliances the energy they need for a top-flight performance. And, full HOUSEPOWER provides numerous convenience outlets... eliminating ugly, multiple-socket plug-ins. It also chases dark room hazards with lots of handy light switches. Any re-wiring costs can be financed through our WIRE ON TIME Plan. Ask your electrical contractor.

"Variety is the spice of life," is often said, and the spice may be meal planning for you. For a change of flavor and a rich source of vitamins and minerals, consider liver, heart, and tongue — these meats are in less demand than the other popular cuts and they cost less. There is practically no waste due to bone, which also aids the economy. Store these meats in the coldest part of the refrigerator. It is best to use them within 48 hours after selecting at the store — if it is impossible to use them, then cook and freeze. Any left over variety meats should be covered or wrapped and refrigerated — the best plan may be to buy only for one meal unless you buy frozen. The younger the animal (may be denoted by size of organ or label) the more tender the variety. For instance, calf's liver is very tender but is also more expensive. Tenderness determines the method of cooking — braising and cooking in water are methods of preparing less tender meats.
Looking for a house plant that's easy to grow? Choose a philodendron. The philodendron grows better than most other house plants under conditions found in most modern homes. They do well as long as they're kept warm, moderately moist and out of direct sunlight.
Some are even resistant to cold. The philodendron seldom, for example, can withstand temperatures close to freezing. It also grows freely — one plant displayed in a Washington, D. C. department store had a diameter of 15 feet. You can buy philodendron plants almost anywhere — at florist shops and supermarkets, at drug or dime and department stores. Many varieties are available, too. Two of the most common are P. oxycardum, which has heart-shaped leaves, and P. pertusum, which has large perforated leaves. You can also find varieties of philodendrons with cut leaves, irregularly shaped leaves, and even leaves shaped like daggers.
Philodendrons are most often grown on trellises or moss-covered poles. These plants need to be fastened to the support. You can get green paper covered wire for this purpose at a florist shop or dime store — or you can use common pins.
When the plant grows to the end of the trellis, cut back the stems to force new branches. Start this new growth winding down the trellis. Also increase the light and decrease the amount of water.
To get philodendron leaves to shine, wash them once a month with soap and water.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers
Q—Do I have to travel to the Veterans Administration Regional Office to obtain the required certificate of veteran status for a home loan from the FHA under the new Housing Act?
A—No, that will not be necessary. The mortgage banker, who will handle the home loan, has been supplied the certification paper, VA Form No. 26-8261, which he will forward to the VA. To insure prompt certification by the VA, you should submit with his request all discharge or separation papers from all periods of active service. Also, if you have ever filed a benefit claim of any kind with the VA, supply your claim number (C-Number) on the form.
Q—I am receiving pension benefits from the VA and must report my income each year. How do I deduct the 10 per cent allowed on my Social Security? There is no space to do this on the questionnaire.
A—The person reporting income does not take the deduction. The full amount of your income must be reported and the VA will allow the 10 per cent exclusion as applicable.
Q—I am a disabled veteran of World War I with a 100 per cent disability. I have a daughter who is going into her last year of high school and I have been told that she may be eligible for free schooling in some college through assistance from the VA. Am I correct?
A—The son or daughter of a veteran who is rated with a 100 per cent disability on a permanent basis may be entitled to an educational allowance of $110 per

The 1966 General Assembly

By Representative Dan J. Roberts

Six hundred nineteen bills have been introduced in the first 37 days of this session of the Kentucky General Assembly... 418 by the House and 201 by the Senate. Only a very few bills introduced have become law. House Bill 1, the billion dollar budget bill; House Bill 2, the civil rights bill; House Bill 36, the strip mine bill, and Senate Bill 104, restriction on pinball machines (with amendments) have all been signed by the governor. This leaves many issues yet to be decided, many of which are en route between the House and the Senate for concurrence, and after this journey is complete, they are sent to the governor for final approval.

Last week was a busy one; several bills were passed by the House. HB 257, water pollution control; HB 259, air pollution, and HB 260, water conservation act. HB 268, restricting broad form deeds was defeated by the House.

On Thursday, February 17, we considered HB 165, an act to repeal the death penalty for all crime. This was a special order of business for that day, set for 10:00 a. m. Debate on this bill was allowed, with no time limit. This debate lasted three and one-half hours, opponents and proponents having equal time. This was a most solemn occasion, strict silence was kept by all members and those persons present in the gallery. There was not any applause either during or after any of the many speeches that were made. When the vote was taken, the bill was defeated by a vote of 76 to 20. Your representative voted no on this issue, although I was on the prevailing side, I believe that each of the 96 voting, did so, motivated by deep personal feeling, but I feel that the real issue was: Is the death penalty a deterrent to crime?

Your representative has introduced House Bill 390, an act relating to planning. This act is a complete rewrite of all of the enabling law in regard to planning and zoning. This bill is the result of six years of research on this subject... these studies made by three separate committees. This is designed to secure economic, physical and social welfare for the Commonwealth by encouraging thoughtful use and development of land, building and transportation facilities. These goals can best be obtained by encouraging the establishment of proper planning programs in terms of organization, preparation of plans, and aids to plan implementation. To encourage intergovernmental cooperation between cities and counties by encouraging them to form joint and regional planning units.

The proposed new constitution is the one big issue remaining for our consideration before the end of this session. If we decide that this is a good document, then it will appear on the ballot in the fall general election for your consideration. Presently, there is but a very few copies of the new constitution available. I would be most happy to furnish copies to interested persons, as a first come basis.

A Look At Education

have to seek a second job. As far as the six hours is concerned we have teachers that come to work at 8:00 a. m., leave at 3:45 or 4:00 p. m. in the afternoon and return to school about 6:00 p. m. and get home around 11:00 p. m. This does not count grading papers and the planning which has to be done if they do the job they are supposed to do.

I realize that some will oppose everything I have said, and I will be the first to agree that we have some teachers who are overpaid. We have these because we do not have salaries to demand good teachers. I will also agree that the lady who wrote to the Post and said she and her husband made $11,000 and could not afford a maid is way-out of line. On the other hand, the public has no right to expect couples to work for any less simply because they could live on less than the combined salaries. The large combined salaries of couples occurs in other fields and nothing is said; however, teachers are criticized if couples make $8,000 and ask for more. Teachers should be paid for their services as individuals and not as couples.

You say taxes are too high. I agree they are high, but I also agree that the training of our children is such an important job we can't afford not to pay for good teachers. We will never have all good teachers until we pay them. I'm a taxpayer and I don't like taxes; however, I am willing to pay a little more so some of our better teachers can be paid to do the job you and I expect for our boys and girls.

A woman's mind ought to be cleaner than a man's, she changes it so much often.

WALTON, KENTUCKY — THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 1966

General Assembly
By Representative
Dan J. Roberts

The 1966 Session of the General Assembly, only 11 legislative days remaining. All new bills to be considered will have to be introduced within the next six days, as it will take five days at the fastest possible pace for the bills to make their rounds between the two Chambers. Only five major issues have become the law in this session, however, many are ready for action from the Governor. Many important issues to be considered will not be able to make the rounds before adjournment and the respective lawmakers will return home saddened because of their failure to get action. "Oh well... We will introduce them on the last day in 1968."

All of our more than 40 separate committees have been dissolved and all bills up for consideration are now the property of the "All Powerful Rules Committee." This committee always takes over in the last 15 legislative days of every session.

Confusion will reign from now until the very last day. Individuals, lobbies and special groups are most to the point of panic, either wanting the defeat or passage of pending legislation. The members should have hands on their coat tails as they attempt to wade through the halls. The rules committee will only consider a limited number of bills each day, these will be some of the most important ones remaining and it is possible that action will be at a much faster pace.

Congressional redistricting could well be one of the most important issues to be decided by the 1966 session of the Kentucky Legislature, either in the regular session or in a special session that may have to be called, this depending on the Court's ruling, which is due some time later this month.

House Bill 471 relating to change in the minimum funding program in connection with the salaries paid to school teachers. This act, when passed, will provide a much higher salary for the experienced teachers. This act also restricts the local Boards of Education in deviation from the act in that it sets a minimum salary program. This act also provides for the local districts to use one of three methods for producing additional local taxes. The additional cost to the state for this act is $24,000,000, of which $1,000,000 is applied to teacher retirement. I predict that this legislation will not have any trouble in passing both Chambers by the end of this week. With the enactment of this measure, we have met all of the recommendations set forth by the KEA and should end our troubles in this area for at least several years. Due to the very slow beginning in the field of education, it is very hard to keep abreast because of the rapid pace that is being set by other states. I am real proud of the progress that has been made by our state in the past few years in this most important service, and feel that the demands will be easier to meet in the future.

We have had several people from the county visit the Legislature within the past few days and it is encouraging to you representative to know that you have an interest in the activity of this department of government. If you are a visitor, please be sure and contact me.

Former Undercover Operative To Speak

Gas Mct sales for the most recent 12 months were up 6.2 per cent and electric kilowatt-hour sales increased 7.8 per cent compared to the 12 months ending on Jan. 31, 1965.

Boone Chairmen In '66 Cancer Crusade

Charles Wiley, of Beaver Road, Walton, and Jack Collett, Tanner's Lane, Florence, have been named co-chairmen of the 1966 Cancer Crusade in Boone County. Mr. Wiley served as chairman the past two years, and Mr. Collett was business chairman in 1965. The drive, which takes place in April, will again attempt to surpass the local quota for the third successive year.

Mr. Wiley and Mr. Collett note that a fine organizational job has been done by the Boone County Cancer Society. Workers have been lined up throughout the county.

Mr. Wiley, an advertising and corporation executive, has been active in Boone civic affairs for a number of years. He is married and has two sons. Mr. Collett is in advertising sales for the Reuben H. Donnelly Corp., is married and has four children. Both men are 38 years of age.

Two important meetings for the Crusade workers will be held prior to Crusade Month, which is April. The first will be held at the student Union Building on the UK Campus in Lexington, March 10th, which will begin at 10:00 a. m., and include a luncheon.

A special meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m., Friday, April 1, at the Florence Christian Church for workers, chairmen and anyone interested in the progress being made against cancer. Area representative, Jerry Walton, will be the principal speaker.

Class On the Free Enterprise System

The Kenco Jaycees, in cooperation with the Kenton County Extension Service, are presenting a series of classes to a commerce class of 32 junior and senior students of Simon Kenton High School. The classes, on the American Free Enterprise System, will be given at 2:00 p. m., in the school, every Monday from Feb. 7 through March 28.

Roy Klein, Willard Slade and Ted Richardson, members of the Jaycee committee, launched the program on February 7 with a short film, "Small Business USA."

The lectures, beginning Feb. 14, started with "The Private Enterprise System" and "How People Create and Use Organizations." On February 21, "Business in the U. S." and "Essentials of A Successful Business" were discussed. "Relationship of Government to Business" and "Ways of Organizing to Do Business," were topics on February 28.

"The Business Partnership" and "The Individually Owned Business" will be covered March 7. On Mar. 14, "The Usual Business Corporation" will be defined, and the last lecture, Mar. 21, will be, "The Cooperative Business Corporation."

Each of these classes will consist of a lecture or short film, a discussion period, and a brief test. On the basis of these tests and a comprehensive "Jack Pot Exercise" scheduled for March 28, several students will be selected to attend the Kentucky Youth Seminar on the UK campus, Lexington, on June 23-25.

At the conclusion of the program a banquet will be given for the students and awards will be presented.

The Jaycees realized the urgent need to acquaint the youth of today with the principles and practices of our capitalistic form of economy, when a recent survey showed that 61 per cent of the students in schools throughout the Commonwealth do not believe in the profit motive. The Jaycees hope that a successful program of this nature at Simon Kenton will initiate expansion to all schools in the area.

The Kenton County Garden Club Meets

The Kenton County Garden Club met February 24, at the RECC Building on Walton-Nicholson Road with Miss Alice Jane Williams as hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Elmira Taylor. Following the reading of the minutes and treasurer's report, several bills were presented, mostly for remembrances for the sick. A letter was read from Governor Breathitt commending the club for its interest in public affairs.

Authorization was granted to pay $5.00, if asked, to help defray the expense of entering the Kentucky State meeting of Garden Clubs. It was also decided to give $5.00 to the Fine Arts Fund.

Announcement was made of a flower show at Foggies, March 3-4, also the Home Show at Music Hall, March 15-20. The committee on Triangle made some very pleasing reports.

The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, who called on Mrs. William Straw for the devotional. This being "Heart Month," Mrs. Straw gave a very fitting discussion of the thought that everyone can have part in the fight against heart diseases. The doctors have told us that too much stress and too little quiet and contentment are to blame for much, if not most of our illnesses of the heart. She read, in support of this idea, Luke 11:23-20 and a poem, "Contrast" by Sarah Knowles Bolton.

Mr. and Mrs. Rutner, who made safari through many of the African countries the past season, showed several curios—bracelets made of elephant hair, an ebony carving, musical instrument, and fly swatter. They then showed a number of slides and told stories of places and people visited.

Miss Williams served very delicious refreshments.

Think before you act; think twice before you speak.

Flattering Clothes Is Program Topic

Eighty-five fashion conscious ladies attended the illustrative program, "The Most Flattering Clothes You Can Wear" Thursday, February 17th at the Northern Kentucky Community College in Covington.

Mrs. Jewell Monhollen and Miss Nancy White, County Extension Agents, presented the program on analyzing the figure types; how line, design and fabric affect the figure. Other County Extension Agents and Homemakers served as examples of the various figure types, giving examples of what each figure type should wear.

Miss White emphasized that it is not what lines you choose (i. e. vertical or horizontal) but how they are used. For example, bold vertical stripes tend to broaden rather than slenderize the figure.

She added that the type of clothes you wear should enhance your positive features as well as disguise your figure faults. A hip heavy person should wear some restraining skirt fullness to de-emphasize the hips, but interesting neckline interest and hats can be used to call attention to the upper part of the figure.

A special program for the 4-H leaders on the type of garments for each unit was also presented.

Burley Program Is At Stake . . .

The basic question in the current burley situation is simple: How can we best maintain the burley tobacco program of price supports and the necessary production controls? Without price supports, the advantages of burley tobacco production as we know them today—regardless of the size of a grower's allotment—will be gone. But, things being what they are, realistically, no one can really expect price supports to continue unless growers show a willingness to keep the other side of the balance sheet—production control in exchange for price supports.

Each grower, then, should ask himself: Can I reasonably stay in business in burley tobacco production without price supports? Can I reasonably expect price supports to continue indefinitely without realistic production controls that will keep the program dollar-sound?

Will the Congress, where the agricultural vote is becoming less and less effective, be willing to

A Look At Education

By
Eugene Robinson

I want to make another appeal for some help in managing Knothole Baseball teams representing the Walton and Verona communities, as well as, to report the following progress: (1) Three men have volunteered to help, (2) some money has been donated, and (3) some planning is being done of the field at the High School. Of course the money donated and the help volunteered is not nearly enough to have a good program. It is hoped that enough men will help so that we might have co-managers. If this were the case the program could be carried on a lot better and be easier on all.

Plans are under way to use the lighted field at the High School. The lights are available on Monday and/or Thursday nights for games or practice. This may help some men decide they can help. Also, the field is available for practice every day of the week and every evening that a softball or baseball game is not scheduled. These would, through necessity, be some Saturday games and games away from home that would have to be played without the lights. Scheduling will not be a problem, as I stated two weeks ago I hope there will be enough boys and a manager in Verona. If so, they would have a fine field to use for their home field, as well as, make use of the lighted field at Walton. There is the possibility of having a fine program this summer. However, without the necessary leadership all is in vain.

There will be a monthly meeting of the Boone County Knothole League in Florence on March 7. If possible we hope Walton and Verona will have enough managers to sign up several teams on that night. Anyone interested in umpiring in the Boone County Knothole League during this coming season is requested to contact Mr. Francis H. Becker, phone 283-4269.

The Federal Aid Program under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act for the Walton-Verona School District has had its final approval. I will complete my discussion of this program in the near future.

Letters To The Editor:

To The Editor,

Walton Advertiser:

I can't help feeling that Boone County taxpayers would prefer that our fiscal court use tax money more responsibly than they are doing in the case of the two miles of road from Union to Huey's Corner—a 100 footright-of-way (not 80 feet as so often stated in the papers) at a cost of $216,000 in addition to cost of property. And, the reason (better, the excuse) given for this is that we can't get any Federal money. "Mind you, they don't even say 100 feet is needed. Another quote, "We don't take it, someone else will..."

Of course, we won't pay these taxes. Our children and grandchildren will.

Now, I ask you if that is an adequate reason for condemning property and spending an excess of no less than $140,000 in tax money. According to the late Judge Charles Niblack, the job could be well done for $75,000.

Of course, the names of the property owners who oppose this wanton destruction of their property and the wasteful use of your tax money, are anathema. It is told we are interested in money. What other method does the mere taxpayer have to fight this profligate waste of your money by the politicians? Do you like this waste of your money? If not, why not say so in such numbers that they will hear you, and soon, before it is too late?

Suppression of the minority finally reaches you too, you know.

—JANE BRISTOW

cities where the person trying to help a victim of an attacker has received a more severe penalty than the attacker.

We hear of people being attacked and even killed as others look on, but do not help. In Cincinnati, as you may recall, a lady was stabbed near Government Square while people just watched. No body would come to her aid, but fortunately she did not die. I believe we have brought this situation upon ourselves by not having laws to protect the "helpless."

It is definitely time to wake up to this terrible situation and to make an attempt to correct it. A law should be passed protecting the "good Samaritan," for when a man is not allowed to help his fellow man without danger of being called a criminal, we are reaching a new and terrible low in human understanding.

Burley Growers:

Vote "YES"

on March 10 to Save Your Tobacco Program

Q—How can the Government justify a 15% acreage cut under one program and a 6.3% increase under another?

A—Under present law, the Secretary of Agriculture must declare an acreage quota based upon a fixed formula. Under the formula, he has very little flexibility because he is directed by law to maintain a total supply level of 2.8 years of total disappearance. Under the formula and by using the most generous figures possible, he was required to proclaim a minimum acreage quota of 15%. The new acreage-pounding law, with a 625 million national quota, offers more flexibility, but at the same time arrests the trend of excessive yields per acre.

Q—If the present formula is antiquated, so that Burley will not receive an adequate quota, why not change the formula?

A—It seems to have worked well for other types of tobacco and it would require legislation to change the formula. There is not enough time and the chances of getting such legislation would be very slim.

Q—What assurance do we have that growers will not sell only top grades and that the entire stalk will not find its way to market?

A—The Department has set a national quota under acreage-pounding of 625 million pounds. This means that the majority of growers will raise an acreage quota near the average of their three highest of five years (1959-63). In most cases, it will be necessary for the grower to sell all he produces to reach this quota. Also, there is never a year that there is not some low quality tobacco raised because of varied weather conditions.

Q—What assurance is there that excess tobacco raised will not find a marketing outlet?

A—This did happen under the old poundage program, but there are absolute safeguards established to prevent this under the new program. Warehousemen, dealers, growers and manufacturers will be required to keep complete and accurate records and there can be no sales or transfers to other marketing cards as it will be charged against their next year's quota.

Q—How much trouble will the Warehousemen have with a farmer's weighing tobacco and then deciding to take a low-grade basket home because he was over his quota and what will happen to this excess tobacco?

A—Naturally there will be some problems in this area but to minimize them there will be a 20% tolerance over each farmer's quota the first year that will be deducted from his next year's allotment. After the first year, there will be a 10% tolerance. Any excess tobacco over this amount must either be destroyed or be held to be sold on the next year's allotment.

Q—What happens if the farmer sells under his quota because of drought, hail, fire or for some other reason?

A—He will be allowed to make up the shortage the next year by an increase in both acres and pounds. This feature provides a built-in insurance provision and protects both the tenant and the landlord.

Q—If the 20% tolerance was used the first year, would this work a hardship on next year's tenant?

A—Yes, if the landlord charged tenants. A rental agreement with the tenant as to how much of the tolerance for overmarketing he could use would be desirable.

Q—What would be the effect of a 15% cut in acreage allotment in case the special acreage-pounding referendum is defeated?

A—1) Growers would have to increase their yields to an average of better than 2500 pounds per acre to produce a 600 million crop. This is approximately 300 pounds to the acre higher than the highest yield on record. In order to do this, they would have to use more nitrogen, set their tobacco closer, and use heavy-yielding varieties. This would be done at the sacrifice of producing desirable tobacco and would be detrimental to both our domestic and export use of burley.

2) The minimum-acre allotments would be increased from a present 31% of total allotments to 57%. Under acreage-pounding, the 31% would be frozen at present levels.

—Your Questions Are Answered by the County Acreage-Pounding Referendum Committee

Q—What happens to the minimum-acreage grower (an allotment of 5 acres or under)?

A—He receives the same treatment as every other grower. His preliminary quota will be set and factored like everyone else; however, after it is established the first year, it will be frozen and cannot be reduced. After the first year, the minimum farm allotment cannot be less than the smallest of: (a) the acreage allotment established for the farm for the first year; (b) 0.5 acre; (c) 10% of the cropland. The minimum farm marketing quota AFTER THE FIRST YEAR can not be less than the minimum allotment multiplied by the farm yield established for the first year. Nor can any additional minimum acreage allotments be created.

Q—If the acreage-pounding referendum passes, what assurance do we have that the Department of Agriculture will not cut us back in acres and pounds next year?

A—There is no such assurance; but if burley disappearance continues to increase at the rate it did this past year, we can look to future increases rather than cuts.

Q—When will the grower vote on acreage-pounding and what majority will be required for passage?

A—The special referendum has been called for Thursday, March 10, and will require a two-thirds (2/3) majority for passage.

Q—What happens if the referendum does not pass?

A—The grower will then have to accept the 15% cut in acreage allotments. This would be disastrous! Land values would fall, we would lose markets, and our entire program would be in great jeopardy.

Q—If the referendum does not pass, would it be possible to get the 15% cut or any part of it restored?

A—No. This would require legislation—which would not have the support of the Department of Agriculture and, therefore, would have no chance.

Q—Will the grower know what his acreage-pounding quota will be before he votes?

A—Yes. He will be notified almost three weeks prior to the referendum as to his acreage cut under the present law and his increase in acres and acreage-pounding quota under the new acreage-pounding special referendum.

Q—How are preliminary farm yields figured under the acreage-pounding law?

A—By taking the average of the three highest years out of five of the 1959-63 period. This average yield cannot exceed 120% of the average community yield (community is defined as an A.S.C. voting district) nor be under 80% of the average community yield, except in case of extremely high yields, when the preliminary farm yield is added to the national yield goal and divided by two.

Q—What tobacco organizations have endorsed an acreage-pounding program vs. a 15% acreage cut?

A—The following organizations have endorsed the acreage-pounding program: Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association, Burley and Dark Leaf Tobacco Export Association, Burley Auction Association, National Tobacco Farmers Advisory Council, the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, and the Governor's Commission on Agriculture.

Q—Who is eligible to vote in the referendum?

A—All burley tobacco growers—landlords and tenants—members of their families and anyone who has a direct financial interest in the proceeds of the crop.

Q—What can we do to help pass the acreage-pounding program?

A—We can see that everyone understands the new program, knows what is at stake if it fails to pass, and work to get out a favorable vote. Every landlord, tenant, warehouseman, banker and businessman should work to help pass the referendum.

Don't Risk Losing The Tobacco Program. Know The Problem.
VOTE "YES" MARCH 10

County Agent's 1/2 Acre

—by—
Joe Claxton

From ancient times men have plowed, drained, terraced, planted and irrigated land. Today, no matter where you live—in city, suburbs, or country—you can help preserve natural beauty by applying any one or all of the following soil conservation practices to the land you own, from back yard to multi-acre farm.

Have a soil analysis or survey made to determine such things as depth, texture, structure, fertility and topography.

Utilize the services of a landscape architect or professional soil conservation planner in preparing a landscape or land-use plan.

Keep your lawns green and clean by planting good seed, replanting bare or worn spots, applying the proper kind of fertilizer.

Insist on a sound land-use plan for your community, including proper and adequate zoning based upon soil surveys and topographic studies.

Keep a good ground cover on areas unsuitable for lawns, such as steep banks and shaded areas, by planting vines and creeping plants.

Protect soil fertility on farms by such soil conservation practices as crop rotation, diversion terraces, strip cropping, grassed waterways, controlled grazing and contour farming.

When you buy a pesticide, be sure to check everything printed that comes with it—read the label and any folders or circulars that may be tucked into the box or tied to the can or bottle.

Very often printed material that comes with a pesticide includes the directions for using it, especially if the container is too small to run complete directions on the label.

In any case, printed material that accompanies a pesticide is carefully reviewed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture specialists, whether it be label, leaflet, or advertising material that's used as part of a store display.

All these items are considered "labeling" by USDA—and they're checked to make sure the information is truthful and doesn't mislead, that directions for use are adequate, and that hazards involved in using the pesticide are pointed out prominently.

BURLEY PROGRAM AT STAKE

continue to vote the money for the tobacco program if the growers' actions show they are less than willing to accept their share of the responsibilities for the soundness of the program?

All else is secondary to these points. No matter what other issues are argued, it takes only a moment of thought to know that the future of the tobacco program, which has brought respectable order to burley income, is on the line for decision now.

Today, it may seem out of fashion to look over your shoulder at history, and remember the lessons of the past. It may seem equally unlike the attitude of the times to wonder if it isn't time to inspect the cistern and check the pump to keep the system working.

A glance at history will show that it was the tobacco growers and their representatives who originated the tobacco program. It was, and is, a system of help, or assistance, that was asked and received. It was not, and is not, a program of force or design. To verify this, simply look to the benefits and decide who received them, and who still receives them.

We are equally sure that there are, in the Congress, those who would be more than willing to withdraw any measure of production controls whatever, and drop, as well, the price support system for tobacco. As a matter of fact, there are almost continuing efforts to kill the program. And it can be protected only as long as it is a reasonable, money-safe and a sound system, with far-reaching benefits that are accepted, not as a give-away, but as a measure of assistance taken with responsibility and good faith.

The question now, to each grower, is: Is it worth it?

Now that the need for change is upon the industry, it is hoped that each grower will first begin to understand the reasons, to have no doubt that it is necessary if the tobacco program is to be kept at all in the future.

We, the Referendum Committee, believe that the acreage-poundage program offers many advantages to the tobacco growers and that by voting "YES" you will not be selling your birthright for a mess of pottage.

The following organizations have endorsed the acreage-poundage program: Boone Referendum Committee, Boone County Farm Bureau, Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, Burley and Dark Leaf Tobacco Export Association, Burley Auction Warehouse Association, The Burley Farmers Advisory Council, Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, and the Governor's Commission on Agriculture.

More of us would be willing to lend an ear to other people's trouble if they didn't try to chew it off.

Man in God

Lesson for March 6, 1966

Background Scriptures: Psalm 118; Luke 11:13; John 14:15-17; 15:17; Hebrews 4:14-16; 1 John 1:4.

Devotional Readings: Psalm 118:1-9.

A THRONE MAY look like a chair, but it is no ordinary chair. In ancient times only one person could sit on a throne: a king. Even when the king carried his throne about with him like a camp chair, as one of the better Herods did, still it was a throne and the king alone had the right to sit there. In the Bible, which is full of picture-words, as we were thinking last

Dr. Foreman week here, God is never said to be seated in a chair or on a couch, only on a throne. He is "seated" not because he is tired or lazy. To be seated was then the mark of authority (our Lord always taught sitting down), and the throne itself stood for the power and majesty of the one who sat upon it.

Honesty in prayer

The simple and easy word for coming before the throne of the Almighty, the Lord of the universe, is prayer. It is the most uplifting and at the same time the most humbling experience possible to man. The Christian life has been defined as life-in-God. Call it communion, call it fellowship, call it companionship, or simply the life in God, — there is nothing to compare with it. One thing we must leave no make-believes outside. There is no fooling God. Beneath the high-sounding religious language we often use, he hears what we really want. There is no use trying to flatter God, he cannot be flattered. Dishonesty ruins all friendship. Especially is it ruinous to any fellowship we may hope to have with God. We can often check the honesty of our prayers by asking, How much am I willing to do, or to give up, in order to bring my prayer to pass? "Thy Kingdom come" is a noble prayer; but when the offering plate is passed it may turn out that what we really meant was "Thy Kingdom come, but not over a dollar's worth this week, please."

Habits for prayer

Good words are often spoken about habits of prayer; but there are some pre-prayer habits which we may call habits for prayer. One is the habit of thinking often about God, shutting one's eyes a moment to think how close he is, and what kind of God he is and what kind of life he wants us to live. True prayer — deep, joyous, free — comes only out of life that is in harmony with God. If prayer-time is the only time you give a thought to God, you soon may find it is difficult to think of him even then. Another habit of thought, fruitful for the sincere God-seeker, is to become familiar with the life and words of our Savior. This cannot be done without long-continued study and meditation. Remember what he said, "If you abide in me and my words abide in you," (that is, if you have absorbed my spirit, and my teachings have become part of the fabric of your thinking,) "ask whatever you will and it shall be done for you." The most successful prayer arises out of Christ-centered, Christ-directed lives.

Fruit or bonfire

Fellowship with God can be looked at selfishly, like his other and lesser gifts. But the mystic vision, the inner light, is not to be enjoyed apart from the presence of the Master and his cause. Jesus put it plainly. The secret of the bright Christian experience is in the words, I in you, you in me. . . . The sunshin in the flower, the flower is in the sunshin — both equally true. The Christian is in Christ, Christ in the Christian. But for what purpose? To bear fruit, Jesus said, — fruit of joy, fruit of faith, of hope, of love.

BASKETBALL

Bearcats Upset Grant County

Ronnie Brown's game-winning basket came with only seven seconds left in an overtime as the Walton-Verona Bearcats nudged the Grant County Braves, 74-72 on the local floor last week. The regulation game ended in a 70-70 deadlock.

Walton-Verona, posting its 10th win of the season, held a slim lead most of the way until Grant County caught up in the final period.

Brown paced all Bearcat shooter with 22 points and G. J. Poore contributed 15 more. Mike Lawhon counted 22 points for the losing Braves.

Walton-Verona: Searcy 5, 2, 12; Arlington 0, 1, 1; Gadd 1, 0, 2; Chipman 6, 0, 12; Holder 4, 2, 10; Brown 8, 6, 22; Poore 7, 1, 15 — totals 31, 12, 74.

Grant County: Lawhon 7, 8, 22; McClanahan 6, 1, 13; Hamilton 2, 1, 5; O. Reed 6, 3, 15; J. Reed 0, 0, 0; Clemens 7, 3, 17; Bingham 0, 0, 0; Smith 0, 0, 0 — totals 28, 16, 72.

Grant County Reserves won the Junior Varsity game by a score of 38 to 36.

Home Agent's Party Line

—by— Nancy White

"The Status of Women" is the theme for the annual meeting of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers this spring. The meeting is scheduled for March 29-31 at the University of Kentucky. Speakers, panel and group discussions during the three-day meeting will all focus on the topic of women's status in today's world.

Presenting the keynote speeches during the meeting will be Miss Chloe Gifford, director of special activities at UK; Dr. Naomi Albanese, dean of the School of Home Economics, University of North Carolina; and Leland Davis, vice-president of the Kroger Co.

Also appearing on the program will be Mrs. Harry J. Braum, Campbell County, former president of the state Homemakers Federation; Dr. G. W. Schneider, associate director of the UK Cooperative Extension Service; and Dr. A. D. Albright, UK executive vice president. Other highlights of the meeting will include recognition of the 1965 Master Farm Homemakers; special music by the Kentucky Homemakers Chorus; and the annual banquet, at which the major speaker will be Dr. Carl Winters, a minister, author and world-traveler who is with the General Motors Corp. lecture staff.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—In figuring income to determine eligibility for a veteran's non-service-connected pension, can the veteran deduct 10 percent of his Social Security income?

A—The veteran does not take the deduction himself. He reports all his income to the Veterans Administration including Social Security payments, annuities, private pensions, etc. The Veterans Administration then calculates the 10 percent exclusion as provided by law.

Q—I have a National Service Life Insurance term policy, paying dividends each year. If I convert to the Modified Life insurance plan will I continue to receive dividends?

A—Yes, but you should understand that dividends at first, if any, will be very small.

...and FORGIVENESS

Sin is a disagreeable word that millions shun. It casts a shadow of separation. It raises child thoughts of an impenetrable and eternal barrier between humanity and God . . .

Forgiveness on the other hand is a warm and inspiring word. It promises that life's slate can be wiped clean. It brings us close to God — and to one another.

An Execution on a Friday centuries ago . . . an Empty Tomb in the dawn of the first Easter Day . . . a Faith that has gripped human souls for all the generations since — these are forever entwined with the stark realization of man's sin and the blessed assurance of God's forgiveness.

That is why, when we think deeply of the meaning of these words — of their implication in our own lives — we find ourselves at the very heart of the Christian religion.

And it is why these soul-stirring weeks at the threshold of Christ's suffering have long been the time for such searching thought!

DON'T MISS THIS BIG OPPORTUNITY

This is a good time of the year to look around for ways to increase farm income with less labor. With the tobacco cut coming and farm labor getting hard to come by, additional opportunities should be investigated. This Friday, March 4th, at 1:30 p. m., you can do just that at the Bourbon Stockyards in Louisville. This will be the wind-up of a big cattle demonstration and the cards will be placed on the table. Daily gains, cost per pound of gain, feed ingredients, labor, selling price and dressing percentage will be shown. The cattle will be sold that afternoon on a grade and yield basis and graded on hoof by personnel from the University. You will see how this new method of feeding cattle can add extra income to your farm. Call us and we will pick you up and have you home before dark.

EXTRA VITAMIN A

Purina Cattle-Plus can supply extra levels of Vitamins A and D2 to lactating cows which have not received adequate vitamin fortification during the dry period. It can help prevent foot rot, and lumpy jaw of the soft tissues. Purina Cattle-Plus is great for giving cattle a boost after a rough winter. It is an exclusive Purina formulated vitamin concentrate containing Vitamin A and D2, plus low levels of organic iodine for mixing in cattle and dairy rations. Each pound contains 5,000,000 U.S.P. units of Vitamin A, 1,000,000 U.S.P. units of Vitamin D2 and 5 grams of ethylene diamine dihydrochloride. It can be mixed in your feed or top dressed. Costs less than $1.00 per pound. See us for more details.

The 1966 General Assembly

By Representative
Dan J. Roberts

Only six more days remain in this busy session of the Kentucky General Assembly. Not many laws enacted, but maybe it is better not to have so many. Someone has said that, instead of the legislature meeting 60 days every two years, it would be better if they only met two days every 60 years. It has been a lot of hard work and much confusion.

The new and improved and much-dreaded Congressional redistricting axe is about to find its mark again and re-do the wound that has lasted for three decades. And again, in Kentucky is the saddest fact. We seem to present too many problems to the Commonwealth. We once had a Governor elected from this area, and what did they do but shoot him. Maybe the Man overboard took the wrong turn and our three-county knob should have been left with Ohio. Oh well, if we can continue to progress as we have in the past few years, our population will increase to the point leaving no doubt about our having a Congressman not to be divided with people in a far away place in Kentucky. Although the new plan for the fourth district is not just what most of the people of Northern Kentucky would desire, it is much better than the act of 1962. We will live with it, because we will have to.

The new constitution is perhaps the most important subject on docket for this session. If adopted by the Legislature, it will appear on the November ballot. Consideration in the fall election. This could well be one of the most important issues to be decided by the people of Kentucky in this century. This sound to be one of the most discussed issues of the year. A lot of time is going to be spent in the explanation of this most important document. I would advise that everyone get all of the available information on this subject and study it.

Your representative has two important issues to be decided before the end of this session: HB 190, providing provisional driver license for 16 and 17 year-old drivers. Monday (date of this article) this was first on the orders of the day. I'll tell you where it ended next week. HB 290, the proposed new planning will also be considered this same day.

I had some very fine visitors the past week. On Tuesday, a fine group of Democratic women were my guests. On Tuesday of this week, I shall be honored with a fine group of Boone County Republican women. I am sure that the visit will be equally as nice. In any case, I hope to have them. I'll be glad to hear from you.

ANNOUNCE WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Burden of Walton, are happy to announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Delores Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Perkins, of Crittenden.

The wedding will take place at the parsonage of Rev. J. R. Tackett, March 11, at 7:00 p. m. A reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents, 62 Meadmore Street, at 8:00. Relatives and friends are cordially invited to the reception.

Vote "Yes" For Acreage-Poundage

Can you control milk production by controlling the number of cows each farmer has? The answer is obviously NO, and this is the same answer that has been proven by the number of acres of tobacco grown by a farmer grows in 1965. The Boone County tobacco growers produced 850 pounds of tobacco per acre. In 1965, the production was over 2,000 pounds of tobacco per acre. Vote YES for the acreage-poundage program if you want to control burley production according to its usage. This vote YES, will mean we will continue for three years with a tobacco program which is the largest farm income from any crop in Kentucky. We must have a program on tobacco for the good of all farmers in our county. Write to John E. Crigler, secretary and treasurer of the Boone County Farm Bureau.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY SOCIAL

The St. Cecilia Church of Independence, will hold its annual St. Patrick's Day social on March 13, beginning at 2:00 p. m. The public is invited.

Staffordsburg

Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Reporter

We were very agreeably surprised on Friday morning to have as callers, Mr. and Mrs. John Riggs of near Kenton. Their biggest piece of news was the arrival of a great grandson, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Riggs. They have chosen as his name, Glenn David. He is also greeted by two older sisters, Best wishes.

Rev. and Mrs. Rucker entertained on Wednesday, Miss Emma Yates, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballinger, and Chester Ballinger.

Mrs. Charley Losey and J. B. Losey visited with her sister, Mrs. Ora Stone on Friday evening. They found her feeling quite well. She also learned that Mrs. Bryan Armstrong came to her daughter, Wanda's, on Friday. She has been a few weeks in Jewish Hospital, and must return for an operation soon. We were so sad to hear on Sunday evening of a severe fall which happened to Mrs. Stella Richardson on Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Dryden at Washington, Kentucky. Luckily, no bones were broken but she had a cut on her head and severe bruises. She was taken to Haywood hospital in Maysville. We hope for her a quick recovery.

Homemakers Meeting

The Homemakers club met at the church on Tuesday, March 1st with Mrs. Edith Ware as hostess. Several of the members were unable to come, but we had a very interesting meeting. The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Lathan Wayman. Following this we enjoyed a very interesting discussion on Guide Lines for choosing the clothing which will accent the best of our features while camouflaging the undesirable, which was given by Miss Ruth Schmidt who is clothing leader for Kenton County. We are always glad to have her for a guest. Miss Poprota came for a short time in the afternoon to give some details of the work. We are glad for an opportunity to get to know her better.

Our lesson on buying curtains was given by Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Cooper. They had a nice lot of illustrative material. We also enjoyed hearing Mrs. Wayman read from a book which we carried over from last year, "One Saint And Seven Sinners." While written in a humorous vein it gives one cause for meditation.

A very delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Stein and Mrs. Earis. Mrs. Stein is hostess for April and will entertain at the church. We have planned a White Elephant sale at this time. If you want some bargains and also some fun, come. The elephants are always interesting and a source of wonder.

Beef Production To Be Studied

Wayne Sininger, Extension Agent of Boone County, announced that a study of beef production practices is to be made in Boone County. The study to determine herd size and management practices will be used in developing teaching objectives for the Extension on beef program in the County.

Sininger further announced that beef producers will be receiving survey sheets with the request that they complete these forms and return them to the Extension office.

He explained that Extension personnel has long known that for Extension programs to be most effective that they must be developed from the actual situation that exists in a particular enterprise and that generally, this can only be determined through a systematic study.

Orange-Nutmeg Doughnuts

When hungry small fry invade your kitchen, treat them to a Fall and Winter-time favorite — Quickie Orange-Nutmeg Doughnuts. These apely circles with tangy orange icing teamed with generous mounds of milk will rate praise from active youngsters.

There's a bit of baking magic in these "quickie" doughnuts — enriched self-ripening flour. Pfenblende leavening and salt give your doughnut preparation off to a quick start. And you'll be pleased with the tender, flavorful results.

Doughnuts and other products baked with enriched self-ripening flour are sources of good nutrition — three B vitamins, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin, plus the minerals, calcium and iron. Every time you serve self-ripening products you contribute these essential nutrients to your family's diet.

QUICKIE ORANGE-NUTMEG DOUGHNUTS

36 doughnuts

1 cup milk	2 cups sifted enriched self-ripening flour*
3 tablespoons melted shortening or oil	1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons orange rind	3 eggs
Desired icing	1 cup sugar

Preheat fat to 375°. Sift together flour and nutmeg. In mixing bowl beat eggs until thick and lemon colored. Gradually beat in sugar. Blend in milk, shortening or oil and orange rind. Add flour all at once to mixture, stirring until blended. Turn out onto floured board or pastry cloth and roll out 1/4 inch thick. With floured doughnut cutter cut out doughnuts. Fry in fat 1 to 2 minutes on each side, or until doughnut tests done with cake tester. Drain thoroughly on absorbent paper. When cool frost with orange-flavored or plain confectioners sugar icing.

*If you don't sift and in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into 1 cup dry measure, level off, then remove two level tablespoons, according to USDA recommendation.

Attack Fatal To Retired Minister

As he had on many previous occasions, Rev. Shelly Rouse Mann, 76, participated in the morning worship service, March 6th, at the Walton Methodist Church where Rev. Charles G. Dearing is pastor. He was to deliver the pastoral prayer and lead the congregation in the Lord's Prayer.

He was never able to complete his task. As he completed the words "...Thy Kingdom Come..." the grey haired minister fell to the floor victim of an apparent heart attack.

First aid was administered and mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was given. The Walton Volunteer Life Squad responded with oxygen, a local physician was summoned. By ambulance, the victim was rushed to Booth Hospital in Covington where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

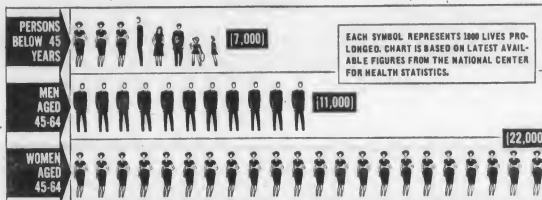

The Rev. Mann, who retired from the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Church on June 13, 1958, served 35 years in the active ministry of the church, having been admitted in 1923.

Rev. Mann and his wife, Arlie Shepard Mann, resided at 47 Apple Drive Independence, Kentucky. Mrs. Mann, who holds a local preacher's license in the Methodist Church, is Librarian at Simon Kenton High School.

Besides his wife, survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Robert Scharfenberger of California, Ky., Mrs. Clarence Cockayne of Butler, and Miss Rita Mann of Covington; a son, Harry Mann of Cleveland, Ohio, and seven grandchildren.

Services were conducted at 11:00 a. m., Wednesday in the Walton Methodist Church, with burial in Hillcrest Cemetery at Dry Ridge. Chambers & Grubbs Funeral Home of Walton, had charge of arrangements.

HEART RESEARCH PROLONGING 40,000 LIVES

PROGRESS IN THE FIGHT AGAINST HEART AND BLOOD VESSEL DISEASES since 1950 is reflected in this chart. Based on the latest vital statistics, about 250,000 Americans under 65 died of these diseases in the single year. Had the 1950 death rate persisted, the toll would have been about 280,000. Chart shows, by age and sex groupings, the estimated 40,000 lives saved. Since 1948, the year of the first Heart Fund Campaign, your Heart Association has been the spearheading force in the fight against the nation's Number One health enemy. You can help in this fight by giving generously to the Heart Fund.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—When I purchased my home through a GI loan, I was told that my monthly payments would be a certain amount. Now my mortgage company has notified me of an increase in my monthly payments. Why?

A—In most cases, monthly payments are made up of principal and interest and a monthly deposit for payment of taxes and hazard insurance premiums. The principal and interest portion of your payment will not change through life of the loan. However, the monthly deposit to pay taxes and insurance may increase or decrease depending upon whether your real estate tax or hazard insurance premium is increased or decreased.

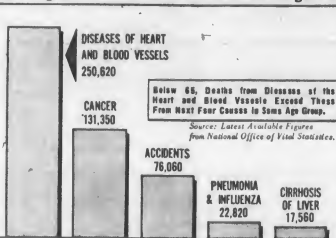

Q—Could you tell me about Orphans Education Assistance? I am a veteran with a 30% service-connected disability and I have two sons who are 12 and 13 years old. I would like to know if they are eligible for educational assistance from the Veterans Administration?

A—In order for the children of a living veteran to be eligible for benefits under the War Orphans Education Assistance Program, the veteran must be permanently rated 100% service-connected disabled. Should your disability become worse, you should check with the VA regional office.

Q—I was hospitalized for one month in 1954 at a VA hospital. Upon being discharged from the hospital, I applied for a disability, but after an examination I was rated at zero per cent disability. Would it be too late to apply for a re-examination, as I have since been hospitalized for the same ailment?

A—if you have additional medical evidence to present, you may DISEASES OF HEART AND BLOOD VESSELS are described by Dr. Paul Dudley White, a founder of the American Heart Association, as "the epidemic of the twentieth century." To speed the fight against these diseases, give generously when a Heart Sunday volunteer calls to your home for your Heart Fund gift.

apply again to the VA for reconsideration of your condition.

Q—I am receiving additional disability benefits for a child who is attending the University. How long may I receive this additional benefit?

A—The additional benefit may be paid up until the child's 23rd birthday as long as he (she) remains in school and is unmarried. Do not confuse this with the VA Orphans Education program where marriage has no effect on the benefit.

TAYLOR MILL

Ernest J. Kyle, Reporter

Well, this has been a poor week for news as no one called in with any items, so here goes with what we have.

As we look out our back window, we see several men around the barn of Charles Dorsey where they are preparing to kill a fat 800 lb. steer which is what they call prime beef in any language.

Little 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Inabitt suffered a heart attack one day last week and was taken to the hospital but he is much better at this writing and is back at home recuperating. We still hold to our prediction of an open winter even if it was derailed for a few days.

We received some good news from Ridgwood, N. J., that my sister, Mrs. Anabelle Banton, grandmother of Jim Banton, is recovering very nicely from a stroke she suffered years ago. Also, a letter from our nephew and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dorsey of the Tower has now been promoted and is now Major Richard Dorsey of the Air Force.

CARD OF THANKS—

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for all cards, favors and kindnesses shown me during my stay in the hospital. A special thanks to Rev. Reuter for visits and prayers, also to Chambers & Grubbs for their help. I shall be forever grateful.

Home Agent's Party Line

—by— Nancy White

The large crop of potatoes which went into storage last fall insures plentiful supplies now coming from those storehouses. Potatoes are one of the most popular vegetables in this country—and probably many other countries. They are universally liked and used by people in all income levels. Although potatoes are one of the least expensive vegetables, they are served at elegant banquets as well as in the most humble home.

Some people say a meal isn't complete without potatoes; and by this expression they may mean fresh potatoes, frozen, chips, canned, instant, or some other processed form. More and more potatoes go into some processed form each year. In fact, they are literally losing their skins—less fresh potatoes are sold to consumers.

When raw fresh potatoes are cooked, they retain more of their nutritional value of cooked in their skins. Potatoes give high returns in food value for the money spent for them. They are good sources of vitamins and minerals. Calories counters needn't be fearful of eating potatoes—just be careful of adding extra high-calorie foods to them, such as butter and gravies.

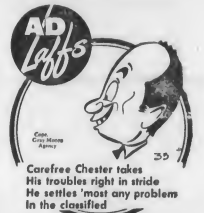

One medium size potato has approximately 100 calories—that is about the same as an apple or banana but much less than a hamburger or a piece of pie. A potato cooked in the jacket is a good source of Vitamin C and also contributes some Vitamin B and iron to the diet.

Where a medium baked potato yields 100 calories (without any butter or other additions), a half cup of mashed potatoes with milk gives 80 calories and a half cup hashed-browned has 230 calories.

The identity of a potato may be, as described by the French Company, "I am a brown and homely tuber that grows underground, but I am packed solid with nutritional value." History also records the wonderful feasts of the brown tubers as averting famines, having wars fought over them, feeding a nation, etc., but remember potatoes are still making history. Yes, the future looks bright for the lowly potato, as far as human consumption is concerned.

Choose fresh potatoes that are firm, well shaped and with shallow eyes. Avoid those with green areas—they have been exposed to the light and taste bitter. Remember

U. S. No 1 on the package means that all the potatoes are one and seven-eighths inches in diameter or larger. Calculate one and one-fourth pounds of raw potatoes will give a pound of ready-to-cook or three to four servings.

County Agent's 1/2 Acre

—by—
Joe Claxon

The buildup in burley supplies is due largely to increased per-acre yields in recent years. During the five-year period, 1936-60, burley yields averaged 1,620 pounds per acre. During the most recent three-year period, 1958-60, yields averaged 2,151 pounds per acre, an increase of about one-third. Research data & sales records for individual farms show that further increases can be made in per-acre yields. Increases in per-acre yields result in reduced acreage allotments, which in turn stimulate further increases in yields.

Some advantages of the Acreage-Poundage Program are:

- 1) Acreage allotments will be larger, as the poundage quotas provide protection against excess marketing.
- 2) Each farmer can aim at producing high quality tobacco without losing part of his share of the market to other farmers who strive for the utmost production from their allotted acreages. The incentive for increasing yields per acre would be removed.
- 3) The program has a new element of flexibility since farmers can carry over unused quotas from one year to the next.
- 4) Sales and exports may increase through improved quality.
- 5) Producer income may be increased because of improved quality and lower production costs.
- 6) Supplies of tobacco can be kept in better balance with demand, and at less cost to the government.

Some disadvantages of the Acreage-Poundage Program:

- 1) The program is more complex than the present acreage allotment program.
- 2) There may be some additional problems in administration and cost of enforcing compliance.
- 3) Growers may have some difficulty in producing an exact number of pounds farm quota from their acreage allotment.
- 4) The acreage-poundage program may complicate landlord-tenant relationships.
- 5) There may be a tendency to fill quotas from higher-priced grades, working to the disadvantage of buyers of the lower-priced grades.
- 6) There may be illegal marketing of nonquota tobacco.

The Decision Belongs to the Growers. This is the first major change in the basic type of tobacco control program to be offered as an alternative in over 25 years. The growers have a choice. They will decide. They may vote to change the tobacco control program to acreage-poundage or vote not to change the program and retain the present program of acreage allotments with a 15 per cent reduction in allotments.

It is important that the burley growers vote on March 10 (TODAY) either "YES" or "NO."

Firefighters trapped in forest fires may now have the protection of a lightweight aluminum tent. Because the shiny surface of the tent reflects most of the heat, persons inside during tests survived fires which would otherwise have been fatal.

Yourself And...

Lesson for March 13, 1966

Background Scripture: Romans 12:3-21; 13:1-10; Ephesians 4:2-3; 1 Peter 4:7; James 3:1-17; Deuterian Reading: James 1:2-21.

We really didn't need the population explosion to rub it into our heads that there are a lot more people in this world than we can very well manage to live with. Still it's our business to live so far as it lies in us, to live at peace with all men. Our Christian duty and our Christian business, that is. People who are not Christians have the same duty to others, only they don't admit it.

Dr. Foreman One of these modern pagans wrote: "The world is my orange and I intend to squeeze it." Another one, the famous playwright Sartre, said something to this effect: Hell is the existence of other people. Every other person besides yourself is a threat to you, personally. He lessens your available good, fame, pleasure. The more he or they get out of the world the less there is left for you.

Others

It is obvious that we cannot live in this world—and never could have lived in it—without thinking about other people, some way or other. That is why any form of religion which puts it into purely personal, singular, individual terms, ignores the basic facts of life. Religion has a theoretical side—what we believe; it also has a practical side—what we do, or ought to do. The Christian religion in particular is not a "Right of the Alone to the Alone." It is much more than what man does with his solitariness. It is the practical answer to the question, "What do you put after Yourself and . . . ? Yourself and God, of course. But that is another story. After God, who else? Others, of course. You can't shut your eyes to them. But what to do about others? Is there a difference between a Christian and an un-Christian way of looking at, thinking about and dealing with people? There certainly is. The Christian and only the Christian takes seriously the divine Commandment: Love thy neighbor as thyself. We must add: The Jew also, for the very commandment of love is one we find in the Old Testament first (Leviticus 19:18).

True love not sloppy

This commandment is quoted in the New Testament more often and more emphatically than any other. Jesus, Paul, Peter, James, John, — how different they all are! Yet every one of them headlines and insists on love as the first duty, the Christian's first duty to man. This can be misunderstood. "Love" — what is called by that name—is sometimes used by fuzzy-minded and mealy-mouthed people to mean something as shapeless as a fog in a bog, as meaningless as the love-song of a sick bullfrog, as elusive as a wet ghost. Love, or what is called love, can be reduced to a nice word. Love as it comes to us on the airwaves to the accompaniment of an electric guitar can be nothing more than noise profaning the very love the crooner whines about. Real authentic take-no-substitute love for our neighbors (next door or around the world) is a solid unsentimental thing.

Love is concern

Love is active, self-sacrificing concern for the welfare of those who are loved. Love of a man for his country may be shown in honest tax return, or equipment in the army, or helping reduce air pollution, or electing intelligent congressmen. Love of a parent or teacher for students or their own children does not mean indulging them in monopolizing the telephone or the family car. Concern for the welfare of distant people—say in southeast Asia—may mean we have to keep on with a nasty war we did not want. Concern for the true welfare of others can take many forms.

Klip Klop Klub Meets

The February meeting of the 4-H Klip Klop Klub was held in the home of Chuck and Randy Black. Members attending are as follows: Nancy McLaferly, Charlotte Richardson, Chuck and Randy Black, Robbie Van Horn, Steven Vaughn, Carolyn Campbell, Chris Sipple, and Barbara Bachmeyer. They also had a guest, Trudy Northcutt. Nancy and Charlotte told about the bake sale and candy sales and it was reported that the club made $32.85. The rules and classes of the 4-H Horse Show that is to be in June were discussed. Project books and membership cards were handed out also. The next meeting is to be March 26 in the home of Carolyn Campbell.

BANKLICK

Genevieve Dunn, Reporter

Mrs. Archie Pernel was on the sick list the past week but she is better and able to be out and about.

Mr. Charlie Green has been dismissed from the hospital and returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Linnie Wagner of Wilson Rd. Those calling on Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dunn this past week were Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Thoroughman and children of Lewis County, Mr.

Mrs. Alice Anderson and her family had a very pleasant vacation in Florida.

Sunday callers at the Linnie Wagner home were Mrs. Mary Angel and children, Mr. Floyd Greene, Stevie and Jeff, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Wagner and family.

Mrs. and Mrs. Carlis Grey are moving to Independence this week. Mr. and Mrs. Orville Fredric, Wanda and Carol attended the funeral of his brother-in-law, Mr. Harris this week.

Spring is around the corner, I know for wedding announcements are arriving in the mail and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. David Gatewood on their most recent marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tomlin entertained a group of young people in honor of their daughter, Darlene's birthday Friday night.

The day of fellowship at New Banklick Baptist Church was a day of joy for those attending the service. The past pastors returning for the day were Rev. Simcoe Webster Nat Phillips, Chase Jennings, and Robert Hopkins. Rev. Phillips brought the message during morning worship. Dinner was served and worship services were resumed with each of the former pastors speaking. Music was provided by the Walters family and Bro. Bob Utz and choir.

Webster said, "Fellowship is a group of people with the same interests," so according to one good lady, the day was a good fellowship day. Our pastor, Rev. Don Davidson, was responsible for the welcome extended to all that attended.

In grizzly bears—Alaska has a greater population than all the rest of the nation combined. At least 10,000 grizzlies call the state of the north home, while only a few hundred remain elsewhere.

WHERE DO THE STARS GO, MOMMY?

The big brown eyes are thoughtful, the small face earnest as Mary Anne considers the universe.

Sometimes our pint-sized inquirer's questions are devastatingly funny, sometimes deadly serious; but always important. Harry and I may chuckle over them, but we never forget that these queries reflect Mary Anne's increasing awareness of the world about her. We know that our answers and attitudes are an important part of her development.

Another influential portion of Mary Anne's growth, we feel, has been her regular attendance at Church School. There, Mary Anne's experiences with other children have been related to God's plan. The tiny kitchen or play garage in the skilled teacher's capable hands becomes the training ground for Christian behavior.

How glad we are that our church is well equipped to guide our child in her religious growth.

Attend your church. Take advantage of the inspiration and knowledge it is eager to share with you and your children.

KILL LICE, FLEAS, MITES

You hogmen who are having trouble keeping lice, fleas, and mange mites off your hogs, see us today. We will be happy to help you get rid of these costly pests with Purina Hog and Cattle Dusting Powder. Just rub a handful or two of Hog and Cattle Dusting Powder into the hair coat of each hog when you notice lice, fleas, or mites. Or whenever sows and pigs begin to rub. This finely ground insecticide gets right down to the skin where it works best. Be sure to scatter some Hog and Cattle Dusting Powder in the bedding or on the floor to keep insects down and control the spread of mange. So, phone or stop in and pick up a can of Purina Hog and Cattle Dusting Powder. It can help you boost your hog income this winter...and all year round.

HOG MARKET TO HOLD UP STRONG

Reports in from all available sources indicate that the present hog market will hold up throughout 1966. The main reason is that there is just not enough sows available for breeding due to the extremely high sow market and the number of litters being sold as finished hogs. Your best bet is to get fast, efficient growth on pigs farrowed now. You can have them at 50 pounds fast on Purina's famous "Fast Start Twins"—Purina Baby Pig Chow and Pig Startena. And they'll have the growth they need to go on to market sooner than the average hog. Purina Baby Pig Chow and Pig Startena keep pigs gaining because they supply vitamins, minerals and antibiotics baby pigs need for health and growth. They're palatable, too—pigs go to them early. Call us today.

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

On February 3, 1966 the Walton-Verona Independent School District's Title I Project was approved. As you may know, this program is a part of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act that was recently passed by Congress. The program is under way and the general feeling is that some parts of the program are very successful. However, there is, as in the case of any new program, some feeling that what we are doing doesn't amount to much.

One phase of the program is the use of teacher aids. Mrs. Tolene Scott is working at the Verona School with the six teachers, and Mrs. Thelma Smith is working at the Walton Elementary with the seven teachers there. These ladies spend the whole day and are able to spend near one hour with each teacher. This way each elementary teacher will be released from clerical duties, checking papers, giving out spelling words, writing assignments on the board and a number of other duties that aids can be assigned. This gives the regular classroom teacher some 50 or 60 minutes daily that she can work helping slow students in activities designed to increase their skills and comprehension in reading, math, and science. The aids are not to do remedial work with the slow people, but to release the teacher so she might do this.

On the Junior High and High School level our efforts under this project are in reading. Mrs. Janice Ryan can make a portion of the day (a little over half) and, under the supervision of Principal John Shoemaker, conducts a reading program that is a real good job in our school. This is what is called a "Controlled Reading Program." At the beginning the reading level of each child was determined and they were grouped according to reading abilities. Then through the use of this Controlled Reading Machine, which is really a modified filmstrip machine, the students are presented reading material that is on their reading level. As they progress in reading speed and comprehension progress they move on to more advanced material. Some of the groups are doing a real good job while others are not moving as rapidly. Mrs. Ryan's job is to prepare materials, operate the machine and supervise the groups as they do self-evaluation tests and record their progress.

All three of these ladies are working hard and doing an outstanding job. It has been a little difficult for some teachers to know just how to use the aids in the most effective manner planned for the annual Title I Show, to be held in April.

Next week, I will conclude my discussion of the Title I project by explaining the type and extent of improvement we hope to attain. Also, I will give a run-down on equipment which has been purchased and what is in the process of being purchased.

KITE FLYERS URGED TO OBSERVE SAFETY

Kites spell fun if you fly them safely. Here are some suggestions from The Cincinnati Gas and Electric Company:

Keep kites away from electric wires. Insist on using only dry, non-metallic string. Tying a piece of metal to any part of a kite is dangerous...eliminate notions about climbing a pole or nearby tree to retrieve a kite...stay out of streets and highways while flying kites.

The safest place to fly kites is in the open, away from power lines, radio and TV antennas or moving traffic. Make sure the kite, string and kite tail are dry. Wet string can be just as dangerous as using wire. If your kite does get tangled in a power line or in a tree near a power line, don't try to pull the kite down. Let it alone.

Boone County Civic Club Meets Tonight

Twenty-five young citizens keep themselves trained, equipped, and ready to spring into action if an emergency of any type should take place.

Junior District Chairman Robert Coffey, Henry Mikkelsen, Charles Holloway, Ken Froehlich and others describe the present status of our "Civil Defense Program."

The subject concerning Civic House Building will be of interest to all, and the public is invited. Should the present court house be remodeled, completely removed to another location, or remain as is? This promises to be an interesting discussion, according to Secretary R. V. Lents of the Civic Club.

To Resurface Verona Road

Bids for bituminous concrete surfacing on the Walton-Verona (Ky. 16) Rd. in Boone County will be received by the Highway Department on April 8, Governor Breathitt and Highway Commissioner Ward have announced.

The project will begin at U. S. 25 in Walton and extend to the Gallatin County line, a distance of 7.438 miles.

The 1966 session of the Kentucky General Assembly ends on Friday, March 18th. The 60 day session has passed at a very fast pace, with accomplishments have been rather slow. The past three weeks have been packed with activity, the day starts with the meeting of the Rules Committee at 10:00 a. m. People line the halls trying to interest members with particular problems. After the committee meeting, members rush for a quick lunch, then to the session which convenes at 1:00 p. m. after 5 to 6 hours of work in the chamber, the members feel that they have had a good day's work.

To date 25 bills have been signed into law by the Governor. Some 200 bills yet to be decided are making their routine trip between the two chambers for final action before they reach the Governor for his approval. About 500 bills that have been introduced in this session are already dead or don't have enough remaining to make the routine trip through the House and Senate.

Much emphasis has been put on conservation during this session, most of these have become law by the stroke of the Governor's pen. They are: Strip Mine Control, Water Conservation, Air Pollution Act, Natural Resource Act and Planning Legislation. Possibly the greatest advance was made in the field of Education. With a few more progressive years, we can reach the top.

Partisan politics has been quite a factor during the session, the well organized 34 Republicans in the House have kept the remaining 66 Democrats very close. On a great many issues the vote revealed bipartisan control. We are to elect one U. S. Senator and seven Congressmen this fall and next year we are to elect all state officials. This has brought many predictions from both parties.

Your Representative was most happy to have several visitors from the district this past week. On Tuesday, I was honored to have the Republican Women's Clubs from Boone County and Gallatin County. The ladies found the session most interesting and I found them to be most Non-Partisan for that matter. On Wednesday, I had as my guests, Sister Mary Sylvester and the eighth grade students from the All Saints School at Walton. An August 1966 edition of the Kentucky Colonial.

This session has been most interesting for me, although it is some relief to see it come to an end. I am most grateful for the opportunity that you have extended to me in letting me serve you in this capacity. I wish to extend an invitation to discuss any of the legislation and the action that was taken by me.

PAMPER HANDS

HANDS TELL—All the graceful gestures in the world are marred if hands are rough, chapped and dry to touch, or if cuticles are ragged. So if your hands look rough, the Pacquin people recommend helping yourself to lotion. There are no oil glands on the backs of your hands and almost none on the palms, so applications of hand lotion are needed to keep skin supple. A new Pacquin lotion for extra-dry skin helps protect against parching on all extra-dry skin areas.

Considering the weather, a good number were out to hear District Superintendent, Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Lathen Brinkley and girls visited his parents on Saturday.

Mrs. Ona Cavanaugh, who has been shut in all winter, is longing for warm days with the hope of getting out in the sunshine.

We hear sort of via the grapevine that Mrs. Stella Richardson, who fell at her daughter's home, is improving and is anxious to return to her home.

Rev. S. B. Rucker attended the funeral of his old friend, Rev. S. R. Mann, on Wednesday of last week.

WHITES TOWER

Mrs. Ralph Howard, Reporter

A harbinger of spring...I saw two robins in my yard yesterday and the birds were chirping like it had already arrived.

The icy roads last Sunday caused some accidents...the cars of Jack Sturgeon and that of the parson on their way to church slid into one another and caused quite a bit of damage to both cars, but no one was injured.

The Cox, as usual, took their trip to Williamsburg, for the weekend.

Mr. Burke of the Tower, has his lettuce and radish bed all ready to start growing.

The two Knochelman children are still quite sick at their home on Hempling Road, and a third was hit on the head with a bottle by some child and cut his head.

FLY KITES SAFELY...

1. Keep kites away from electric wires
2. Use DRY non-metallic string
3. Never use metal on kites
4. Don't climb poles
5. Don't run across streets or highways

Kite flying can be ALL fun...or end in tragedy.

The best place to fly a kite is in the open...away from electric lines, radio and TV antennas or moving traffic.

Any part of your kite that conducts electricity can cause serious injury or death. That means wet string, wire kite line, any string or kite tails with wire, tinsel or other metallic substance in it.

Flying kites in the rain can be dangerous too. If your kite becomes snarled in a tree or a power line, don't attempt to pull the string to get it down. Let it alone.

When the wind blows free...have FUN. Fly your kite, but play it SAFE.

County Agent's 1/2 Acre

—by—
Joe Claxon

Preventing weeds from coming up in the tobacco plant bed is a very important job. Tobacco plants are so small when they first emerge they cannot stand competition from a heavy growth of weeds. And hand-weeding a bed is slow and tedious, and is likely to injure small plants; in addition, wildfire and mosaic in susceptible varieties often occur in plant beds after weeding. Kill the weed seed before sowing the tobacco seed. Here are some tips:

HOT METHYL BROMIDE GAS
—Work the bed as mentioned above. Then will a 5-gallon bucket with hot water (150 to 160 degrees F). Puncture the can with applicator in the upper position (instead of the lower position as used in the conventional method). Submerge the can at once in the hot water, leaving the punctured area above the water. It will take about 5 minutes for the gas to evaporate from a 1-lb. can. Release two-thirds through corner tubes and one-third through side tube. Be careful. Methyl bromide is a poisonous gas, so follow label directions carefully.

In the hot-gas method, soil may be treated when soil temperatures are lower than in the other methods.

COLD METHYL BROMIDE GAS
—Pulverize soil thoroughly and have it just moist enough to be safely worked. Soil temperature should be 50 degrees F or warmer. Install the gas-proof cover and plastic tubes and seal edges with soil. Put shallow pans inside the bed site under each plastic tube for evaporation. Release 9 pounds of methyl bromide for a bed 100x9 feet, 12 pounds for a bed 100x12 feet, using a specially designed applicator, or the plastic trays with pins that puncture the cans.

Leave the cover on the bed site at least 24 hours, preferably 48 hours. After removing cover wait for at least 24 hours before seedling.

Proper fertilization of the tobacco plant bed is an item to be carefully done. Usually, a bed site 100 feet long and 9 feet wide should get 30 pounds of a mixed fertilizer such as 4-16-45 or 4-12-55 (the S stands for sulfate) or a similar analysis. For a bed site 12 feet wide, apply about 40 lbs. of the same fertilizer. If you use much more than the amounts listed above, soluble salts may rise to the top of the soil in dry weather and cause plants to yellow and die. First symptom of over fertilization is seedling yellowing. A grayish white substance also will cover soil around the plants. Seedling roots will be so poor the plants can be loosened by touching. Heavy watering is the only remedy. Apply about 500 gallons of water per 100 square yards of bed every four or five days until the soil, when dry no longer shows the grayish white crystals and the seedlings have established new roots and started to grow. Water this way at least once each week if dry weather continues. Don't confuse nitrogen starvation with overfertilization. Plants turn yellow in seasonable weather, but have a good root system and there are no grayish white crystals on the soil. For nitrogen starvation, dissolve 10 pounds of nitrate of soda (or 5 pounds of ammonium nitrate) in a 50-gallon barrel of water. Remove bed cover and sprinkle the mixture over the bed with a watering can. Use 5 gallons for each 12 foot running feet of bed which is 12 feet wide or each 24 running feet for a 3-foot bed. Follow immediately with an equal amount of clear water to prevent burning.

Lesson for March 20, 1966

Background Scripture: Luke 9:23-26; 27:45; Romans 8:13, 14; Philippians 2:5-11; 1 Peter 2:21; 2 Peter 1:21; 2 Peter 3:14.

A young man in college was in love (as his neighbors were not) with his piccolo. By actual check, he spent about nineteen hours a day on that thing. Now you can't spend nineteen hours a day practicing on the piccolo and have much time left for anything else, such as studying. So the boy got a note from the Dean, and the next thing we knew, he was out of college — still

Dr. Foreman playing that piccolo. That's commitment; but not Christian commitment.

Commitment means loyalty, devotion, dedication. But there are two or three vital differences between Christian devotion and the devotion of that piccolo artist. Piccolo-devotion is devotion to a thing and what can be done with it; Christian devotion or commitment is devotion to a person and what can be done for Him. The other difference is that piccolo-devotion shuts out everything else, while Christian devotion is woven with everything else. Piccolo-commitment is an occupation making other occupations impossible. Christian commitment is more a style of life than an occupation. For example: Very few men would find it possible to be at the same time a lawyer and a surgeon; but a man can if he chooses, be a good Christian and a good surgeon at the same time.

No holidays

There's still another important difference between the committed Christian and the committed artist, technician, or professional man. The piccolo player can and needs to take a vacation from his music now and then; but the Christian ought not to, and need not, take a vacation from his Christianity. A Christian takes holidays, to be sure, the same as everybody else; but never a holiday from being a Christian. Religion is like love, it calls for full-time devotion. No holidays. Part-time, half-hearted commitment is a contradiction in terms; that is, it can't be devotion and also be half-hearted.

Loyal to whom?

The Christian's loyalty is not something he turns on for certain times each day. It is something life-deep, life-long. It comes out, or fails to come out, in every situation. The committed Christian lives Christianity, that is the whole thing in a nutshell. We take life's directions from Christ. His word is the last word. But the object of Christian commitment is not a set of ideas. It is loyalty, devotion to a Person first of all. Jesus made declarations about himself which were either true or the utterance of a blasphemous man gone quite mad. He claimed an authority above that of any one in any power structure of the world. He claimed to know the mind of God and man, the right to show us the heart and intention of the Almighty. He claimed the right to order his followers even unto death. He did not say, "If any man would follow me, let him." He said, "If any man would follow me, let him take up his own cross and follow me." Faithfully, what he meant was: Following me may lead you to your death. It is He, such a man with such a claim, who demands "the last full measure of devotion" from his followers. There are Christians, still unaware fully of the greatness of the Master, who act timid and ashamed about taking orders from one so far away as Jesus. We need never be ashamed of total commitment to such a Master. He is our Lord, — nearer and greater than we think.

WHAT DOES HE SEE ?

What a birthday present! Young Dan can see all sorts of things with that telescope that are invisible to the naked eye. The sky, with its stars and its moon, seems so much closer.

Yet, there is still so much that remains unseen. The best instruments man can make are insignificant when measured against the scope and depth of God's universe.

That's where faith comes in. We know that there are other galaxies that can't be seen through even the most powerful of telescopes. And we know, too, that faith, though invisible, is the greatest power of all.

If faith is something that doesn't quite come across to you, the Church is the best place in the world to help you solve its mystery. If faith is already yours—what better way is there to reaffirm it than by going to church this Sunday?

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

There are three questions to answer relative to the Title I program. 1) What kind of equipment, material and service will be provided with the money? 2) How will these things be used, and 3) What good have they done? Last week I explained the service being rendered by three teacher aids. I might add that this is proving to be very satisfactory. The three ladies are doing some fine work. Their service is becoming more valuable each day.

In so far as materials and supplies are concerned, I will attempt to group these rather than list each of them. Anyone interested in details would be welcome to come and see the various items purchased. There has been some $350 worth of teaching aids purchased for the primary grades. These items are already in the classroom and many of them being used. This group of items consist of phonics charts, arithmetic charts, reading charts, vowel charts, make believe rulers, flash cards and many other things that I will not take the time or space to list. Records, record players and filmstrips to be used in high school reading, literature and social studies have been purchased, but are not in use as yet.

Two controlled reading machines and about 175 filmstrips for the reading program have been purchased and many of these are being used. The filmstrips range from third grade to twelfth grade level. About $400 worth of supplementary readers have been purchased for grades four, five and six. These books will be in use by the end of the month. Also, about $300 worth of library books and reading books have been purchased for the junior high level. The books will be of high interest and a varied range of reading level in order that all the junior high students can enter into the reading program.

Probably the most used equipment that has been purchased is the copying machine. Masters and transparencies of anything that the teacher wants can be made. The machine that makes a split master is being used a lot in the reading program. A duplicator was purchased to help in this program.

One overhead projector and several movie screens have been purchased. Also a number of white window blinds are used for screens in the classrooms. Other items to be purchased include a tape recorder, maps, globes, etc.

It will be some time before a judgement of good done in this program can be made. We may never know just how much good has been done. This is characteristic of teaching and learning; it is hard to measure the success. Improvement will probably depend upon the participant's ability to learn; however, improvement can be expected in the following: 1) comprehensive skills in reading, math and social studies 2) rate of reading, 3) vocabulary and 4) study habits. If the activities and services being initiated are maintained throughout the project there is no doubt that educational improvement will be made by participating students.

Richardson Open House

Their children are: Larry Richardson, Mrs. Conrad (Donna) Richardson, Chela and John Richardson; also three grandchildren, Dane, Eric and Lori, all of Independence. Please omit gifts.

Estimated average salary of the Kentucky secondary school teachers is $5,200, which places this state 44th among the 48 states reporting.

NEW OFFICERS CONFIR FIVE MASONIC DEGREES

Senior Class Play Friday & Saturday

The senior class of Walton-Verona High School will be "Headin' for a Wedding," when they present a three-act farce on their play on Friday, March 25, and Saturday, March 26, at 8:00 p. m., in the Walton gym.

The director, Paul Rhorer, the Speech and English teacher, is working hard with this group of boys and girls to give the public a good evening of fun and entertainment.

The student director is Mary Ruth McGlone, and the technical director is Johnny Fraithier. ## Why Home Economics?

By Jane Kunkel

A friend asks, "What is Home Economics and why should a high school girl be interested in it?" I'll try to answer her and others with similar questions. I'd like to say that the total Vocational Home Economics program includes the seven areas of home-making, each designed to help one in her future life. In addition to these areas, we participate in home projects and F. H. A.

The different areas are Foods, Clothing, Housing, Child Care, Health, Management, and Relationship. In foods, one learns how to plan and select good, wholesome diets, how to plan, prepare, serve meals, and how to entertain our friends. The clothing area consists of units which help one select, construct, and care for clothing. The relationship area assists one in trying to understand and get along with all people. In child care there are units explaining how to care for infants, children, and pre-teens. The health area helps one to protect her and her family's health. There are units in first aid and home nursing. How to plan and decorate a home is part of the housing area. Units in caring for the home, selection of furniture and furnishings, and selection of a place to live are included in this area. Management helps a girl to use her time, money and energy wisely. Statistics of the Home Ec. Department's dollar, and managing family income are vital units in this area.

Vocational Home Economics encourages the participation in home projects each semester during the summer. These are designed to help one become a better person and home member, as she participates in each area of Home Economics in her own home and community.

The F. H. A. (Future Homemakers of America) is a national organization for all high school students who have completed at least one semester of Vocational Home Economics. Its purpose is to help one grow as a better individual, and member of her chapter, school, and community.

F. H. A. consists of chapter, district, state, and national organizations.

Each member is encouraged and expected to be an active member in her local chapter. At Simon Kenton each member is given a F. H. A. Participation sheet, on which she enters her own progress in her chapter. To be eligible for an invitation to the Mother-Daughter Banquet, a highlight each year she must accumulate 25 activity points prior to the banquet.

In the chapter many activities are carried out. Some major chapter projects are open house exhibits, candy and cook book sales, field trips, scholarship projects, checkroom for ball games, and Mother-Daughter banquet.

These activities enable a girl to work on her junior and chapter degrees, and to cooperate with others in her chapter, home, school, and community.

The district, state and national levels have projects which are carried out in three-year periods. The Vocational Home Economics program and F. H. A. are recommended to everyone interested in their homes, schools, and communities, and their future life.

County Agent's 1/2 Acre

—by—
Joe Claxton

Now is the time to think about soil preparation, correct planting and cultivation of crops after they come up in your home gardens.

Soil Preparation: Good soil preparation begins with deep plowing (approximately 10 inches deep). If you haven't plowed your garden this deep in the past, approach this depth gradually by increasing the plow depth 1 inch each year until a 10-inch depth is reached. Plow in late fall or winter to insure decay of manure, causing crops or other forms of organic matter turned under. Repeat harrowing as many times as necessary to insure a good seedbed. A drag can be used to smooth the seedbed, if needed.

Planting: Use a measuring stick for correct spacing between the rows. To make straight rows, pull a string tight the length of the garden. Depths of planting is determined by the crop: small-seeded vegetables such as mustard and lettuce, 1/2 inch deep; large-seeded crops such as peas and beans, 1 to 1 1/2 inches deep; potatoes, 4 inches deep; asparagus roots, 6 inches deep, and rhubarb, 4 inches deep. Set transplants 1 to 2 inches deeper than they were growing in the plant bed. Give transplants 1/2 to 1 pint of water at time of transplanting. Apply water before soil is pulled to the plant. Gently firm soil around the transplant. Transplants of tomatoes, pepper and sweet potatoes may be killed or seriously damaged by flea beetles. Spray with malathion or DDT immediately after transplanting, or dip the tops of transplants in a solution of one of the materials listed above before setting in the garden.

Cultivation: The roots of most vegetables are shallow and may extend completely across the space between the rows. For this reason, cultivate shallow and often enough to control weeds or break a crust formed following heavy rains. If you weed the garden while the weeds are small, deep cultivation will never be necessary.

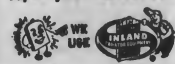

Following the last harvest of each vegetable crop, destroy the plants by pulling or plowing them under. They will assist in controlling insects and diseases. If the areas from which the vegetable crop was removed is not to be planted to another vegetable crop this season sow it to a cover crop to control weeds and reduce soil loss.

We suggest you get U. K. Cooperative Extension Circular 539-A, "Home Gardening for Better Living," from your County Extension Office.

Handy Habit

DID YOU KNOW—That elbows rank next to hands in greatest use of hand cream? More than 87 per cent of women using hand cream recently surveyed by Facquin said that they use it on hands first, and then elbows and arms. Among most popular hand creams is one formula especially for women with extra-dry skin. Another is medicated, with ingredients that soothe chapped hands and help speed healing. A third type now is anti-detergent hand cream, created especially for homemakers.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—How much time remains to obtain the re-opened GI insurance, so-called?

A—Eligible veterans (those with service-connected disabilities even though they receive no compensation payments and those with non-service-connected disabilities who are too disabled to obtain commercial insurance) have until midnight Monday, May 2, 1966, to obtain the re-opened insurance. By that time, however, they must have sent not only their application but also sufficient funds to cover the initial premium payment.

Q—Congress has just passed a new GI Bill. When does it go into effect?

A—It becomes effective immediately upon signing by the President. In all provisions except those applying to educational benefits. These will become available on June 1, 1966.

Q—I hear my child, age 21, is now entitled to educational assistance even though my peacetime service terminated before 1940. My service-connected condition is rated as permanently, totally disabling. What would his monthly allowance be if he enters college?

A—Yes, your child became eligible under a recent change in the law extending War Orphans' Educational Assistance to children, generally between ages 18 and 23, of both war time and peacetime veterans from the beginning of the Spanish-American War period provided their permanent and total disability or death is service-connected. Allowances for institutional type training are: $130 monthly for full time study; $85 monthly for three-quarter time study, and $60 per month for half-time study.

KEEP SMOOTH—With newest fashions highlighting skin, it is more important than ever to be smooth from fingers to toes. For women who want soft, youthful skin, Pacquin specialists recommend new skin-care habits. Try these: Use a hand and body lotion nightly. Keep bottles of lotion handy in kitchen as well as bath. Whenever you wash hands, dry them thoroughly. Apply a non-sticky lotion like the new Silk'n Satin in the mornings and before bedtime, as faithfully as brushing teeth.

Raisins, honey and grapefruit juice head the list of plentiful foods for April, report marketing experts of the USDA. Peanuts and peanut products continue in plentiful supply. Here's the plentiful picture through April:

Raisins: Markets will be well supplied with California raisins. 1965 production was the largest since 1952 and is estimated at 272,000 tons and they are a good buy. Raisins enhance the flavor of many desserts and stuffing for fish, meat and poultry.

A raisin pie is a good way to get more iron in the diet, or serve cooked raisins as you would applesauce, seasoned with nutmeg or cinnamon. Grated orange peel improves color and flavor. Keep an extra sugar bowl or raisins on the table for use on cereal, with other fruit or in salads. Experiment with raisins and discover new and interesting flavor combinations your family likes.

Honey: Will be plentiful through April, although 1965 production was lower than in the two previous years. In mid-December, 67.2 million pounds were in commercial stocks. This is down slightly from last year's record high of 75.2 million pounds. Honey makes moist cookies that keep well. Serve honey as a sweetener for fruit and cereals, or use it as a syrup for pancakes and waffles. Combine with peanut butter for a two-in-one spread.

Grape Juice: A record 237,000 tons of American type grapes were produced in 1965. This is 13% greater than the 1959-63 average. Bottled grape juice prices are the lowest since 1961. Drink grape juice for breakfast. Serve it as an appetizer in a tall glass half full of ice cubes, and for extra sparkle mix with sparkling water or soda. For variety, combine it with citrus juices.

Peanuts: Last year's production soared to almost 2½ billion pounds. Peanut oils are good for salads, and general cooking purposes. Peanuts roasted in the shell or salted are an ideal nibbling food. Peanut butter, peanut brittle, peanut-chocolate and other candies rank high in popularity. Try peanuts in a new way during National Peanut Week, scheduled for March 2-12. One suggestion: Chop any peanut candy you have on hand and sprinkle it on top of ice cream, pudding or other milk desserts. It adds flavor and texture and is sure to win favor.

What is the Church?

Lesson for March 27, 1966

Background: Scripture: Matthew 16:13-19 1 Cor. 13:1-13 Hebrews 1:1-3 2:14-16
Devotional Reading: Ephesians 2:13-22

Hundreds of thousands of words have been printed during the past ten years alone about the church — what it is and what it ought to be. But since books about the church are mostly written by church people for they are not read by everybody, and there is still an enormous amount of ignorance even among church members as to what the church is. Dr. Foreman proposes to be and is. One of these misunderstandings is that the church is a building. Well, it is certainly not wrong to call the place of worship a "church"; but if that's all it is, it isn't nearly as valuable as a skyscraper or a Hilton Hotel. When you "go to church", you are approaching something far higher than any building of man. Further, the church is not a club. A club exists for the welfare and comfort of its members, while the church (wherever it is true to its "divine intent") exists for the welfare of all mankind. A club can shut out people it happens not to like; a church has no right to do this. A club's highest authority is elected by its members. The highest Authority in the church is Christ; it is he who elects (calls, appoints) the church. Given names of church

We might add here that membership in a church does not make you a Christian. On the contrary, being a Christian makes you a member of the church. But let's get on with what the church is, not what it isn't. We can do no better than to glance at some of the Bible names for the church—names by which groups of Christians, or all Christians everywhere, were called before the word "church" became common. They were all simple names, picture-names. Evidently it was not God's intention that the church should be a strange "what-is-it" which only a theologian could understand. One name was just "Brothers". The Church was small, and it lived and acted like a family. (It is much harder to do this as the church grows in size.) The church may be said to have invented the slogan which has been stolen by others than Christians: From each according to his ability, to his needs. Would the newspapers ever think of the present-day church as a family?

MORE NAMES

Christians were also called "Believers." Not that they all repeated the same creed precisely. But even outsiders could see that there were certain truths and certain facts (such as the Resurrection) for the truth of which the Christians were ready to die. The church was called the "Bride of Christ", devoted and committed to him as a bride to her husband, her protector.

The body of Christ

No one name for the church brings out all the truth about it. Perhaps the most comprehensive of them all is the "Body of Christ". Paul (in I Corinthians 12) brings out the unexpected thought that Christians are members — not only of the church or even of Christ—but members of one another. To stir the edges of your thinking, a question may be in line. What is there in the picture of the "body" which is missing in the others? Mr. Smith and Mr. Jones are in the church. What does it mean to say they are members of each other?

CARD OF THANKS—

I would like to thank everyone who sent me a card and came to see me while I was a shut-in due to injury received in a fall. I wish to give special thanks to a very kind neighbor, Mrs. Arthur Carlson, who took me to the doctor, and took care of me every day while my daughter was at work. Good friends are more precious than riches. God bless you all.

MRS. ANNA LEE ELLIOTT
2 Vivian Dr., Florence, Ky.

Only eight members were present, due to bad roads. They were Jerry and Gayle Reed, Don and Bruce Courtney, Jerry Bray, Sandy LaFollette, and Tom and Ed Cummins.

Mr. and Mrs. Cummins tried to encourage members to take part in Rally Day.

The February meeting of the club was held at the home of Gayle and Jerry Reed with Miss LaFollette again presiding.

Present were Jerry and Gayle Reed, Don and Bruce Courtney, Sandy LaFollette, Tom and Ed Cummins, Linda Whaley, Martha Helmer, Marsha Cook, Nancy Baker, Jerry Bray, Davey Worthington, Eddie McMillan, Teresa Jackson, Cherri Northcutt, and Janice Daniels, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cummins and Mrs. Woody Worthington, and guests, Carl Wicklund, Barbara Wolsing, Mrs. Wolsing, and Mr. and Mrs. Reed.

sing showed slides and talked about their trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Cherri Northcutt on Bracht-Piner Road, March 28.

We might imagine this is a squirrel assuming a prayerful pose while satisfying his appetite... like a man pretending to be religious in order to gain the respect of others.

We are not often fooled by falsity, nor do we let it blind us to truth. We know our religion is our richest treasure. But we rate it worthless unless sincere.

Today millions are talking about the world's spiritual needs. Is talking enough?

Isn't faith more than a word... prayer more than a pose?

Attend church every week with your entire family. Support the Church with willing sacrifice. Offer your time and talents to God in your congregation's busy life. And live each day the truths you cherish.

WATCH THIS DEMONSTRATION CLOSELY

On March 17, 40 head of steers were placed on full feed at the "Hopple-Long Ranch," Cincinnati Union Stockyards, Cincinnati, Ohio, to show farmers throughout Northern Kentucky and Ohio the opportunity to feed cattle the easy way. The cattle were put on a full feed of Purina Cattle Starter No. 1 the first day. They did not receive any pasture or hay. All the feed they got for the next 100 days will come from a self-feeder. The steers will be weighed again on March 31 and then again every 28 days. The starting weight average of the cattle was 632 pounds. How much will they have gained by Thursday, March 31? Why not be present for the weighing at 1:00 p. m. and see for yourself. Watch this demonstration. It might show you a way to add extra income to your farm with very little labor. Stop by and see the cattle any time. "Hopple-Long Ranch" is located right on Spring Grove Avenue, next to the cattle and hog unloading pens at the stock yards.

OUT OR SHORT ON CORN?

Before you buy your next load of corn check with us on the feeding results you can expect with Purina Complete Hog Feeds or if you are milking cows Purina Complete Pellet Checkerboard Dairy 16% or feeding cattle. Purina's Complete Cattle Feed H 12.

$5.00 TON OFF ENDS MARCH 26
Folks sure have been taking advantage of our special $5.00 ton off on all Purina Hog Chows during our big Pig Starting Days promotion which ends March 26. Call or stop by and find out how your hogs can get to market sooner and at less cost on Purina Hog Chows. Our $5.00 Ton Off Deal applies to Pig Starters, Baby Pig Growers, Complete Hog Finisher, Hog Chow, Sow Chow, Farrowing Chow and Hog Chow and Hog Supplement. See us today!

THE DAIRYMAN'S POCKETBOOK

We have found that the average dairyman is not as concerned with weight gains as beef cattle operators are. So he tends to ignore the damage that roundworms might do to his young dairy stock... who are usually pastured in small, heavily contaminated areas, and are wide open to worm infection. However, today's young calves and heifers are tomorrow's mother cows and milk producers. The sooner you get them in the milk string the better. BUT cattle worms can rob you of time and feed. So worm those heifers and calves with New Purina Worm Kill Checkers. Purina Worm Kill Checkers are safe and easy to use. See us today!

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

Shirley Porter Williamson writes regularly for the Kentucky Education News, a monthly publication of KEA. Many of her articles are excellent and worth reproducing. The following article falls into this category:

SCHOOLS VERSUS FASHION In Battle Over Length of Skirts

Yea principals fight,
Yea teachers fight,
High schools and colleges
Fight, fight, fight!

The big battle is on. Two major institutions are pitting their forces against each other. On one side we have the schools, and on the opposing team we have the world of fashion.

Skirts have risen to an all time high, and throughout the academic world we are hearing the demand that students must dress decently or forfeit their places in the schoolroom.

The saddest part is that the students aren't alone in their plaintive cries to wear dresses inches above the knee. Many mothers insist that their daughters have the right to wear the current fashions. Some parents have gone before school boards and some determined nannies have taken their exposed knees to court to override the school's rules.

"It is the fashion," the students and mothers insist. That, as far as many are concerned, was the final answer to the controversy. Many would rather go nude than be out of fashion. Just because something is fashionable does not make it acceptable.

Fashions are created to sell clothes. Fashion is business, a million dollar business. The only way it can stay a big money business is to change styles yearly so women will feel that everything they own is as obsolete as the hoop skirt and will rush right out and buy more clothes.

"But schools don't have the right to tell students what to wear," students argue, "it is none of their business what we wear." Schools do have a right to tell students how to dress. Schools are for educating, and that includes what is decent in literature, language, morals and manners, as well as acceptable dress.

Some students proclaim loud and long that they are always dress as they please and that nobody can make them change. I ask them to return to see me in a few years. No one can dress and act as he pleases unless he is going to live as a hermit. Any company or organization that one works for has a right to tell its employees what they can and cannot wear. Even a person in business for himself must dress in an acceptable manner, or he will have very little business. Beatiniks dress as they please, because they don't pretend to hold jobs or earn a living. A few years ago we didn't call them beatiniks. We called them bums.

"But everyone wears dresses above the knee," teenagers wall. Teenagers seem to operate under the delusion that if everybody does something then it becomes acceptable.

Fashion has made it difficult to wear skirts at a decent length. Short skirts are all that one can buy. Perhaps the schools should have some consumer education classes and teach the youngsters that if merchandise on the market isn't acceptable, then the merchandise should not be bought.

Let the short skirts hang unsold. Why must fashion dictate to women? What is wrong with teaching girls that women can dictate to fashion?

What is so pretty about knees anyway? Without a doubt they are the ugliest part of the anatomy. Poets have long written about the beauty of a woman's face, her hair, her arms, her hands, her neck, her bosom and her legs. I have never read anywhere about the beauty of a woman's knees. This might be an interesting topic to study in literature.

Values Placed On All Parcels of Property

Tax Commissioner Joe Ryan of Boone County, has announced that his office now have values placed on all parcels of property in the county for the year 1966.

It was announced earlier in the year that each taxpayer would receive a notice of the Fair Cash Value of his property. Mr. Ryan regrets that now, due to the amount of work involved in completing the records by May 1, it is going to be impossible to send every taxpayer a notice.

Mr. Ryan said that if those taxpayers who have not contacted his office or received a notice wish to know the value placed on their property, they may call in person at the office in Burlington, or call any day between now and April 9.

FEE INCREASES BY POST OFFICE DEPT.

Increases in money orders, insurance, registry, certified mail and C.O.D. rates will become effective March 26, Postmaster R. X. West, Independence, said this week.

The cost of operating these five special services now exceeds the revenue by $60 million annually. The fee increases will narrow the cost-revenue gap by $36 million, based on business handled in Fiscal Year 1965. Increases include:

Money Order Fees: Domestic and International money order fees will be increased by 5 cents.

Insurance Fees: The minimum fee bracket will be increased from $10 to $15 and the minimum fee will be 20 cents instead of 10 cents.

Registry Fees: The present 60 cents and 75 cents fees will be combined into a single fee at 75 cents for values up to $100. Registry fees for articles valued in excess of $100 will remain unchanged.

C.O.D. Fees: The present 40 cents and 50 cents fee brackets will be combined into one fee bracket at 60 cents for amounts up to $10. There will be no change in the fees covering items valued above $10.

Certified Mail: The fee will be increased 10 cents from the present 20 cents per item to 30 cents.

Public relations is everything you do.

County Agent's ½ Acre

—by—
Joe Claxon

During the past week, I have had several calls on the following: During 1964 and 1965 liverwort, a plant closely related to the mosses, appeared in tobacco beds in early spring. It has caused damage only in the fall-treated beds which were covered with plastic during the winter. Liverwort caused its damage by competing with the tobacco seedlings. Damage from liverwort might be expected to increase as the use of plastics on tobacco beds over winter becomes more common.

Liverwort is a dark green, fleshy, flattened, rosette plant which grows on moist bare soil. It produces two types of flower-like structures: male and female. The female structure is lobed or finger-like shaped and the male structure is disk shaped. Both are borne on separate plants atop small, short, slender stalks.

It is not known why liverwort appears abundantly in plant beds which were covered with plastic the preceding winter. Apparently, the plastic provides a favorable environment for the germination of spores and the growth of liverwort.

Liverwort can be killed by sprinkling the bed through the cotton with bordeaux or bluestone-lime mixture (3 lbs. of bluestone powder, 4 lbs. hydrated lime in 50 gallons of water) applied at the rate of one quart per square yard or 50 gallons to 200 feet of bed 9 feet wide or 150 feet of bed 12 feet wide, thus allowing the tobacco plants to develop. Directions for preparing the bluestone-lime mixture are available from the Extension office.

Fertilizer injury and dry weather can cause plant bed failure. Usually, application of too much fertilizer is the problem, but similar trouble sometimes follows the use of calcium cyanamid (a nitrogen fertilizer) for weed control.

This sometimes raises the nitrogen content to a level in the soil dangerous to plants.

Also, over-heating of the soil during the burning process (to kill weed seeds) causes accumulation of alkaline salts and this will often cause plant failure.

Keep the plant bed soil moist until the seedlings have become established. Do this by watering. Use about 150 gallons of water for each 100 feet of plant bed 9 feet wide or 75 feet of plant bed 12 feet wide. This amount will moisten the surface adequately. After plants are established, 300 to 500 gallons of water per 100 square yards of bed may be needed each week. The water should be applied if the soil surface of the plant bed is dry.

Fertilizer injury may be confused with nitrogen starvation. In both, the plants turn yellow. The farmer may add nitrogen fertilizer to a bed already damaged by fertilizer injury, thus making the situation worse. Be sure plant beds need to be fertilized before you add additional fertilizer.

WHITES TOWER

Mrs. Ralph Howard, Reporter

A little more winter in the making this week, with freezing temperatures... it may be that our fruit crop is ruined at the trees had started to bud.

We were very sorry to hear of Dewey Parsons of Decoursey Road being in the hospital, having had a heart attack Wednesday evening and news has it that he is doing nicely.

Little Steve Knockelman of Hempling Road, is still on the sick list... seems the doctor can't break the fever.

Bruce Binder of Roselawn Drive has been under the weather with a cold this week, but perked up Friday as Bruce and Mona Coleman represented White Tower School at the county spelling bee.

The Staffordsburg Homemakers will have their next meeting on April 5 at the Staffordsburg Methodist Church basement with a "white elephant" sale after lunch. Anyone who would care to come at noon is welcome... you may get a bargain. Mrs. Emil Stein will be hostess, and every member will bring a covered dish.

The St. Cecilia Parish at Independence, is having its annual assembly on May 28, in the school basement. Anyone having anything they would like to donate to this worthy cause can leave it at the school anytime or call Mrs. Goebel Armstrong, 356-2219, and it will be picked up... clothing, furniture or nick-nacks of any kind... or what have you... all will be appreciated.

The Holy Cross senior class will leave on their Washington tour, Monday morning, March 28. We wish them all a nice and safe trip. They will return Friday.

Think before you act—think twice before you speak.

Pesticides Can Be Dangerous

Pesticides can be dangerous unless used wisely and safely says the Boone County Health Dept. Pesticides are today (and have been for many years) used to kill insects and rodents which are disease carriers. Through pesticides our country has good control of once feared diseases such as malaria, yellow fever, typhus and plague. Through pesticides our country has increased the amounts of varied foods, high in quality and at a lower cost, helping to reduce food deficiency diseases such as pellagra, scurvy, rickets and nutritional anemia.

But, the Boone County Health Department warns, pesticides can be dangerous unless they are used wisely and safely. They can be a danger to human life, to fish and wildlife, to crops and plants.

The first rule to follow in the safe use of pesticides is to read the label. At the time you use a pesticide and then follow the instructions. If an instruction leaflet is included, read it carefully also. There are some special warnings to remember.

If you spill a pesticide concentrate on your skin or clothing, wash with soap and water and change clothing immediately. If you get a concentrate in your eyes, flush them with plenty of water for 15 minutes and get medical attention... if you accidentally swallow some pesticide or if you feel ill effects after its use, call your physician at once, read the label to him, naming the active chemical ingredient... observe any antidote instructions on the label.

KLIP KLOP KLUB MEETS

The 4-H Klip Klop Klub held its March meeting in the home of Carolyn Campbell. The club was proud to have 100% attendance. The reporter gave her report, and the club welcomed back James Vaughn, who had had an appendectomy.

The group discussed a trail ride which is planned for April 13. For the program, the club had two demonstrations, as follows: Parts of an English bridle, Barbara Bachmeyer; parts of a Western bridle, James Vaughn; cleaning a set of harness, Chrissy Sipple; parts of a halter, Nancy McLaughlin; and parts of a saddle, Carolyn Campbell.

Creed of the FHA

We are the Future Homemakers of America... We face the future with warm courage and high hopes... For we have the clear consciousness of seeking old and precious values... For we are the builders of homes... Homes where living will be the expression of everything that is good and fair... Homes where truth and love and security and faith will be realities, not dreams... We are the Future Homemakers of America... We face the future with warm courage and high hopes.

The above is the Creed of Future Homemakers of America. This organization is active in high schools throughout the United States. It is affiliated with the homemaking program, one of its purposes is to further interest in Home Economics.

Below is my personal interpretation of the FHA creed. It means a great deal to me, as I have served as song leader, reporter, and parliamentarian for the Walton-Verona Chapter of FHA, served on the Northern Kentucky District publicity committee and the State program of work committees last year, and am presently serving as Northern Kentucky District historian.

We, girls of many shapes, sizes, ages, races, and schools, are the Future Homemakers of America... proud and ambitious, ready for work, ready for play, ready to learn.

We face the future... not wondering what will happen, but "facing" the future with warm courage... some left us by our parents, some developed through our own intentions... and high hopes... not meek ideas, but high hopes.

For we have the clear consciousness... we have to face no rude awakenings, for we have "constant" clear consciousness... of seeking earnestly, day by day... old and precious values... those developed by mothers and wives in years before us.

For we are the builders of homes... in the next few years, possibly within a decade, many of us will be housewives and mothers... homes for America's future... keeping in mind that tomorrow, tonight or even the next hour is the future.

Homes, not houses, but homes... where living... not just existing, but living... will be the expression of everything... not just a few things, but everything... that is good and fair... this results, we realize, when a great deal of intelligent planning has gone into the making of a home.

Homes where truth, honest, sincere, genuine truth, and love... the center of all things kind and security... a genuine sense of being necessary to the home that is essential to the good mental being of every human, and faith... faith developed through many years of trusting by love... will be

In The Pink

GLENN of Michigan likes the "total" look in sportswear this spring. A shiny pink coat, slim skirt, and matching bag of "Ducron" polyester and cotton are made weather and stain resistant with "Zepel" fabric fluoridizer. A pink and white checked blouse and kerchief complete the ensemble.

Resolutions Of Respect—

WHEREAS it has pleased Almighty God in his infinite wisdom to call from his labors here below E. E. Wilson who was a member of the Board of Directors of the Tobacco Growers Deposit Bank of Crittenden, Kentucky; and was a director of said bank when its name was changed to the Bank of Crittenden in 1932; and has served said bank as Director until 1958, at which time he was elected President and held that office until the time of his decease on November 29, 1965.

THEREFORE be it resolved that the Bank of Crittenden has lost a true and worthy President; and that the Board of Directors of said bank have lost a member whose wisdom and knowledge will be sadly missed; and that the Community of Crittenden has lost a good friend and citizen.

RESOLVED that we extend to his widow and family our heartfelt sympathy.

BE it further resolved that a copy of these Resolutions be forwarded to the widow of E. E. Wilson and to his sister, Nellie Hudson; that this Resolution be published in local newspapers, and spread upon the minute book of the Board of Directors of the Bank of Crittenden.

How can I clean natural-finish wood furniture? This is a question homemakers often ask as they start spring housecleaning. Here are some suggestions:

You may want to use either a commercial or homemade cleaner or just soap or detergent and water. Before deciding, be sure you know the finish on the wood. Some finishes, such as spar varnish, penetrating seal and oil finish are water-resistant and will not be harmed by soap or detergent and water. However, water may damage such finishes as shellac and regular varnish.

Commercial cleaners come in cream or liquid form. Some only clean away the soil, while others clean and polish at the same time. Follow the manufacturer's instructions carefully.

You can make a cleaner at home for use on natural-finish wood by adding one tablespoon of turpentine and three tablespoons of commercially boiled linseed oil to one quart of boiling water (be sure to use only linseed oil labeled "boiled"). Dip a soft cloth into the hot cleaning solution and wring it dry. You'll need to wear rubber gloves. Rub the wood well to remove soil and then polish with another clean, lintless cloth. Keep the solution hot in a double boiler; never place it directly over a flame. Change the solution when it becomes cool and soiled. The turpentine cleans and opens the wood pores and the linseed oil polishes and preserves the wood.

If you use soap or detergent, make a suds of warm water and mild soap or detergent. Wash a small area at a time with a soft cloth wrung out as dry as possible. Then go over the area with another cloth or natural sponge wrung out of clean warm water and, finally, dry well with a soft cloth. Follow this with a furniture polish or wax. Flax soap also does a good job of washing wood furniture...follow instructions given on the container.

After cleaning the wood furniture, use a paste wax on it. Put about a tablespoon of wax on a thick piece of cloth and fold the edges up around the wax. Rub well into the surface of the wood...let set about 30 minutes and then buff with a soft, woolen cloth.

You can also make a cleaning polish for use on wood furniture. Add one tablespoon of mild detergent, 3 tablespoons commercial-boiled linseed oil, 2 tablespoons turpentine, one tablespoon vinegar and one tablespoon of very fine pumice to a cup of hot water. Shake well and apply to furniture with a soft cloth. Remove the excess with a clean, soft cloth. Polish across the grain of the wood, then with the grain. Continue polishing until finger marks do not show when you touch the surface.

Painted furniture usually can be cleaned by washing with a mild soap and warm water.

Expense of time is the most costly of all expense.—Theophrastus

Why the Church

Lesson for April 3, 1966

Background Scriptures Matthew 28:18-20; 2 Cor. 5:14-15; Ephesians 2:13-14; 10:20; Revelation 2 and 3.
Bible Reading Ephesians 6:1-5.

"Marriage is a sure cure for true love." "It's the courtrooms that make Justice blind." "Laws kill the conscience." You will hear nonsense like that wherever men gather to discuss what is wrong with the world. The crowning piece of nonsense which usually goes with these others is: "The church kills religion." In other words, just as it is alleged that we would have more true love if the institution of marriage, just as we would have better justice if it were not for law courts and lawyers, and better behavior if we had conscience alone to guide us instead of rules and statutes, so we would have purer religion without the churches to choke it. So why the church?

Living sense of God

There are three big reasons, which include many smaller reasons, why the church is on the scene and ought to be on the scene. Why the church? Because it is indispensable, that's why. It is an institution prone to all the weaknesses of corporations, all the stiffness of human institutions, all the arrogance of bureaucracies; yes, but it is a divine institution and indispensable, all the same. This world is crowded with institutions. The river of time reeks with the waste of human institutions. But the church is indispensable. The church alone insists to keep alive a keen sense of God among men. Oh, you say you know someone-church-members who are more godly than most of the members; or you may know some phony hypocrites in your own church. But the fact remains that by and large, where the church is weak, there the sense of God is weak. How much of the time do you believe in God, really believe in him with all your heart, to say nothing of loving him? Once a week, maybe? Perhaps not so often. To our shame be it said: we forget God more than we remember him. But there stands the church, raising above her deep foundations the spires of faith, the church, affirming week by week in so many words, "I believe in God," and through the week by her very physical existence as a building witnessing to the faith of the men and women for whom she is a spiritual home. No other institution is dedicated to God by faith; no other has witness to God as a primary aim. The church is indispensable.

Man's grandeur and misery

The church is indispensable for another reason also. It is she alone who keeps reminding man both of his grandeur and his misery (to use the two words Pascal made famous). Against all the voices of cynicism and despair, against all who belittle man, against those who see in man only another animal, an organism destined at last for the dust, — the church by contrast keeps telling those who will listen, the truth that man is a child of God, made in the image of God, a creature whose destiny and origin are alike God-determined and God-given.

Church has the answer

The Church, therefore, has the key, the clue, the answer to the great practical riddle and problem of human life. No man has a scheme for the betterment of mankind and the transformation of human society has gone to smash on one and the same reef: the perversity and weakness (either or both) of human nature. What is needed is a power above nature — super-human, no less — which will transform persons from the inside. We need people who have been "born again", people who think and act with God and not against him.

Ernest Collins will have charge of the initiation. Those receiving degrees are Kenneth Johnson, Al Warner, Eugene Sizemore, and Floyd Sebre.

Henry Fornash, son of Mrs. Bertha Fornash of Falmouth, and Miss Mary Louise McCubbin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCubbin of Walton, were married Saturday afternoon at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. R. F. DeMolay. After a brief honeymoon, they will live near Falmouth.

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION PAID?

The message of Holy Week is not a sad one. Rather, it is the most joyous news we will ever hear! The glory of the resurrection could not have happened without the stark tragedy of Good Friday . . . and because Christ overcame death, we are assured of eternal life. It is certain that we will live again and forever, in a new way that God has planned for us.

Jesus strove constantly to make this blessed truth plain. Time and time again we are told of God's great love, and of His constant concern for the world and people He created.

The highest point of Christ's ministry was the cross. Because of its tremendous power we, as Christians, have been given a ceaseless source of comfort. Come to the church of your choice.

WANT TO GUESS THEIR WEIGHT?

We sure want to extend a warm welcome to everyone to attend the weighing of the 49 head of steers at the Cincinnati Union Stockyards this Thursday (March 31) at 1:00 p. m. These 40 steers have been on Purina Chick Starter since March 17 without pasture, hay orilage. They consumed more than 150 lbs. of feed per head the first week. What will they weigh? How much did they gain per day? What did it cost? Is there an opportunity for me to feed cattle on my farm with little labor and low cost investment? WHY NOT FIND OUT THE ANSWERS THIS THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1:00 P. M., CINCINNATI UNION STOCKYARDS.

ORDER CHICKS NOW!

If you want baby chicks this year, the order should be put in immediately. There are few hatcheries and they sell out fast when the rush comes. Call us at 431-2622 or come in.

TIPS ON BABY CHICKS

We would like to remind you folks who plan to start day-old chicks that you're dealing with tiny, delicate, but very fast-growing babies. You know from experience that a chick never gets over a good start, or a bad one. It just naturally makes good sense to start them off with the nation's favorite chick starter—Purina Chick Starter. It is fortified with ten tiny but vital health boosters. And all of them are thoroughly mixed by Purina's exclusive Micro-Mixing process to make sure that every ounce of ration contains its full share of boosters. Order your Starter needs now. You can buy cheaper starting feeds but where can you find one to match Purina Chick Starter in quality, safety and fast growth from every bird? That's why we have found more farmers say that low-cost production is the reason they feed PURINA.

LOTS OF MILK AT LOW COST

Lots of milk at low cost! That's what many of your neighbors get when they feed Purina Checkboard Dairy 16%. Purina Checkboard Dairy 16% Pellet Ration is built to keep your cows milking at full capacity. It is packed with vitamins, minerals, proteins, and carbohydrates cows can't get from grain and roughage alone. You'll be mighty pleased when you check the cost of this all-grain ration, and see the results show up in your milk tank. We will be glad to visit with you about this popular, low cost way to feed cows. Low-cost production, you know, is the reason more dairymen feed Purina than any other feed. FOR MORE INCOME. SELL MORE MILK. TO GET MORE MILK. FEED CHECKBOARD DAIRY 16%. LOWERS YOUR COST OF PRODUCTION, TOO.

If some of the fathers of these exposed girls would teach for a day or two, a change would be brought about quickly. With daddy in front of the classroom, he would soon find that he would need to cast his eyes to the ceiling or to the floor in order to teach. If he looked directly at the students, he would be exposed to vast expanses of legs, knees, hosiery tops, garter belts, and girdles. Even though girls can convince their mothers that what they are wearing is pretty and fashionable, they would never pass the decency test with dear old dad.

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

Recently I received a notice from the Department of Education that the Walton-Verona Public and Private schools will receive about $1,400 under Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. This is in addition to the $6,500 we are receiving under Title I.

Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 is designed to help improve the quality of instruction in the Nation's schools by assisting them to provide instructional materials not previously available in sufficient quantity. This program recognizes that teaching and learning today depend upon effective school library materials, high quality, up-to-date textbooks, and a variety of other instructional resources.

Selection of Materials...

The selection of materials for particular schools and student bodies requires the cooperative efforts of all personnel involved, including teachers and librarians. To assure that materials requested are those most needed, project proposals or requests for materials should be submitted by the local public educational agency to the administering State agency on behalf of the children and teachers who will actually be using them, in accordance with instructions provided by the State agency.

Materials may include books, periodicals, documents, charts, maps, globes, magnetic tapes, transparencies, films or other printed and published or audio-visual materials. Excluded are equipment, materials intended for religious instruction, and materials consumed in use, or those which cannot be expected to last for more than one year.

Distribution of Materials...

Since each State must conform to its own laws pertaining to the administration of programs will vary from state to state. In some instances, the state may establish a central depository within a school district where all children and teachers may check out materials. In other cases, materials may be deposited and loaned from a centralized school library which services one or more schools.

All materials under the program will belong to a public agency and will be loaned to teachers and children—not given away. When a State is legally unable to provide materials for children and teachers in non-public schools, the Commissioner of Education will make the same materials as are used in the public schools available to them and pay the costs out of the State's allotment.

Easter Cantata at Christian Church

The Junior Choir of the Walton Christian Church will present an Easter Cantata "Let Us Follow Him" by Mary Caldwell, Sunday evening, April 10 at 7:45 p. m. Leola Mains will have the instrumental parts in the cantata on the flute.

This climaxes the Easter services for Holy Week at the Christian Church. The public is invited to come hear the voices of these fifteen girls of the Junior Choir as they tell this beautiful story in song.

For the morning services at the Christian Church, Easter, the choir will sing Landamus Te (We Praise Thee), an Easter antiphon with the junior and senior choirs and Bernie Spencer as trumpet player.

About 350,000 U. S. homes are hit by fire each year, and over 6,000 persons die in these fires.

The alfalfa weevil, always a tough customer in "normal weather" years, has an unexpected assist this season from Old Man Weather.

A late fall, relatively mild early winter, and warm temperatures this week and last, favored earlier development of the pest this season, says Dr. R. L. Miller, University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service entomologist.

This puts a load on farmers who want to protect that valuable first-cutting of alfalfa from the weevil. It's a complicated situation: spray or don't spray and full of factors. Here's what Dr. Miller says: (1) "We are about two weeks ahead of normal in warm temperatures now. Tie this to the late fall and mild, early winter, and the fact the alfalfa weevil adults laid more eggs than normal. Now these eggs are beginning to hatch. Adults of the pests also are laying eggs now which will be troublesome later this spring." (2) Effect: Potential destruction of the first cutting for farms laying south of Lexington. If the weather doesn't cool up, the pests can seriously damage alfalfa fields before April, Dr. Miller notes. (The weevil is always the toughest on that valuable, succulent, first cutting.)

What to do: (1) Check all alfalfa fields now. If there is feeding damage on 50 percent of the plant (stems and veins only left of the leaves), you may need to spray. (Some fields were late fall- and winter grazed, which would have reduced the weevil-egg population, however.)

Don't spray unless absolutely necessary. You might have to make two more sprayings before the first cutting in April, Dr. Miller points out. However, if fields show 50 percent damage, a spray is recommended.

Hope that the weather cools up from now on. If temperatures drop to 40 degrees F or below, it will retard the weevil development, slow up feeding damage, and delay spraying time.

If you do spray, use any one of the recommended insecticides in 12 to 15 gallons of water an acre. Use a boom-type sprayer. Recommended insecticides are Alfax, Methoxychlor, and Malathion plus Guthion and Parathion.

If Guthion or Parathion are used, have a trained, custom operator apply them. These two materials are very toxic. Guthion may be used only once on each cutting of alfalfa and there is a 21-day waiting period. With Parathion, there is a 15-day waiting period after spraying before the alfalfa can be grazed or cut for forage.

If either Methoxychlor or Alfax are used, there is a 7-day waiting period before grazing or cutting for forage for both materials. Growers are told not to use Malathion if the temperature is below 60 degrees F. The material will not be effective, Dr. Miller emphasized. Regardless of material used—observe application and safety precautions carefully.

MANY ECONOMIC SUGGESTIONS FUTILE

Before we tell a man to do something we should first make sure that he is physically and economically able to do it. If someone is drowning, what is the sense of urging a young man who cannot swim to jump in and save him?

Many economic suggestions are equally futile. A large part of the advice offered to businessmen can be classified as nonsense.

The assumption of a considerable part of the population seems to be that companies could, if they wished, establish a four-hour day, and a minimum daily wage of $20, and that landlords could reduce rents to a maximum of $80 a month for a family of five.

When the businessman pleads that he is powerless to accomplish any of these wonders, he is accused of lacking a humanitarian ideal, just as the young man who could not swim might be called a coward.

The point is that the best of us are limited in the realization of our dreams by the actual conditions of our environment. We can do no more than general conditions will allow us to do. In economics, the penalty of undue idealism is bankruptcy. Those who cannot balance their books are eliminated.

This is not a plea for an end of criticism or for an armistice in the battle to improve standards. Only by reaching for a height we cannot balance their books are our standards at all. As a result of criticism and the will to improve, the working day has been shortened, real wages have been increased, and adulteration, rebating, shortweight and other sharp practices have been almost eliminated. Much remains to be done, but it can't all be done this year, or even in this generation.

Read the classified sections.

CATTLE GAIN 3.4 LBS. PER DAY

We were informed this week that the cattle at the Cincinnati Union Stockyards demonstration gained 3.4 lbs. per head per day during the first 14 days on feed. One individual steer gained 6.4 lbs. per day. The cattle required only 5.4 lbs. of Purina Cattle Starter to put on a pound of gain. Cost, per pound of gain was 16.8 cents. Average daily consumption was 18.6 pounds of feed per head. Visit this important cattle demonstration. See how you can feed cattle on your farm with very little investment in equipment, land and labor. No hay, pasture or silage needed. No daily feeding chores. Cattle eat from a self-feeder. Let us discuss this opportunity with you.

BE READY FOR BETTER MILK PRICES

A recent article in the Cincinnati Enquirer stated that this country may be facing a milk shortage this fall and late summer. Better milk prices will be needed. Will your cows be able to produce at their breed in capacity? Will they be producing you milk at the lowest possible cost and still be at peak production? One sure way to add needed body condition to your cows is to top feed Purina Golden Bulky or mix it in your ration. Purina Golden Bulky is a sweet-tasting, nutritious, high vitamin A supplement. New Golden Bulky also helps put solid body condition, not fat, on dry cows and heifers when mixed with your grain. Purina Golden Bulky is also a good corn stretcher since there are six bushels in 100 pounds. See us today for Purina Golden Bulky.

TREAT DRY COWS FOR MASTITIS

New Purina Mastitis Control is an excellent tool for the prevention of mastitis in dry cows. Before turning the cow dry, place 10 cc of Purina Mastitis Control in each quarter. Costs only 32 cents per treatment. Purina Mastitis Control is also an excellent treatment when milking cows come down with mastitis. Contains neomycin, penicillin, and streptomycin as well as a special agent to reduce inflammation, redness, swelling, heat, pain and harmful scarring which will reduce the milk production capacity for the lifetime of the cow. All this for only 32 cents per treatment.

CORN RUNNING LOW?

We sure would like to tell you about NEW Purina Checkerboard Dairy 16%. New Checkerboard Dairy 16% Pellet Dairy Ration is now lower in fiber and higher in energy. We call it ENF, extra nutrition per ton. By reducing the fiber level and firmness of the pellet which reduced moisture by 2%, Purina Research was able to give you 70 lbs. of extra nutrition per ton without any additional cost to you. This is an all grain ration that can provide your cows with proper, low cost nutrition to produce more milk. Check with our special bulk price. Be surprised... we were.

Victory View

Lesson for April 10, 1966

Background Scripture: 1 Corinthians 15; Ephesians 1:3-23; Revelation 7:9-17
Devotional Reading: Ephesians 1:15-23

Within the lifetime of living men it could be truly said that Christianity was growing faster than any other religion in the world. This was true, but not now. Other religions are creeping up on us. Look at Japan for example. In other words, the non-Christians outnumber the Christians 200 to one.

Dr. Foreman Suppose that for each pair of Christian parents now living, there will be four Japanese in the next generation. Then 30 or 40 years from now there will be, or can be, twice as many Christian Japanese as there are today. But by that time, there will be twice as many non-Christian Japanese as today. If then Christians outnumber the Christians now 200 to 1, how much will they outnumber them in the next generation, assuming they all have about the same number of children?

Population explosion

All over the world the population explosion works against the Christians. We are presently becoming more numerous, but be sure, but no as fast as our rival religions. It is not only the population growth that is bringing that about. Christianity was enjoying a great prestige in the days when the "Christian" nations were running the world. Now with the decline of colonialism the prestige of western religion has likewise declined. Not only so, but here where our religion has more prestige and influence than ever, the world is very stubborn in its resistance to the ideals and the life of the church. The church stands for God; the contemporary world lives as if God were dead. The church honors the home; the world tears it down. The church preaches chastity and calls unchastity sin; the world (to judge by the movies) finds unchastity merely funny. And so it goes. The church is low-rated so much that even some of her leaders are beginning to call this the post-Christian era. Even the Christian with an optimistic faith must admit that this is for the church a time of weakness and defeat.

Whose victory?

But there is no need to be a pessimist. The Bible's view of the church is a victory view. When we speak of the victory or defeat of the church, what do we really mean? It is not the church alone whose future concerns us. This is the church of Christ. Every true church is his, every defeat and every victory are his also. The church cannot win unless he wins. That would be as absurd as for an army to win while their general was defeated. And if he wins, the church will win. For in spite of every discouragement and setback we persist in believing that Christ will win over all his and our enemies. It is Easter, and one meaning of the Resurrection is a sign and pledge that the God who conquered death, the "man of God's own choosing" whom death could not hold, will in time conquer all other forms of evil, all that is hostile to God.

What Will victory be?

Victory we hope for, but not triumphalism. Triumphalism means the victory of one party over another. A world in which some one denomination had wiped out all the others, so that there would be one Established Church, would be triumphalism, and this is not promised us in Scripture. But if triumphalism is not the shape of Christ's victory, what is? The victory of God when complete will be what and where it is now: in the hearts of men. Christ promised that if he were lifted up he would "draw all men" to himself. No man can be forced to follow Christ. The kingdom of heaven for which we pray will not come by force or bargaining. It comes only where men freely give their heart to the Son of God.

Since this is the season for increased use of eggs, it's a good time to discuss some of the questions about eggs, and egg cookery.

Egg products are among those that will support the growth of harmful bacteria, when conditions permit. This means it is important to handle them properly: Cook adequately, serve promptly, and cool and refrigerate products which must be held. Dessert custards and fillings, for instance, should be refrigerated and held cold for serving. Good sanitation practices go along with top quality food, as we frequently hear.

Do you hard-cook eggs and then have trouble peeling them? Try these ideas: Use eggs you know are 23 days old—shells tend to come off more easily; prick the large end of the egg with a sharp point before cooking—this seems to loosen the shell a bit; simmer or steam the eggs—don't BOIL them; chill them quickly after cooking, in running cold water or ice water; "crackle" the shell all over before trying to remove it.

Do you have a problem making deviled eggs because the yolks are badly off-center? Eggs should be stored upright, with the large end up—this helps keep the yolk in the center of the egg. As the egg ages, and the white becomes watery, the yolk will have little support and will tend to fall in the direction the egg is placed.

Have you had scrambled eggs turn an unpalatable green before they are served? It's probably because you held them 20 or 30 minutes before serving. The stored heat in the hardening, drying egg mixture helps to create a chemical change resulting in the green color. The type of utensil used is not the question—this happens in crockery, glass or metal. The best way to avoid the problem is to cook the eggs and serve them immediately.

Clean windows and mirrors give the house a clean, sparkling look. With the worst of winter weather finished, you'll probably want to prepare for spring by cleaning your windows and mirrors.

Before cleaning the window panes, first wash the window frame. If the window is very dirty, wipe it with moistened newspaper before washing it. Wash the windows or mirrors with a cellulose sponge, chamalo or a soft brush dipped in clean, warm water or in a cleaning solution. Soap should never be used on windows but "sopless" cleaners can be used. You'll get better results if you add a cleaning aid to the water.

Several cleaning solutions that do a good job on windows and mirrors are: For soiled windows, use 4 tablespoons ammonia to one quart of warm water. On very dirty windows, use 4 tablespoons of washing soda to 2 quarts warm water. For tabletops white vinegar in 2 quarts of warm water will remove "glue" left by the tree leaves, while 4 tablespoons of kerosene in 2 quarts warm water will remove rust left by screens. In cold water, you can use 4 tablespoons alcohol to one quart warm water to clean windows.

STORING CLOTHES

Before putting away clothes in a storage closet or chest, it's a good idea to spray the interior with a good insect repellent, making sure it reaches all cracks and corners. UK Extension clothing specialists recommend.

In deaths resulting from fires, 33% are children.

Easter AND CHICKS

Naturally, you've wondered! Easter is a Christian festival, and chicks are barnyard fowl. How did they get together?

And eggs, for that matter—how do they fit in?

And the lively bunny... what made him part of it all?

These are symbols of LIFE. And life is the theme of Easter.

Christ was dead! Christ lives! His resurrection promises life to men.

We would not expect a fact of such import to be remembered only in history. It has touched farm and home, community, nation, family...

It affects our lives—the humble and the mighty. Easter is God's call to worship and faith. A time to re-dedicate your life!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—How may I get information about getting my GI insurance back in force? I am a veteran of World War II and served in the Navy. I let my insurance drop up on my discharge in 1946.

A—To be eligible for the new GI insurance being sold by the Veterans Administration until May 2, 1966, a veteran must have been eligible to have purchased National Service Life Insurance, have a service-connected disability or have a non-service disability so severe that he cannot purchase private insurance. You should contact the nearest VA office.

Q—I am a veteran of World War I. I am 65 and I am retiring in April of this year. Could you please tell me if I am entitled to non-service-connected benefits and how I go about filing for such benefits.

A—There is no benefit based on age alone. Veterans of World War I, WW II or the Korean Conflict, discharged under other than dishonorable conditions after 90 or more days of service, or because of a service-connected disability, who are permanently and totally disabled from reasons not traceable to service and are unable to perform a gainful occupation may be entitled to non-service-connected pension if their income without dependents is under $1800 or (with dependents) under $3000. See your nearest VA office.

Q—My husband tried to enlist in the Navy and was turned down because of his health. He then enlisted in the Merchant Marine. He died in 1939 and I would like to know why I am not entitled to a pension from the Veteran's Administration?

A—Members of the Merchant Marine are not veterans. They are not eligible to the various benefits in the VA program.

Education

Report of School Facilities Survey and Recommendations for Long-Range Educational Plan for the Walton-Verona Independent School District...

It is the purpose of this report to outline the results of a study made of the educational program and school facilities of the Walton-Verona Independent School District by an inter-divisional survey team of four members representing the Division of Instructional Services, Division of Buildings and Grounds, and Division of Transportation Services of the Kentucky State Department of Education. The members of the team were: William T. McGraw and Sam B. Taylor, Division of Instructional Services; Edwin Ward, Division of Buildings and Grounds, and Jas. W. Read, Division of Transportation Services.

The team being under assignment to study the school facilities and program in relation to improving the educational opportunities met with the Superintendent of Walton-Verona School District, January 18, 1966, the day set for the visit. After discussing with him the problems involved, it proceeded to examine the conditions of the schools in cooperation with him and other members of the school staff. A visit was made to all the school centers used for the school program. A study of the pupil population trends was made. An evaluation and appraisal was made of the facilities of each school center, including an inventory of the classrooms presently in use. Finally, a study was made of the pupil transportation services, in order to determine the needs in this area. Since Walton-Verona is one of the small independent school districts of the state, some thought was given to a merger with Boone County in order that a better opportunity can be provided and also to give some relief to the county school districts whose pupil population is increasing at a rapid rate.

The information contained in this report was assembled for the purpose of forming a basis for determining the needs and for assisting in formulating the recommendations for the plan of improvement. The recommendations are found on the final pages hereof.

The Pupil Population Trends

In a study of the pupil population trends, it was evident that the pupil membership and enrollment has increased in the last ten-year period. There is indication that this growth will continue and it is anticipated that the increase in pupil census will be greatly accelerated in the future.

The following figures are included to show the pupil population trends in both the census pupils and the membership for a ten-year period at intervals of two years:

1957-58, census 583, membership 549; 1959-60, census 593, membership 531; 1961-62, census 650, membership 580; 1963-64, census 761, membership 688; 1965-66, census 846, membership 733 enrollment for second half of year.

It is seen by an examination of the figures above that the increase is represented by almost 300 pupils in the school census, and by approximately 250 pupils in the pupil membership. This increase has required an additional 10 classrooms to adequately accommodate the growth in the pupil personnel.

Since the school population shows much increase in the pupil membership and is likely to continue to increase, the team made a projection based on past and present enrollment for an advanced eight-year period.

Boone Tax Rate To Be Set In May

Boone County Sheriff Reuben Kirtley said last week that he expects to know in four weeks how much property taxes will be this year.

In spite of higher valuations he expects some Boone Counties will actually get lower tax bills.

In no case will the total bill be more than 10 percent higher than in 1965, Mr. Kirtley said.

The bills will depend on the tax rates set for the county, the school levy and the state.

All bills will be determined by the Kentucky Department of Revenue in Frankfort, based on comparison with 1965 rates, Kirtley said.

After the sheriff gets the rates, he will check with Boone County Tax Commissioner Joe Ryan on the valuation Ryan has given each piece of property. Then Mr. Kirtley will bill the taxpayers.

Although a court ruling requires full valuation of property, taxes can't go up more than 10 percent. This was assured by the state legislature in a law passed to prevent skyrocketing taxes.

The Staffordsburg Homemakers met on Tuesday at the Methodist Church basement. A nice meeting was attended by 20 members and some ten visitors, and also Mrs. Paprotta, our Home Demonstration Agent. After a festive dinner, including cream pie, was enjoyed, we had a "white elephant" sale with Mrs. Bluch Rich as auctioneer and all sorts of things to sell. It netted the club $49.00 and a bushel of fun.

Our next meeting will be on May 3 at the home of Mrs. Inez Beall on Amsterdam Road, Erlanger.

It seems as though all activity has folded with the cool weather.

Ernest Ryle, writer for Taylor Mill, is home from the hospital but is not at all well. They don't seem to know what his trouble is as yet, but he is terribly nervous and a sick man, so we will have to do without his witty sayings for a while and we all hope he will soon be feeling better.

Social Security Notes

Do you receive tips in your line of work? If so, the 1965 Social Security Amendments may mean higher benefits for you and your family, according to a statement released today by James Myers, Field Representative in Boone County.

Noting that social security benefits are based on a worker's average earnings under the law and that cash tips amounting to $20 or more in any month will be reportable and taxable for social security purposes beginning in January 1966, Mr. Myers offered the following example of what tips can mean to those affected.

A worker whose wages average $150 a month would normally qualify for a retirement or disability benefit of $78.20. If in addition to wages, however, the same worker earned $150 every month in tips, the $78.20 retirement or disability benefit amount would be increased to $112.40.

What should you, the worker, do to qualify for this added protection? First, keep a record of all cash tips received in the course of your work with any one employer, beginning with the month of January, 1966. Second, if such tips total $20 or more in any month, furnish your employer a written report on or before the 10th day of the following month showing the amount actually received.

Your employer in turn will collect the social security tax due on your tips from any wages he owes you or from funds you turn over to him for that purpose. He will report the information you have given him on his regular quarterly wage report to the Internal Revenue Service but is not required to pay an employer's share of the Social Security tax to match your tax contribution on the amount of tips reported.

For more information on tips as wages under social security, ask your District Office for a free copy of Leaflet OASI-3965-6. The office is located at 309 Garrard St., Covington, 581-6710.

HOW FALLOUT shelters would protect occupants after nuclear attack is shown in this drawing of a modern American home. Fallout—mostly tiny particles of matter charged with radioactivity—is carried downwind from a nuclear blast, and settles on the roof and grounds. From these fallout particles, radiation rays (arrow-like figures) shoot out which can penetrate most substances. Enough rays can cause radiation sickness to people without their defense offices, or from Box Shelter, OGDH, realizing it, since radiation cannot be detected by the senses. But the materials of a fallout shelter are dense enough to absorb most radiation and prevent it from reaching the occupants. The Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization has declared December 7 as National Civil Defense Day to remind Americans that millions might be saved after a nuclear attack by such relatively simple precautions. A booklet on building fallout shelters is available through civil defense offices, or from Box Shelter, OGDH, Battle Creek, Michigan.

Feeder Calf Sale

At Sparta, Oct. 3

The Northern Kentucky Feeder Calf Sales Association has scheduled their Feeder Calf Sale on October 3rd at the Sparta Stockyard. The Sparta sale is one of 34 organized feeder calf sales in Kentucky. The average price received by local beef producers at Sparta in 1965 was $22.40 per cwt. Beckham Shields, President of the Northern Kentucky Sales, said that primary advantages for organized feeder sales are:

Cattle are graded and sold in uniform lots in large enough numbers to attract buyers. The smaller producer can combine his feeders with other cattle of the same grade and weight to make a large enough pen lot to increase his selling power. It increases competitive bidding by buyers. The buyer is assured of a quality product. The producer can more easily determine what type of cattle is in demand.

Participating counties have been Boone, Carroll, Gallatin, Grant, Kenton and Owen. Further information on the sale may be had from your County Extension Agent.

Put a dollar in fertilizer and you could get a return crop of from three to five dollars for each fertilizer dollar.

Such a return depends on proper use of fertilizer, and proper use of fertilizer in turn depends on the "soil inventory," that is, on a soil test. If the nutrients which plants definitely need are applied, good returns can be expected. But the proper nutrient determination is most important. Ground limestone may increase production in one field but might not be needed in another. Fields may vary in types of fertilizer needed, too.

A checklist on soil sampling:
1. Take soil samples properly... check our Extension office for an instruction leaflet on this. 2. Give the soil lab that tests your soil all the information on past fertilization and cropping history you can... this will help you get a more accurate recommendation. 3. Give information available on capabilities and limitation of the soil, as physical properties of soil influence response to fertilizer. 4. Buy only the plant nutrients your soil needs. A good soil test is the best way to determine these fertilizer needs.

If you're considering buying an irrigation system for the 1966 tobacco crop, give it serious thought first. These are some reasons:
1. Tobacco is a dry weather crop... it will take short dry periods without serious yield or quality losses... and too much water can harm the crop... an expensive system therefore might pay returns only once every few years... in general, irrigation has not increased yields in years of normal rainfall. 2. Water needs are high... it takes about 30,000 gallons of water to put down an acre-inch (an inch of water over the surface of one acre)... this means you'll have to start storing water now for this summer. 3. Drought conditions occur only every few years... the irrigation system is a tool to provide a steady level of output, and a protection against crop failure in the drought years. 4. Tobacco crops' water needs are most critical at a few days after setting out, at mid-July when crops are getting main growth, and at topping and suckering time. 5. Make an irrigation system fit your farm... not too large, not too small... for instance, head pressure depends on amount of line used and size of the motor. 6. Key a system to use on other crops of the farm.

Growing services of the Kentucky Department of Child Welfare call for growing numbers of social workers. Liberal arts majors are being recruited for the in-service training programs.

Why is it that the office help (including me) so often get sick at noon Friday and at sunrise on Monday?

The "Big Cheese" is Natural Cheddar—whether you call it cheddar, American or American cheddar, this natural favorite represents about 90 percent of all the cheese consumed in the United States. There are more than 400 cheeses, although it's doubtful if anyone has ever tasted all the known kinds. They have been classified in a number of ways—according to outstanding characteristics, texture, flavor or taste, and type of milk used.

Classification may be discussed as follows: Very hard cheese with Parmesan, Romano and Sapsago as examples; hard cheese which are represented by American, Cheddar, Edam and Provolone; semi-soft cheeses (sometimes called semi-hard) represented by Brick, Blue, Munster, Roquefort, Limburger, Port du Salut and Gouda; soft cheeses are those such as Bel Paese, Brie, Camembert, Cottage, Cream, Liederkranz and Neufchatel (some of which are foil wrapped).

When cheeses are classed according to flavor or taste they fall into categories of mild, sharp and mold-flavored—the mild flavored cheeses are Cream, Cheddar, and Munster; sharp are aged Cheddar, Romano, Monterey Jack, and mold-flavored are Roquefort, Gorgonzola and Blue.

Cow's milk is used for the bulk of cheese manufactured in this country, but may receive a variety of treatments. For example, American cheese is made of whole milk, while Cheddar may be made with either whole or partially defatted milk. Some Norwegian cheese, strong in flavor, golden brown in color, is made of defatted, soured cow's milk. Port du Salut, made in Monasteries in France and Canada, uses whole, slightly acid cow's milk. Sapsago, made in Switzerland, is a hard green cheese and flavored with clover leaves, is made of defatted soured cow's milk plus buttermilk and whey (sapsago must be grated before using).

The milk of other animals is used in the manufacture of the foreign or imported cheeses. One of the Norwegian cheeses, Gjetost, very dark brown in color with a sweet flavor, is made of whole goat's milk. Ewe's milk is used in France for making Roquefort.

In American diets, cheeses find many useful uses, and many cheeses are packaged for ease in use. As an aid for use in souffles, fondues and casseroles cheeses may be packaged shredded or diced and some are premeasured. They are often sliced for sandwich use, or in individual wedges ready to serve with fruit and other desserts.

Let's be reasonable in everything. We can't expect the Lord to answer all our prayers.

"It's always Springtime, indoors," ...say Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Steinkamp

Their Electric Heat Pump extracts heat from the cold, outside air and pumps it indoors . . . during the winter months.

Then, in summer, this amazing unit extracts the heavy, moist heat inside the Steinkamp's home and moves it outdoors.

Using only electricity and air, the Heat Pump provides clean, pollen-free, comfort-conditioned air with just the right humidity. And, continuous air circulation assures that it will always be springtime fresh, indoors.

Operating cost is a surprisingly low $11.75 a month, averaged over a year, for the Steinkamp's 1712 sq. ft. home.

An Electric Heat Pump can make it springtime, indoors, the year 'round, for you too. FREE BROCHURE HAS DETAILS.

Secession

Lesson for April 17, 1966

Background Scripture: 1 Kings 11:1 through 12:24; 11:1-12:24; Devotional Reading: Psalm 1.

"The mortality among nations is 100 %," said a long-time professor of history. This may be only a fancy way of saying that no nation lasts forever. If so, this does not sound like news, does it? Don't we all know this without needing a professor to tell us? Perhaps we do need to be told this, for it is hard for anyone to think of the final death of his own nation. Rome died; Greece died.

Dr. Foreman Of course, we say impatiently. Yes, but do you realize that our loved America is just as mortal as Sodom? It certainly is, believe it or not. So this spring we are going to study two kingdoms in decay. Rot spread faster in one than in the other, but they both were doomed. In the course of our studies we may often have occasion to observe that the Bible is by no means silent on such themes as politics and public affairs.

Too small a share

The nation of Israel came into existence through a secession. The reader should by all means look up the story in the "background Scripture" where it is told more at length. King Solomon was dead. He had had a brilliant reign marked by a long peace and immense wealth. This wealth, however, was concentrated in the city of Jerusalem. The masses of the people had small share of Solomon's golden treasures. Indeed Solomon's son, Rehoboam, who would hardly have painted the picture blacker than it was, said to the people in their meeting, "My father chastised you with whips, . . . in plain language of our time, 'You took a beating.' The people had a real grievance; they demanded to know what Rehoboam was going to do about it.

Too many taxes

The common people of that time had hardly any cash money. They paid taxes by serving in labor gangs months at a time, without pay. Naturally they did not feel kindly toward a government that was such a burden to them. A people will love a government (King or President or Congress or Parliament or whatever) which they feel is helping them, especially one that helps them get rich. They feel resentment and bitterness about a government that makes them poor and keeps them so. Now the new king Rehoboam did not realize this. At any rate he knew he needed advice, so he first asked the older men (cabinet members, we should probably call them) who had been King Solomon's advisers. King Solomon had been wise enough to know that even the wisest man on earth can use good advice. These experienced men gave young Rehoboam a piece of wisdom good for all governments of all kinds even today: If you will be a servant to this people, they will be your servants forever.

Too many young men

But instead of taking this fine advice, Rehoboam made the mistake of a lifetime. He went and asked the young men of his own age who knew no more about government than he did. The bad advice given by Rehoboam's pals ("Tell these grumbler they haven't seen anything yet!" was the gist of it) spelled the nation's doom. It gave the secessionists something to secede about. Rehoboam probably died without ever knowing what had hit him. but he was really the one who lit the fuse of secession.

A NOTE OF THANKS

My dear wife died a year ago. Now there's just myself and my little daughter Janice. Don't feel sorry for us, though, because we're managing pretty well.

Last year when the blow came, I admit I went to pieces. We'd only lived in the neighborhood for a few weeks, and it's hard to say what would have happened if it hadn't been for our church. Suddenly I was surrounded by friends. The minister came at once with convincing words of comfort that helped me to face life again. His wife alerted other members and they brought meals, laundered clothing, took care of Janice, and ultimately found the wonderful elderly housekeeper we have now.

I had never given much thought to the meaning of Christian fellowship. Today I know that miracles of kindness can result when people unite in following the "perfect pattern" of self-sacrifice and unquestioning love.

DAIRYING LOOKS BRIGHTER

Last week the national support level for manufacturing milk was boosted 26 cents to $3.50 per cwt. Price supports for butter and nonfat dry milk were raised 2 cents a pound, while cheese supports were lifted 3.2 cents per pound. These new rates became effective on April 1, the beginning of the new milk marketing year. The higher supports are an effort to encourage increased milk production. The supply-demand balance for milk and milk products has tightened significantly during the past 12-18 months as indicated by the reduction in production and small price supporting purchases that the government has made. Milk prices do reflect the tighter situation for milk with producers generally receiving the highest prices for milk since the early 1950's. Milk cow numbers declined six percent last year, the largest decline in the past ten years. Heavy culling is expected this spring due to the good prices received for packer cows. Will you be able to increase production without adding additional cows?

ENT & MORE MILK PER COW

Recently, Dr. J. P. Everett, director of dairy research at the Purina Research Farm, announced that Purina Checkboard Dairy 16% now has ENT... Extra Nutrition Per Ton, up to 70 pounds more nutrition per ton than it formerly had. This was accomplished by a new formula discovery that lowered the fiber by 1.5% and a new special processing method that reduced the moisture in the all-grain pelleted ration by some 40 pounds. The lower fiber accounting for more than 30 pounds of ration. This extra nutrition can help you get more milk per cow... the answers to profitable dairying. Checkboard Dairy 16% pellets can be delivered to your farm in bulk or bag at less money than you can take grain and supplement and build a 16% all grain ration. Corn to be considered an all-grain ration must be shelled. Ear corn is 20% cob which has no feeding value except roughage. Cows get roughage from hay, silage and pasture. Let us get your cows milking at their best in ability by supplying them with Purina Checkboard Dairy 16% Pelleted Milking Ration.

"PASTURE ROTATION" SOLUTION?

Many good management-minded dairymen and brood cow operators depend upon pasture rotation as the answer to their worm problems. But, as Drs. Pickard and Meyerholz, extension veterinarians at the University of Illinois, put it, "Before a pasture can be made relatively free of parasites, it would need to be idle for about 12 months." And who has that much pasture land to spare? How much simpler to worm the whole herd with Purina Worm Kill Checkers, which destroys up to 95% or more of both mature and immature worms inside the animal. That cuts down drastically on the number of eggs because a live female roundworm can lay up to 10,000 eggs in 24 hours... whereas a dead female can't lay any eggs! Get Purina Worm Kill Checkers today.

HANDY—CONVENIENT—LABOR-SAVING

Handy... convenient... labor-saving... they're all terms used by horse owners to describe new Purina Horse Checkers. And for good reason! This new horse feed from Purina Research eliminates the work of feeding hay because the hay is built right in! All of the nutrients horses are known to require are right in the same bag. So, stop searching for hay... and quit weeding those heavy bales. Ask us for Purina Horse Checkers in the easy-to-handle 50-pound bags or bulk. If you already have plenty of hay on hand, ask us for Purina Omolene... a favorite ration for fine horses for almost half a century.

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

Anticipated Enrollment for Eight Years to 1972-73.

1957-58, Grades 1st 56, 2nd 53, 3rd 60, 4th 52, 221. 1965-66, Grades 9th 65, 10th 61, 11th 56, 12th 39. 230. 1972-73, Grades, 9th 83, 10th 81, 11th 66, 12th 50. 269.

The survey team was interested in studying the enrollment by grades mainly for the purpose of advising the school district concerning the type of instructional organization most appropriate for the district to follow. The local administration had given some thought to this point and considered a 6-2-4 plan of organization appropriate to meet its needs. This type of plan is approved by the survey team. It will serve well with the present conditions of Walton-Verona when the present facilities are taken into account. To show the pupil membership by grades, Table 3 is presented. It will be seen that the membership by grades as given in this table is for the current school year and for the projected 6-year period.

Grade 1	70	83
Grade 2	71	83
Grade 3	69	80
Grade 4	52	60
Grade 5	64	80
Grade 6	64	74
Total 1-6	395	460
Grade 7	75	87
Grade 8	53	62
Total 7-8	128	149
Grade 9	65	83
Grade 10	70	81
Grade 11	56	66
Grade 12	39	50
Total 9-12	230	269
Total 1-12	753	880

A classification of the projected enrollment for the school year 1972-73 indicates that approximately 460 pupils will be in the elementary grades 1-6, about 150 will be enrolled in the intermediate grades 7-8, and 269 pupils will be in membership in the four years of high school, grades 9-12. The classroom requirement for this number of pupils in each organization is estimated as follows:

Grades 1-6, 460 pupils, 16 rooms; Grades 7-8, 149 pupils, 6 rooms, and grades 9-12, 269, 8 rooms. Does not include shops, laboratories, music rooms, library, and other special rooms.

These anticipated enrollment figures indicated herein may be reached before the end of a 6-year period. Even when they are reached, the school district will still be a small district and to offer a broad diversified program of education will be difficult to attain for present enrollment.

Present School Facilities

Consumer Protection Unit Now Serves Kentuckians

Kentucky has become the 19th state to establish a Consumer Protection Division in the Department of Law under the Attorney General. The purpose is to help guard the public from unscrupulous and fraudulent schemes of those who prey upon the unwary.

Consumer protection involves watchfulness in many areas... against misleading advertising, fraudulent sales techniques, unconscionable collection methods, illegal interest charges, to name but a few.

The need for this Division is demonstrated by the volume of complaints received from all sections of the Commonwealth.

Merchants, business associations, industry and professional groups have joined the general public in outspoken support of the Division, and accomplishments to date have been gratifying.

The aim of this column is to keep you informed of the work of the Division in your behalf, and to keep you posted on ways to "beat the cheat."

TAYLOR MILL

Ernest J. Ryle, Reporter

Having been a pretty sick man for about three weeks and almost wore out our television set and as everyone that wants to has expressed their opinions of television I thought I would like to express my opinion of some of its aspects and influence of some of its effects on the listener. One thing that puzzles me and many others is one of the weather stations that has all the modern equipment to help them, yet at one point in their forecast they are always correcting something to sea level. Now just what does this mean and do they correct it to their own notion or is it automatic? and if it is perfect, why does it need correcting? Maybe some one can enlighten us to what this means.

Oh Inhabit is quite sick for a few days but I hear this morning the good news that he is feeling better and is counting on a visit to relatives in Wisconsin.

We also hear that another of our prominent citizens has retired and will take it easy for awhile and is counting on a trip to Germany in August, going by plane to visit a son, and I know the son and family will be very happy to see their parents, as I forgot to mention that both Mr. and Mrs. are taking the trip. One which they richly deserve and we wish them bon voyage and a happy reunion.

The Independence Baptist Church has just concluded a very successful week's revival.

A few more days like this weekend and the gardeners will be busy people as the bad weather last week had them a little restless, but now watch things hum for the next few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews of the Tower, spent the weekend with relatives down in the country. Mr. Matthews has been unable to work at his job for the past two weeks on account of a minor ailment.

CHIROPRACTIC CLEARS UP 15 YEARS OF MIGRAINE HEADACHE

To Whom It May Concern:

I suffered fifteen years with migraine headaches. The headaches started once every three months, but gradually grew worse. I went from doctor to doctor, over this fifteen-year period, taking one drug and then another. I was in and out of the hospital. I was in such misery when I had a spell that I wanted to do something drastic. In fact, at times I just didn't know what to do.

A friend, who was a chiropractic patient, recommended that I try a chiropractor for my condition.

The day I went to my chiropractor I had a very bad headache. He made x-rays and an examination, and gave me an adjustment. Immediately I began to get relief and I was feeling much better when I left his office. After the third adjustment my headache was completely gone. I have not had a headache since then.

I am so thankful that my friend told me about chiropractic. I just wish I hadn't suffered all these years before finding out about chiropractic.

Please don't wait as long as I did. See your chiropractor today!

CONDITION COWS NOW

One sure way to keep body condition on cows after they have been on pasture for several months is to start feeding them Purina Golden Bulky. Golden Bulky has the vitamins, minerals and other nutrition needed to maintain body condition, even in heavy milk production. Purina Golden Bulky can be mixed into your ration or top fed over your regular milking ration. Since there are six bushels of Golden Bulky in every 100 pounds, this product can stretch your corn supply. Get more milk this spring...feed Purina Golden Bulky.

APRIL 28—NEXT WEIGHING

We certainly would like to invite everyone to attend the next weighing of 40 head of steers that are on demonstration at the Cincinnati Union Stockyards. The cattle will be weighed individually, starting at 1:00 p. m., Thursday, April 28th. The cattle gained 3.4 lbs. per head per day during the 14-day starting period. They required only 5.4 lbs. of Purina Cattle Starters to put on a pound of gain. Watch this demonstration. It could be the answer to more income on your farm.

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN
State Religion
Lesson for April 24, 1966

Background Scripture: 1 Kings 12:25 through 14:20, Devotional Reading: Proverbs 21:1-9.

State religions are older than the Pharaohs. Wherever in the world you find a particular religion or denomination supported and protected by the state to the exclusion of all others, there is a state religion. Perhaps a state religion is better than none, but this is an arguable point. One thing is sure, the founding fathers of America had seen state churches in action, and they were determined that this kind of religion should never take root in America's free soil.

Even if the founding fathers had never seen state religion in practice, they could have read their Old Testament and learned much by its light. State religion is dangerous because it depends for its success on the character of the man who happens to be the big boss or dictator at the time. Solomon was head of his church as well as of his nation. The same can be said of David, who appointed some of his sons to be priests (not being Levites) they were not eligible for church office. At any rate, the Jewish people of those times were long used to having the kind of religious observances and worship which the king prescribed. So when a bad king came along, Jeroboam, the masses of the people in Israel followed him without asking questions. If Jeroboam sold bull calves were quite all right as objects of worship, then that was all they needed to know. State religions tend to run down hill whenever the government gets into the hands of mean or malicious men. Another reason why state religion is dangerous at worst and low-grade at best is that when religion comes under the control of government it is managed like any other department of the state with the result that religion becomes a branch of politics.

Disaster in Israel

How did religion fare when it got into the hands of that enterprising young organizer, Jeroboam? After that silly speech by Rehoboam, there was a great uprising among the Israelites and a major secession. Rehoboam found himself only barely holding on to two tribes, while Jeroboam had in his tight grasp all the rest of the nation. He set out to make new centers of worship, and new methods and forms of worship. Disgusting as it seems to us, he actually told the people that the gold-plated calves in the new holy cities of Bethel and Shechem were the gods who had brought their ancestors out of Egypt.

Made Israel to sin

There were good traits in Jeroboam, as the story shows. But his good points were scrubbed out by the bad. Always afterwards, calf-worship would remind people of Jeroboam. The tag that got attached to his name was "who made Israel to sin." He did not force Israel to like the hooves of the gilded calves; he just set the example. Our ancestors used to think it would be one of the joys of the redeemed saints to visit the brink of hell and see there the torture of poor lost souls. More sensitive souls would find the sight intolerable, for one might readily picture a lost soul crying out to the sightseer, "You should be here! You were the first who made me sin! Could one endure it, even in heaven, if one knew what every one else knew? This is a man who encouraged his brother in sin!"

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I receive monthly compensation payments from VA for a service-connected injury. A portion of my payment is for my son who becomes 18 years of age next month. If he remains in school after 18, will I continue to draw this extra income for him?

A—As long as your child remains unmarried and in school, except for normal summer vacation periods, you will continue to receive an extra allowance for him until he is 23 years old. Payment of this extra allowance would cease, however, in the event your son completes his education, drops out of school, or marries before reaching the age of 23.

Q—Do veterans need to attain age 65 before they are eligible for pension from the VA?

A—A veteran of wartime service may be eligible for pension at any age if he can prove permanent disability and unemployment, subject to income limitations.

Q—My husband is a veteran of World War II and he has a service-connected disability of 100% . . . what benefits does he have when one of his family needs hospitalization?

A—The Veterans Administration does not provide hospitalization for the dependents of veterans.

Get after the eastern tent caterpillar now with a spray. The pest's larva (worm stage) are much easier to kill now than they will be a month from now.

The caterpillar is familiar to Boone County. It builds a large silken web in trees. It can be very damaging to host trees. Wild cherry and apple trees are the favorite living quarters.

Use one of the following: DDT, Sevin, or Methoxychlor. Each of these is the 50 percent wettable powder. Mix two tablespoons in one gallon of water. If Malathion is preferred, use the 25 percent wettable powder at two tablespoons per gallon of water.

If liquid formulations of these insecticides are used, check the label carefully for mixing rates. Observe safety precautions when mixing or spraying.

All the recommended varieties of alfalfa and a large number of the other varieties being tested by the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station are performing "satisfactorily."

Dr. William Stroube, agronomist, says that continued tests of the recommended varieties and a large number of commercial strains show that with proper management they are about equal in usefulness (yield) under Kentucky conditions.

The tests have shown that management itself is an important as selection of variety. This means that picking a good variety isn't the complete answer; if this variety isn't given proper management, it will not yield according to expectations.

Recommended varieties are Atlantic, Ranger, Buffalo, Narragansett, Vernal, DuPuis and Williamsburg. Yields generally are about 3.5 tons of dry matter an acre, or roughly, 6 tons of hay.

But that management factor is a large one, Dr. Stroube emphasized. Stick with certified seed of the proper varieties and handle the crop properly as to planting rates, dates, fertilizers, etc.

94.3% of the public school teachers and administrators in Kentucky have a bachelor's degree or higher.

Strange how a landscape sets the imagination to work. Right now, looking at this scene, I can imagine all sorts of things.

Winged steeds riding to heavy music . . . pioneers in the wilderness . . . castles on the cliffs . . . boating at high speeds.

Look at the magic that enables the lake to mirror the rocky mountain peak and the heavens! The vastness and stillness of the scene sets my mind to wondering about time and space and things I will never understand.

But in standing here and wondering so, I feel like I've been near God.

There is a place where I can find Him always—in Church. Will you come with me?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake; (2) For the sake of his children; (3) For the sake of his community and nation; (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Making good meringue has long been a problem, even to experienced cooks and pie makers. Meringue too often is soft and fluffy as a cloud when the pie goes in the oven, yet quite different when it reaches the dinner table.

Familiar troubles with meringue include shrinkage, "weeping" or wateriness underneath, stickiness that makes cutting difficult, toughness, or "beading", that is, small moist droplets over the surface.

Recent meringue-making studies reported by the New York State Experiment Station may be of help to you in making better meringues. Here are some of the findings.

Three secrets to making fine-quality meringue were revealed by the tests. First, whip egg whites and sugar to just the right stiffness. Second, place the meringue on a hot filling. And third, bake it at 425 degrees for 4 to 4½ minutes.

The right amount of whipping is important for tender, moist meringue that's able to hold its high fluffiness. Best results come from the following method. Have the whites at room temperature. Beat them until the foam is relatively fine and foams rounded peaks when the beater is lifted out. Then add sugar gradually—2 tablespoons for each white—and continue beating until the meringue is stiff but not dry.

Placing the meringue on a hot rather than a cold filling is also important. Meringues baked on hot fillings cook more evenly and are less likely to "weep" than those baked on a cold pie.

The 425 degree temperature and the 4 to 4½ minute baking time is best for several reasons. It gives more protection against leakage than baking at a lower heat for a longer time. This temperature and baking time also helps prevent "beading", which results from cooking too long causing the egg whites to overcoagulate.

In addition, the temperature of 425 degrees is best for tenderness and for preventing stickiness and shrinkage. And, in 4 to 4½ mins, this temperature gives a golden brown glint over the top of the meringue.

The Department of Public Safety recorded 43,700 boats registered in 1965.

A Look At EducationBy

Present School Facilities

Verona Elementary: This is a six classroom building constructed of brick which was built in 1914. It is located on a 2-acre site. For school construction dating back to 1914, this building is fairly well-preserved. It is well-maintained, but the school site is much too small.

1. Six regular classrooms, standard.
2. One small library, 10x22 feet.
3. One assembly room, 36x48 ft., also used for music.
4. Cafeteria and kitchen are fairly adequate.
5. One office space.
6. Two rest rooms.
7. Heater-boiler room, coal furnace.
8. Three storage spaces.
9. Sewage controlled by septic tank and water is municipally supplied.
10. General storage, 3 rooms.

The present 12-grade plant at Walton does not contain enough classroom space to house the elementary and intermediate grades according to the projected enrollment.

Pupil Transportation Services

Pupils now attending Walton-Verona Independent Schools are served by five district-owned buses. The buses that were observed seemed generally in good condition. Three of them did have the old type fire extinguishers. These transport approximately 455 pupils daily.

Bids are taken on gasoline, oil, tires and parts. Some of this material is stored in the basement of the school building.

One of the drivers does minor repairs to the buses and changes the oil and tires, etc. They have a one-bay garage on the high school grounds, but at present, it is being used for a music room. If this building could be used for a garage, it would save money and provide a much better maintenance program. At present, the mechanic has to work outside when making minor repairs of any kind to the buses.

Recommendations

Prior to carrying out a building program, the Walton-Verona Board of Education and the Boone County Board of Education should give serious consideration to merger. If this cannot be accomplished, the Walton-Verona Board should then give consideration to the following recommendations:

1. Elementary School: Convert the present building into serving a 12-grade program to a separate elementary school for grades 1-4. It is anticipated that approximately 460 pupils will be in membership in these grades in a few years. The building, containing 17 classrooms will be adequate to accommodate the number of pupils. The building at Verona, being more than 50 years of age, should be abandoned as soon as possible.
2. Walton High School: It is recommended that a new high school be constructed on a new site to serve the high school grades. Also, it is recommended that additional facilities be planned at this new high school in a semi-separate situation on a separate wing for the seventh and eighth grade pupils. The planning should provide for a projected enrollment of nearly 420 pupils in grades 7-12.

Two calves, No. 837 and No. 660, placed first and second in their group, and two others, No. 659 and No. 660, placed second and third. Mr. Shropshire has been breeder of the Charolais breed for a number of years. Congratulations!

Fiscal Court Adopts
National Bldg. Code

The Boone County Fiscal Court at a meeting in Burlington, last week, adopted the National Building Code as applicable to all county residential and industrial construction.

Magistrate Charles Patrick, of Hebron, moved the court adopt the code. This was seconded by Magistrate Dave Houston, of Walton. Charles M. Carpenter, Florence Magistrate, went along with his two associates and the vote was unanimous.

The new code becomes effective July 1, and will govern all areas of the county outside Florence, a third-class city, and Walton, a fifth-class city, as the code is already in effect in these areas. The court will also have jurisdiction of any sixth-class city in the county in application of the code.

Fire underwriters and professional builders in the county had pushed for passage of the code. The code insures the proper construction, thereby protecting home buyers from faulty construction. It will save them money in the long run, sponsors say. They added, it would be much easier to obtain loans from financial institutions who loan money on residential construction.

Mrs. Frank Elliott was hostess in the lovely home of her daughter, Mrs. Bill Baldwin. Home-maker knowledge radiated throughout her home furnishings.

Sharing the limelight was Mr. Loomis' wife, the former Sarah Frances Johnson, better known to her many friends as "Jo" Loomis, who is very active in the local Crippled Children's Society and the Covington Art Club. Mr. and Mrs. Loomis reside on Burdall Avenue, South Ft. Mitchell.

A Look At Education

Present School Facilities

Verona Elementary: This is a six classroom building constructed of brick which was built in 1914. It is located on a 2-acre site. For school construction dating back to 1914, this building is fairly well preserved. It is well-maintained, but the school site is much too small.

1. Six regular classrooms, standard.
2. One small library, 10x22 feet.
3. One assembly room, 36x48 ft., also used for music.
4. Cafeteria and kitchen are fairly adequate.
5. One office space.
6. Two rest rooms.
7. Heater-holler-room, coal furnace.
8. Three storage spaces.
9. Sewage controlled by septic tank and water is municipally supplied.
10. General storage, 3 rooms.

The present 12-grade plant at Walton does not contain enough classroom space to house the elementary and intermediate grades according to the projected enrollment.

Pupil Transportation Services

Pupils now attending Walton-Verona Independent Schools are served by five district-owned buses. The buses that were observed seemed generally in good condition. Three of them did have the five year engine overhaul. These buses transport approximately 455 pupils daily.

Bids are taken on gasoline, oil, tires and parts. Some of this material is stored in the basement at the high school building.

One of the drivers does minor repairs to the buses and changes the oil and tires, etc. They have a one-bay garage on the high school grounds, but at present, it is being used for a music room. If this building could be used for a garage, it would save money and provide a much better maintenance program. At present, the mechanic has to work outside when making minor repairs of any kind to the buses.

Recommendations

Prior to carrying out a building program, the Walton-Verona Board of Education and the Boone County Board of Education should give serious consideration to a separate elementary school for grades 1-6. If this cannot be accomplished, the Walton-Verona Board should then give consideration to the following recommendations:

1. Elementary School: Convert the present building now serving a 12-grade program to a separate elementary school for grades 1-6. It is anticipated that approximately 400 pupils will be in membership in these grades in a few years. The building, containing 17 classrooms will be adequate to accommodate the number of pupils. The building at Verona, being more than 50 years of age, should be abandoned as soon as possible.
2. Walton High School: It is recommended that a new high school be constructed on a new site to serve the high school grades. Also, it is recommended that additional facilities be planned at this new high school in a semi-separate situation on a separate wing for the seventh and eighth grade pupils. The planning should provide for a projected enrollment of nearly 420 pupils in grades 7-12.

SHROPSHIRE CALVES WIN

Willard Shropshire, of Route 1, Walton, had several entries of Charolais calves from his herd in the Ohio Valley Charolais Show and Sale at Tattersall's Sales Barn in Lexington, Saturday, April 16. Four calves, owned by Mr. Shropshire, made a good showing in their particular classes. Two calves, No. 357 and No. 566, placed first and second in their group, and two others, No. 659 and No. 660, placed second and third. Mr. Shropshire has been breeder of the Charolais breed for a number of years. Congratulations!

Fiscal Court Adopts National Bldg. Code

The Boone County Fiscal Court at a meeting in Burlington, last week adopted the National Building Code as applicable to county residential and industrial construction.

Magistrate Charles Patrick, of Hebron, moved the court adopt the code. This was seconded by Magistrate Dave Houston, of Walton. Charles M. Carpenter, Florence Magistrate, went along with his two associates and the vote was unanimous.

The new code becomes effective July 1, and will govern all areas of the county outside Florence, a third-class city, and Walton, a fifth-class city, as the code is already in effect in these areas. The court will also have jurisdiction of any sixth-class city in the county in application of the code.

Fire underwriters and professional builders in the county had pushed for passage of the code. The code insures the proper construction, thereby protecting home buyers from faulty construction. It will save them money in the long run, sponsors say. They added, it would be much easier to obtain loans from financial institutions who loan money on residential construction.

FEELS LIKE A DIFFERENT PERSON ... THANKS TO CHIROPRACTIC

I missed two months of school because we did not know the merits of chiropractic—what it was or what it could do.

I had been extremely nervous and I would get upset easily and sometimes over just trivial things. I could hardly sit still just riding the bus to and from school and I couldn't sit still in my classes. Many times I would have to get up and leave. Sometimes I would have dizzy spells and everything would look blurred.

I was going to a medical doctor, taking medicine for my nerves, but my nervous spells got so bad that I couldn't do anything for a couple of months. I was unable to go to school.

Gaye Eubanks

I didn't want to be around a lot of people, so I just stayed home and got a lot of rest.

My aunt had been going to a chiropractor and had gotten so much better that she insisted that I see one about my condition. And I am now glad that I did. I am feeling fine now. I feel like a different person, thanks to chiropractic.

Perhaps, if you aren't feeling well and don't know about chiropractic, why don't you investigate it? See if it can help you?

FOR CONGRESS IN THE NEW 4th DISTRICT—

* He is the only man in the race who has already proved he can do the job.

* He is a winner—as the following facts testify.

* In the Jefferson County elections of November, 1957, in his first-race for political office, he was the only Republican candidate to win one of the "court house seats," although more than 40 were at stake. This ice-breaking win has been followed by impressive victories by Snyder and other Republicans in subsequent races.

* In 1961, Judge Snyder was re-elected in the First Magisterial District.

* In 1960, the Republican Congressional candidate in the old Third District, running with Senator Cooper, was unable to win even though Senator Cooper carried the district by more than 44,000 votes.

* In 1962, Snyder defeated the same opponent, an articulate incumbent, even though his running mate at the head of the ticket carried the district by 20,000 less than Senator Cooper had done two years before.

* Gene Snyder ran 48,000 votes ahead of the ticket in the Johnson landslide of 1964—an impressive vote-getting performance in the face of insurmountable odds.

* Gene Snyder carried by more than 10,000 votes the precincts now in the new 4th Congressional District.

— PERSONAL —

Gene Snyder has a background that is both rural and urban—like the 4th District itself. He and his father still raise tobacco. He is involved in home building and real estate. He has worked in every level of grass roots party activity over a 20-year period. This experience, plus a proven record in the Congress, eminently qualify this 38-year-old man for the Congressional seat in this promising Ohio Valley Region.

M. G. (Gene) Snyder sits at his desk in Washington during the 88th Congress, in which he served with distinction.

Congressman Snyder, with finger raised, discusses problems of the Ohio Valley with Senator John Sherman Cooper on the capitol steps.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—May a veteran who has no service-connected illness enter a Veterans Administration hospital and pay for his care?
A—No. VA hospital benefits are free to veterans with service-connected disabilities and to veterans with non-service-connected disabilities who cannot afford hospital care. All other veterans are expected to use non-VA hospitals.

Q—My niece, the daughter of a 100 percent disabled war veteran, is attending college under the War Orphans Education Act. My husband is also a 100 percent disabled veteran, but the VA says our son is not eligible for this educational benefit. Why?

A—Children of living veterans who are rated 100 percent disabled because of disability incurred in service are eligible. If your husband's disability was not incurred in service, your son is not eligible.

Q—What is the difference in the terms "compensation" and "pension" payment made monthly by the VA?
A—Compensation payments are made to eligible veterans or their survivors for disability incurred in military service. Pension payments are made to veterans with total and permanent non-service-connected disability, and to eligible survivors of deceased war-time veterans whose death was not a result of military service.

Cooking utensils coated with Teflon are very popular because of their non-stick, easy-to-clean qualities. Here are a few tips to help you keep this kitchenware in top service and looking its best.

Before using it the first time, wash it with soap or detergent, rinse and dry well. Then "season" it by applying a thin film of salad oil over the surface with a paper towel.

Even though Teflon-coated pans may look perfectly free of food after using, they should be washed with soap or detergent, not just rinsed out. Use hot, soapy water and a sponge or soft cloth; then rinse and dry the pans well. Unless they are washed well after use, grease can build up and affect the non-stick qualities. They can also be put into an automatic dishwasher, but since they wash off so easily, this just uses valuable dishwasher space unnecessarily.

Never use metal scouring pads or harsh, abrasive cleaners on Teflon. They aren't needed, and they cause tiny scratches on the surface.

Certain foods and grease, and also overheating, cause staining of Teflon. Unless caused by constant overheating, or inadequate cleaning, these stains don't affect a pan's performance but they do mar its appearance. An occasional treatment with a non-abrasive cleaner—applied with a sponge or paper towel—will lighten these stains. A special stain remover for Teflon also is available. Or, use a homemade solution of two tablespoons baking soda, ½ cup bleach, and one cup water. Boil this mixture in the pan for 5-10 minutes; then wash and dry the pan. After this treatment, the surface should be wiped with salad oil before the pan is used again.

CARD OF THANKS—

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for flowers, cards, visits and prayers while in the hospital and since returning to my home. Your kindnesses will be remembered always.
—LIL YOUNG

Demonstration of Cattle Feeding at Stockyards

Farmers in the tri-state area are watching with interest a new income opportunity which is being demonstrated by the Cincinnati Union Stock Yard Company, feeding cattle in confinement with limited labor, land, equipment and without hay, silage or pasture.

The forty head of steers that are involved in the demonstration are located in a pen at the yards next to Spring Grove Avenue. All the feed the cattle receive comes from a huge self-feeder which is filled with an auger from a bulk truck. No hay to pitch, bags to lift, or silage to scoop.

Martin Giotzer, President of the Cincinnati Union Stock Yard Co., stated that the cattle, "green" steers that averaged 622 pounds, were weighed individually and put on full feed of a special new product developed by the Ralston Purina Research Department the very first day. There was no founder, no backing off from the feed, no scouring. In fact, the cattle consumed more than 20 pounds of feed per head the first week.

Ashland Oil is offering its dealers. This was one of 30 scheduled meetings for more than 3,500 Ashland Oil dealers in a 10-state area.

Man Above Law

Lesson for May 1, 1966

Background Scripture: 1 Kings 21, Deuterian Reading: Psalm 33:1-12.

The long-ago Romans who spoke in Latin have left us some neat little phrases or proverbs which say a lot in a few words. LEX REX (or) REX LEX is one of these. Literally that means LAW IS KING (or) THE KING IS THIS LAW. There you have opposite theories of government. One says: Thelaw is supreme, and even highest officers of state must recognize this. The other de-

Dr. Foreman claims that the King (or we would say, the President or the Mayor or the Boss) is the law; what he says or what he wants done, is the highest law there is.

There is a story in the Bible that brings this out.

Sulking king

When King Ahab went to bed in the daytime, turned his face to the wall and refused his meals, he was sick with a common disease: envy, complicated by covetousness. It is a disease of the mind, and none of us is immune. This was in the days before zoning laws, and so one of the king's neighbors was a property owner named Naboth who had a small piece of land which he used for a vineyard. King Ahab wanted that land for a vegetable garden. Naboth would not sell it to him. Then why didn't the King take it anyway? Because the ancient law of the land forbade it. A man, no matter how poor and obscure, had the right under the law to keep his own land and refuse to sell it, even to a king. LEX REX. The King didn't deny the supremacy of law, he didn't like the law. Bad King and bad man as he was, he recognized that the law was higher than the King.

Jezebel was a devil

The story might have ended there, if it had not been for Ahab's Queen Jezebel. The upshot of it all was that Ahab took his wife's advice. There is no sin, of course, in taking your wife's advice, provided she is a good and wise woman. Jezebel was neither. Law meant nothing to her. "Take the man's vineyard," she said. There is one way you can "legally" get him: have him executed, confiscate his vineyard. But what crime has Naboth committed? None, but one can be manufactured. So letters were forged and perjurers were hired, and Naboth was hanged for a crime he never would have thought of committing. This of course was devilish advice; but Ahab, eaten to the bone with envy, was ripe for the devil's picking. By the use of falsehood and murder he committed theft on one of his loyal neighbors and citizens. REX LEX, the King is Law. There is no law that a king may not break. That is what a king is: one whose will is law, one who "lives above" the law, beyond its reach. According to an old church tradition, that is why the devil left heaven (he is called a "fallen angel"). He was kicked out for wanting to be God.

Playing God

Be that as it may, devil or no devil, there are many human beings who follow the bad example and act as if they were superior to all laws. They try to play God, though they may not be conscious of what they are doing.

You do not have to travel 100 miles before you will meet someone... perhaps even a church member... who will argue that the Ten Commandments are out of date, that we have outgrown them. Now there are some laws that men make and men may rightly change; but there are other laws, more important laws, which men may not change. They are laws of God, and not subject to repeal. There is only one person who has the right to suspend or repeal the Ten Commandments, and that is God. And he has never revoked one of them yet.

CARD OF THANKS—

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our neighbors, friends, and relatives for their cards and flowers; Rev. Elmer Kidwell for his visits and prayers during the illness and death of our mother, Mrs. Nora Hodges. Special thanks to Mrs. Mayme Wilson and J. W. Huff for their beautiful song; to the pallbearers, and those who prepared the grave; Rev. Noble Lucas for his consoling words, and Chambers & Grubbs for their many kindnesses and efficient services. May God bless you all.

—THE FAMILY

11-17c

The Family That Prays Together...

God has their place. But no slogan can really express the value of worship for a Christian family.

That those who pray together generally stay together is simply a statistical fact derived from someone's study of divorce and delinquency records.

What is important to the millions of American families who will attend church next Sunday is the spiritual foundation upon which they have chosen to build life. They are finding a way to meet and overcome the obstacles that so often frustrate the self-sufficient. They are seeking truth that endures.

Religion is not a gimmick that automatically insures happy marriage, well-behaved children or social well-being. But the family that prays together ultimately learns from God Himself the meaning of love, understanding and sacrifice. And these affect our homes... and our world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

"The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

1. For his own sake. 2. For his children's sake. 3. For the sake of his community and nation. 4. For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BEEF-DAIRY COW RATIO

Beef cows now outnumber dairy cows 2 to 1, as compared with dairy cows outnumbering beef cows nearly 3 to 2 in 1950, the American Feed Manufacturers Assn. recently announced. Dairy cows and heifers on farms Jan. 1, were 6% lower than a year earlier. Last year was the fourth consecutive year of substantial decline. Milk production per cow has increased, however, so that total milk production last year was the same as in 1961. With more and more reports coming in on the possibility of a milk shortage and increased returns from dairying, NOW is the time to start raising herd replacements FAST and at LOW cost with Purina Nursing Chow and Purina Call Startena. Let us show you a proven helper replacement program. Ask us for a FREE copy of the New Purina Dairy Call Book.

FREE DURING APRIL

We certainly would like to remind all dairymen that during the month of April and until the supply is exhausted, we are offering a FREE MIXER with each bag of Purina Nursing Chow, either in 25-lb. size or the economical 50-lb. bag. You will like Purina Nursing Chow because it's a milk-base replacer that mixes fast and thoroughly in warm water. Nursing Chow contains a powerful antibiotic, too, to guard your calves against scours. It's improved with an energy-protein balance that in tests has grown most calves 6 pounds heavier than those fed other milk replacers. Nursing Chow is economical... 25 pounds replaces 225 pounds of whole milk that you can sell. Let Purina Nursing Chow help you start your spring calves fast. Get Nursing Chow and your free mixer... from our store today.

WORKING PREGNANT COWS

It used to be true that worming a pregnant cow could cause "drug stress" capable of causing an abortion. And even today, labels on most worming compounds warn against worming pregnant cows. But not PURINA WORM KILL CHECKERS! This wormer can be given to pregnant cows right up to calving without fear of side effects. In fact, PURINA WORM KILL CHECKERS can be fed to very young, very old and even heavily parasitized animals. Worm dairy cows during their dry period. Worm baby beef cows any time. A worm-free cow can produce up to 2,000 lbs. more milk the next lactation. Worm cattle now before the heavy pasture season. See us today for Purina Worm Kill Checkers.

ALFALFA WEEVIL TIME

No long waiting period for mowing or grazing your cows when you treat your alfalfa with the Purina Malithion Spray. Purina Malithion controls practically all other insects known to attack alfalfa. Check with us today about Purina Malithion Spray for alfalfa weevil control.

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

Last week concluded the report made by the State Department of Education Facilities Survey Team. First of all I want to say that they had to say in this report was in the form of recommendation or suggestion. The Department of Education does not want any part of their report construed as being a command to do something. In talking with me their philosophy has always been, "In so long as a community is providing a fair educational program for the children, and in so long as the community is willing to pay extra taxes for the program they have no desire to dictate to them." On the other hand they say, "If a community is not giving the children a fair opportunity in so far as educational advantages are concerned, they will press for merger or whatever is necessary to give children a decent education." Actually what they said in the report is, "It seems to us that in a few years, and this may be one or two or it may be four or five, the Walton-Verona School District will, in order to provide space and a decent program, need to consider merger with the county or build new facilities."

Now, from my personal viewpoint, this is very realistic because on the basis of approximately two classrooms of growth per year, which has been our experience for the past few years, we cannot exist in our present facilities for long. We have a number of classes now with 30 to 35 in them, and next year we will have even more classes with around 35. This is not conducive to the learning process and contributes to poor education. Really our situation is more critical now than it was 3 years ago before we moved into the addition at the Walton Building. Our crowded condition there is in the high school, and now it is in the elementary grades. This, I think, is more critical than damaging to the total education program.

I have been asked by a number of people what the reactions to the Facilities Report have been. They fall into about four categories. First, the comments have been, "We want to keep our schools independent, they mean a lot to a community in so far as business and growth are not transported as far and we think a small school has some advantages." Other comments have been, "We are getting along alright, just keep our schools like they are." A third type comment has been, "I want to keep our schools independent, but we do not need more taxes." A few have said, "We are a part of Boone County, shouldn't our schools be a part of it?" You can see the opinions differ vastly. I would be interested in knowing what your opinion is on this problem.

In the near future we will be holding some community meetings. The sole purpose of these meetings will be to determine the people's desires relative to building, merger, etc. Everyone in the school district needs to become as familiar as they possibly can with their school, its program, its strong points, its weaknesses, and other aspects of education. I say this because in my opinion, in the opinion of the Department of Education, and in the opinion of many others, the people of the Walton-Verona School District will be confronted with the question "Should my school merge with the County system or should I pay additional taxes to build a new building and keep my school system independent?" How soon this question will need to be answered is another problem, but my guess is that it will have to be faced within five years.

Oakhill Homemakers

The Oakhill Homemakers will meet May 10 at the home of Mrs. Aurelia Day at 7:30 p. m. This will be the last meeting and all members are asked to attend.

Aid Is Approved For Local Fair Premiums

More than $64,500 has been earmarked as premium money for 61 local agricultural fairs during the 1966 season, according to Wendell Butler, Kentucky Commissioner of Agriculture.

The Boone County Fair at Burlington, August 8-13, will receive $15,000.

The Kenton County Fair at Independence, August 4-6, will receive $38,000.

The Grant County Fair at Dry Ridge, July 27-30, will get $282,000 in State aid for premiums.

Under provisions of a 1962 law, fairs qualifying for State assistance may receive up to $1,500 in premium money to add to the local funds.

To qualify for State assistance, fairs must operate for at least three days, provide agricultural exhibition classes for both youths and adults, and offer standards or uniform classes of livestock judging.

Home Furnishings Meet Held at "Y"

The quality of the wood has less effect on the price of furniture than does the labor required for construction detail. These quality features are not always evident to the untrained eye. These and many other informative facts were presented in a talk by John Butworth, interior decorator with Hal L. Swenson.

Mr. Butworth reviewed the steps in making a piece of wood furniture from the tree in a forest to the finished piece. He also discussed the different types of upholstery fillings and coverings.

Butworth was speaker for the Northern Kentucky Extension Area meeting in home furnishings held at the Covington YMCA on Tuesday, April 19.

Mrs. Gertrude Paprotta, Kenton County Extension Agent, was in charge of the meeting.

Dean Caton Honored by Kenton Elementary PTA

At a recent meeting of the Kenton Elementary School PTA, Mrs. Wanda White, room representative, presented the program for "National Library Week."

The PTA surprised and honored Dean Caton, principal, by dedicating the library to him and presenting him with a large colorful portrait of himself to be hung in the library.

Mrs. White gave awards to the children and gifts to the volunteer mothers who worked in the library. There were books and posters on display for those who attended to observe.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

4-H DOG PROJECT MEETINGS START WEDNESDAY, MAY 11

Rural Mailbox Improv' Week

The Post Office Department has designated the week May 16-21, as Rural Mailbox Improvement Week.

It is at this time, according to Robert X. West, Postmaster at Independence, that each patron receiving his mail from a Rural Carrier should take a look at his mail box to determine if any of the following can be improved:

First—the post or support, is it sturdy and placed in the ground solidly; is the mail box secured properly and the flag operating easily, also, the door, will it close sufficiently to protect your mail from the weather after the carrier has served your mail box.

Second—check for rust, water leakage and proper name and number; also, the height and most of all, the approach to and from your mail box... is there sufficient gravel or other substantial material that will hold up under adverse weather conditions.

Third—can your mail box be grouped with others that are near whereby the carrier may make one stop to serve more than one box. This makes for faster and more efficient service.

Remember: Your mailbox is the front door to your home... how does it look?

4-H Enters Nuclear Age

The Kentucky 4-H Club program has entered the Nuclear Age.

Radiation—what it is and how it affects living things—is being studied by 40,000 Kentucky boys and girls this spring through a new statewide 4-H Club program.

These 4-H members are finding out, by making actual experiments some of the effects of radiation on plants. They've planted seeds that have been exposed to different levels of radiation and are now carefully comparing the growth of the various plants.

Connected with the increased emphasis on science in 4-H project work, this year's program is the first in a proposed series of 4-H radiation experiments for the Kentucky 4-Hers.

Property Tax Inspection Dates Are Coming Up

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt advises those taxpayers who did not list their property with the county tax commissioner during January and February to check on their new property tax assessments during the upcoming inspection period. The inspection will be in the county tax commissioner's office and the dates for this area are as follows:

Boone County, week beginning May 16; Kenton County, week beginning May 23; Gallatin County, week beginning May 2, and Grant County, week beginning May 9. Assessments will be higher, Mr. Breathitt said, "but because of a law we passed last October, tax rates will be lower."

According to Breathitt, "Now is the time to check on your assessment, not after tax rates are set and your tax bills made out. By then it will be too late."

The new law directs that local authorities cannot use the new assessments to increase total tax collections above what they were in 1965.

N.F.O. Organized In Southern Kenton Co.

On April 22, at Piner, twenty farmers met and organized the N.F.O. in Southern Kenton County. The purpose of the N.F.O. is to establish bargaining power for the American farmers. It is now a generally accepted fact that farmers must have bargaining power to compete in an organized economy.

Farmers selling as individuals have no bargaining power, and the only way farmers can establish bargaining power is by bringing their production together in sufficient quantities so that the present marketing system can not fulfill their needs from other sources.

In order to do this you must cooperate with your neighbors, according to one of the organizers, Robert Jackson. The men from the Pioneers have taken the first step necessary to establish a bargaining power.

The next meeting is to be held at the RECC building at Nicholson, on May 5. Mr. Jackson said, "This is your opportunity to join the N.F.O. and get in a position to price your own products."

SPRING MEADOWS GUESTS

BEACH YOUTH GETS TWO-YEAR SENTENCE

James Beach, 18, of 19 Locust Street, Walton, was found guilty of breaking and entering after trial in Boone Circuit Court, and the jury recommended a sentence of two years.

Raymond R. Vincent, his court-appointed attorney, moved the court for a stay in rendition of judgment and for probation. He also indicated he would file an appeal.

Young Beach was indicted by the April grand jury. He was accused of breaking into the summer home of Rev. Frank E. Curtis, pastor of First Apostolic Church, St. Bernard, Ohio, on January 4. The Curtis' home is located at Boone Lake, Walton.

Mr. Vincent said that his client had been denied his constitutional rights because he had not been supplied with the services of an attorney when he was before county court. He said that Beach had been in jail for three weeks without benefit of counsel.

"He refused counsel, not once, but several times," Commonwealth Attorney James R. Ford told the court.

Telephone Engineer Talks to Students

Joe Meiman, Engineer for Consolidated Telephone Company, of Florence, presented a program on telephone communications to Mrs. Charles Wiley's class at Walton-Verona High School, Friday, April 29. The program covered developments in telephony in the 90 years since the invention of the telephone. The first call 90 years ago covered a distance of 40 feet and the present communications satellite system covers 40,000 miles.

Mr. Meiman also discussed telephone developments in the Walton area.

Controlling insects and disease of vegetable crops depends on the following practices.

1. Choose the correct materials. Materials needed to control most garden insects are Sevin, DDT, malathion, methoxychlor, and TDE. To control diseases, use one or more of the following: Maneb, Zineb, Captan, or one of the coppers. Materials for disease control are sold under many different trade names, so look for the active ingredient on the package.

2. Select a good sprayer or duster. A good sprayer or duster usually costs a little more, but it results in saving time and does a better job. Buying cheap equipment is usually false economy.

3. Keep equipment in good operating condition. Careful cleaning and preparation of equipment immediately following each spraying or dusting operation will do much to lengthen its usefulness and increase its efficiency.

4. Start at the right time. Start control of insects and disease as soon as the plant breaks through the soil, and repeat as needed. Some vegetable crops may even be destroyed while seeds are germinating. Most early vegetable crops are attacked by flea beetles or aphids. Protect them with DDT, malathion, or methoxychlor.

5. Thoroughness of application. Thorough dusting or spraying covers the entire portion of the plant above the ground. Give careful attention to placing materials on stems and underside of leaves, since some insects never feed on the top-side.

6. Frequency of application. Maintaining a cover of chemicals on a plant from the time it emerges to harvest requires an application of chemicals every 7-10 days. During rainy seasons this might not be often enough.

7. Repeated dusting or spraying is necessary. A growing vegetable plant is developing new leaves, new fruit, or both. Therefore, each time dusting or spraying is done, new leaves or fruit will be covered that were not present at the previous spraying or dusting. One or two applications of pest control materials in the early life of the plant, regardless of how thorough they may have been, may not provide complete protection throughout the life of the plant.

8. Insecticide restrictions. Insecticides like DDT and TRE are very lasting. On some vegetables they should not be applied within 30 days of harvest. Always read the insecticide label to find the minimum days from last application until harvest for the vegetable you are growing.

Home Agent's Parly Line

—by—
Nancy White

No one has precisely defined a convenience food. However, there is no question that the term is widely used. What do most consumers mention when asked to describe "convenience foods?" They talk about ease of preparation, speed of preparation, and ease of cleanup.

Factors to be considered when evaluating convenience foods are: cost, time, quality, nutritive value, acceptability, variety.

When comparing food costs, the best measure is on the cost per serving basis. Inside the factors in comparison: Money spent for product or ingredients. Cost of fuel for preparation and storage. Waste resulting when leftovers cannot be utilized. The value of time spent in shopping, preparing and cleaning up.

Convenience foods may be a bargain when: there is quite a reduction in bulk over regular forms, such as juice concentrates, instant coffee, creamed corn; considerable amount of labor eliminated, such as hand mixing, squeezing oranges or peeling vegetables; they are a relatively simple version of the regular products. Examples are canned and frozen vegetables such as corn and broccoli. They may not be bargains if: the chief ingredient is meat; the food is a luxury or seldom home-made product; or the product involves a great deal of labor and/or packaging.

Time saved in both preparation and waiting is a factor of some convenience foods, such as eliminating or reduction of time spent in dishwashing and cleanup, cooking, and the number of time-consuming items used in different meals. Some examples that cut down on time are: condensed soups, frozen vegetables, fruit.

When people discuss quality of food they really refer to their own standards, based upon past experiences. And standards of quality vary between individuals, sections of the country, religious groups. Quality of convenience foods may or may not be equal to home prepared foods.

Some people appear to have the mistaken idea that processed foods cannot be as nutritious as fresh foods—this is not necessarily true. The wide acceptability of convenience foods has been evidenced by their great popularity and expansion throughout the country. However, some new homemakers may lack knowledge in the preparation and fail to recognize and appreciate characteristic flavors. Convenience foods can add variety and versatility to meals. The addition of the gourmet touch may be achieved by using partly prepared foreign foods or specialty foods. Menus may include many out-of-season items along with those in season.

By Robert Matthews, Attorney General

One of the most expensive purchases a consumer can make is the purchase of money. We do not think of "money" as being for sale, but actually we buy it every time we borrow on "time." The price we pay for its use is seldom investigated even by wise shoppers.

The demand for money as a commodity has become so great that some unethical lenders ask repayments in excess of 100% of the loan.

To avoid being "taken":

1. Inquire into the rate of interest.
2. Check each fee charged.
3. Determine total cash by multiplying the amount of payment by the number of payments and adding the down payment.
4. Shop around to determine the best "price" for the money you need.

5. Always make certain they are licensed by the Department of Banking or that the true simple interest rate is not in excess of the legal rates.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I am contemplating converting my GI term insurance to ordinary life insurance. Will yearly dividends continue to be paid on the converted insurance?

A—Yes, insurance dividends will be paid on the converted ordinary life insurance.

Q—Are there any income limitations for dependent parents of a son who was killed in action in World War II?

A—There are no income limitations on veterans or widows receiving service-connected compensation from the VA. However, since parents of a veteran who died from service-connected causes must prove that they would be dependent on the veteran were he still alive, there is an income limitation in their case.

Q—My son expects to enlist in the Army soon. Will he be entitled to "GI" insurance? What must he do to be sure he is covered while in service?

A—All persons who enter active service for 31 days or more are automatically insured for $10,000 under "Service-men's Group Life Insurance." Your son need do nothing to obtain this protection. Action is required of an individual only if he does not desire the insurance or wants $5,000 coverage instead of $10,000. In such a case he will be required to sign a statement to that effect. The cost of the insurance is $2.00 per month for $10,000 or $1.00 for $5,000. The Army will deduct the cost from your son's monthly service pay.

CINCINNATI UNION STOCKYARDS

The cattle demonstration now going on at the Cincinnati Union Stockyards has really caught the eye of cattle feeders throughout Northern Kentucky. The cattle were weighed last week for the second time. Average daily gain for the first 29 days on shell corn and Purina BIR Supplement was 4.2 lbs. per head. It required only 5.07 lbs. of feed to put on a pound of gain. Feed cost per pound of gain was 19.5 cents or $16.90 per hundred pounds of gain. Labor required in caring for the 40 steers has been less than 30 minutes per day. Ray Mills, general manager of the yards, stated that he would like to invite cattle feeders, brood cow men, and farmers interested in new sources of income to stop by and see the cattle and talk over this demonstration.

HIGH PRAISE FOR GREAT PRODUCT

Purina Golden Bulky is celebrating its first birthday this month. A year ago this month Purina research introduced Golden Bulky into Kentucky. Since that time more than 63,000 bags have been used by dairymen in Northern Kentucky alone. Dairymen report that milk production really went up when they started using Golden Bulky... plus their cows stayed in top body condition. There are SIX BUSHELS OF DAIRY NUTRITION IN EVERY 100 LBS. Top feed or mix it in your ration. REMEMBER... Golden Bulky for more milk.

INCOME & TOBACCO ACREAGE

A good number of farmers in the county have expressed to us recently that they are concerned with the future income of their farm due to the tobacco acreage cut. Livestock offers tremendous income advantages if a farm is on a sound program. The income from only 10 sows in a feeder pig producing operation is equal to one acre of tobacco. If the pigs are fed out to market, the operation could return a labor profit equal to two acres of tobacco. Care of 10 sows requires about one-fourth the time an acre of tobacco does. A small, inexpensive cattle feed lot for 50 head of steers can return a labor profit per year equal to five acres of tobacco. One man can look after 500 steers on a "Bilk-In-Roughage" program. Let us help you increase your income on your farm. We will be glad to discuss programs that will fit your farm.

CONTROL ALFALFA WEEVIL

Only one product is safe to turn cows in on the very next day or put up for hay when it has been sprayed on alfalfa fields... PURINA MALITION SPRAY 57%. Control "ole" alfalfa weevil with PURINA MALITION SPRAY 57%.

HEART TROUBLE . . . Feels Great Again
. . . Thanks To Chiropractic!

It is hard to tell anyone, in just a few words, my feeling for chiropractic. I'm just grateful that in my time of need I had something to turn to.

I fell and started aching all over, especially in my joints and muscles. Soon other things began to get worse. I became very nervous, very short of breath, and couldn't lift anything or work. I went to several different doctors, trying the usually accepted methods of treatment, but found very little relief. Then my physician told me I had heart trouble.

My sister-in-law recommended a chiropractor to me. In just two short weeks after taking chiropractic adjustments, I was breathing normally. I was feeling much better all over. It has been a couple of years since my first few adjustments and I haven't had any trouble since. I still go to my chiropractor occasionally to get checked to make sure I keep that healthy, happy feeling that I had heard about.

Believe me, chiropractic helped me after everything else failed. I have sent many people to my chiropractor and I have been thanked many times. —W. E. DUNCAN

Serving God

Lesson for May 8, 1966

Background Scriptures: 11 Chronicles 17 through 20.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 85.

Every man, woman and child is important in the sight of God, but some persons are more important than others. That is, it makes no great deal of difference what old John Doe, sitting on a fence and talking out of pure ignorance, thinks the country ought to be doing. It does make a tremendous difference what Richard Roe thinks, not just because he has the brains that John Doe has, but because he is a man of God. Who shall deny the title "God's man" to the Emperor Constantine, or the scientist Louisa Pasteur, or the poet Browning, or Doctor Grenfell, missionary on the Labrador coast, or to Lord Salisbury who did so much to make life livable for working men in England, or to William of Orange and Gustavus Adolphus, military heroes of the Reformation, or the unknown artists in stone, who conceived and produced the great cathedrals of Europe, or great musicians like J. S. Bach, or a many-sided genius such as Albert Schweitzer? These were "secular" men, that is to say for the most part unordained, but with stronger influence for God than most ministers, rabbis or priests.

Dr. Foreman never had, but because people who listen to Mr. Roe and take him seriously will find that their choices are in many ways affected by Mr. Roe's ideas, be they what they may. The important people in any generation, then, are those whose decisions affect the decisions of others, perhaps millions of others.

EVERY SPHERE IS GOD'S

The most important people of all (though they may not realize it themselves) are those whose own personal decisions are oriented to GOD always, and who influence others for God. One thing should be made clear from the beginning: A person can serve God equally well in church or state. An officer in the church may be a man of God, but so may an official in the state. David was not even a priest, but he was a man of God. Who shall deny the title "God's man" to the Emperor Constantine, or the scientist Louisa Pasteur, or the poet Browning, or Doctor Grenfell, missionary on the Labrador coast, or to Lord Salisbury who did so much to make life livable for working men in England, or to William of Orange and Gustavus Adolphus, military heroes of the Reformation, or the unknown artists in stone, who conceived and produced the great cathedrals of Europe, or great musicians like J. S. Bach, or a many-sided genius such as Albert Schweitzer? These were "secular" men, that is to say for the most part unordained, but with stronger influence for God than most ministers, rabbis or priests.

POWER OF APPOINTMENT

The Old Testament gives us the picture of the good king Jehoshaphat. He deserves the adjective good, and showed how good he was by using wisely the greatest opportunity for truly important people, namely the power of appointment to important posts men of character and influence. We give a thought today to judges in particular. This king was especially careful about getting able judges for the country. What the Bible tells us about judges is as wise today as it was when it was written. Let us run down a list of qualifications or duties as we find them in 11 Chronicles 19.

(1) The good judge will know that beyond all human responsibility he is first and always responsible to GOD. (2) A good judge is available. To put it another way, a too crowded docket, or too few judges for the population, slows down and defeats the purpose of the courts. (3) The purpose of the law (this should go without saying) is Justice. Not to make the judge rich, not to make the courts feared, not to use up the taxpayers' money, but to see that all parties get a square deal. Justice has various forms. Cynics will tell you that laws and courts exist to entrench the rich and powerful and keep the "little man" in his place. On the contrary, justice, real justice, means protecting the weak from the strong. One acid test of courtroom justice is: Can a poor man get justice here?

COURAGE IN COURTS

It takes courage to be a judge. Some times he needs physical courage, and always moral courage.

Lucky Clovers 4-H Club

The April meeting of the Lucky Clovers 4-H Club was held at the Staffordburg Methodist Church. Neva Jo Fennell, president, called the meeting to order. Clayton Keeney turned in $1.00 to the treasurer for papers sold.

Laine Marshall gave a talk about the Danville School for the Deaf. The club decided to help the school by collecting magazines.

Laine Ellen Marshall, a junior at Simon Kenton High, recently won two superior ratings at the Regional meet. Then on April 21, received a silver State Speech pin at the University of Kentucky.

Top Hat 4-H Club Meets

The Top Hat 4-H Club held its monthly meeting April 14 at the home of Mrs. David Riddle.

On Friday, May 6, Kathleen Kunkel will speak on her trip to India. It will be held at the Oak Island Baptist Church at 8:00 p. m. Everyone invited.

Friday, May 13, the Style Review will be held at Taylor Mill School. It will start between 7:30 and 8:00 p. m.

The May meeting of the club is going to be on nutrition. A demonstration will be given by Paula Roy, Sharon Roy and Geraldine Dixon.

RYLAND HOMEMAKERS

"Remember the Wind," was the title of a book by William McKissick Chapman reviewed by Mrs. C. J. Castleberry when the Ryland Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Morgan Metzger. Books read by members were tabulated by the reading chairman, Mrs. Anthony Wolf, for her yearly report.

Miss Ruth Schmidt presided and tickets for the Kenton County Homemakers' Annual Spring meeting at Summit Hills Country Club on May 19, were distributed.

Garden leader, Mrs. J. H. Lawson, gave information on selecting plants for your landscape...also to try a new plant or vegetable for the garden this year. An exchange of seeds and bulbs was included in the garden period.

Home Demonstration Agent Gertrude Papretta gave a talk on color planning in the home and in costumes. She reported that a new club, "Harmony," had been added to Kenton County, making a total of 35.

Mrs. Harold Halhill and Miss Ruth Schmidt presented the lesson on "Antiquing Furniture." Leaders demonstrated how to achieve the various finishes. Step-by-step lesson pamphlets were given the members.

Mrs. Clarence McCord will be hostess for the May meeting, and roll call will be answered by a verse of a song.

MOTHER'S Day

and MOTHER'S DAY

Our artist is not experimenting with his brush! There is a profound difference between these two days...

MOTHER'S Day — with the accent on Mother — is the second Sunday in May, when we honor Motherhood, and express our deep affection for Mother. Mother's DAY — with the accent on Day — is every day of the year. It is Mother's unending labor of love. It is Monday's wash and Tuesday's ironing, the meals to be cooked and the beds to be made, the bruises to be healed and the prayers to be heard.

And at the close of her DAY, Mother has prayers of her own—for her little ones, her husband and herself.

God is answering many of those prayers through the Church. With its effective program of religious education and worship the Church can supply the spiritual needs in Mother's DAY... and in your DAY also!

MISS BONNIE LOUISE LOGAN

Miss Bonnie Louise Logan, freshman at Eastern Kentucky State University, Richmond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. The Walton-Verona junior class held the annual Junior-Senior Prom at Summit Hills Country Club in South Ft. Mitchell, on Friday, April 29th.

Aside from the students and their dates, teachers and their guests, the juniors had as honorary guest chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Risner.

The crowning ceremony began at 10:00 p. m., and the students who were voted into the following positions by the junior class, and announced by Mrs. Betty Combs were as follows: King, Dennis Chipman; Queen, Sandy Morgan; First Attendants, G. J. Posee and Vicki Logsdon; Second Attendants, Donnie Afterkirk and Shelley Kendall; Third Attendants, Jimmy Robinson and Connie Crow; Fourth Attendants, Tony Richards and Barbara Groger.

The reigning queen from the past year, Miss Janice Morgan, placed the tiara crown, which is passed down to the queens of years to come, on this year's queen, and the reigning king of last year, John Prather, placed the crown on this year's king. The queen also received a lovely bouquet of long-stemmed red roses.

The junior class hopes that everyone who attended the Prom had an enjoyable evening and, said a spokesman, "we wish to thank all those connected with helping us get everything ready."

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

This is the time of the year that most school boards begin to plan and talk budgets for the next school year. Several people have asked recently how a school board goes about planning and working out a budget. In January, there was a question and answer article in the Department of Education School News, which is the official publication for the Department. This informative information follows as it appeared in the School News:

Question: When will a local district board of education know how much revenue to expect for the next school year?

Answer: The Superintendent of Public Instruction will determine how much revenue your local board of education can expect June 1st.

Question: How will the amount of local revenue for a local school district be determined?

Answer: The Superintendent of Public Instruction will determine the local revenue that can be expected by each local district by applying the preceding year's rate and by applying the preceding year's effective tax rate to the net assessment growth. The sum of these two will equal the local revenue you can expect unless you are forced to ask for a 10% increase in local revenue.

Question: What action by a local board of education will be necessary before increasing the levy?

Answer: In preparing a budget for the 1966-67 school year after June 1, when your board has received a certification of the amount of local revenue to be expected of it, it is determined that an increase of not more than 10% is needed, you may submit to the levying authority a budget which requires an increase in revenue of not more than 10%.

Question: Is a public hearing necessary? If so, when?

Answer: If your board of education decides that an increase is necessary, notice of a public hearing setting out time and place must be published. The public hearing will not be held until after June 1 or such time that you have received a certification of revenue to be expected exclusive of the increase.

Question: When will the general budget be due?

Answer: The general budget will be filed with the tax levying authority before July 1. This date has not been changed.

Mrs. Walter Whitson then gave a brief devotional from a portion of the 4th Chapter of Matthew.

Miss Glenna Adams and Gregory Russell showed slides and narrated further on their trip to New York and Washington, while attending a seminar for students. They considered this a rare opportunity and had nothing but praise for the trip. It was enjoyed by 12 members, who were:

Coup
Lesson for May 15, 1966

Background Scriptures: Kings 11 through 12; II Chronicles 22 through 24.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 26: 1-4.

A little girl who lived with her parents, missionaries in an Oriental city, came running to her mother's room early one morning. Shots were being fired in the streets. "What's that?" the little girl asked. Her mother answered sleepily, "Oh, another coup, I guess." "Then that's all right," said her daughter, "it's all the same no matter who wins", and off she went happily to bed again.

Dr. Foreman's Coup is the modern name for what used to be called a palace revolution and also a revolt, a sudden military strike intended to put the reigning administration out of power (by imprisonment or death) and install new men in their place. Our Bible assignment this week tells of a successful coup organized by a priest, a coup that really was worthwhile, one that lasted at least a century longer than most coups do.

WHY THEY DID IT

Athaliah, the queen in residence, was definitely a "bad egg". She began her public career by killing all her grandchildren. This was even worse than it sounds. Athaliah was not a Hebrew, but a foreigner—a daughter of the unscrupulous and unspeakable Jezebel. The throne of the kingdom of Judah belonged by popular will and the providence of God to the family of David. By killing off her grandchildren, Athaliah thought she would have "established" her claim to the throne. And so she would, if she had really killed all the children. But there was one small baby she did not know about (she was not the kind of grandmother who keeps up with all her family). This baby, named Joash, or Jehoash, was hidden in a bedroom belonging to the high priest. There he stayed for seven years, unknown to all but a trusted very few. The whole nation accepted Athaliah because they thought they had no choice. So her irresponsible tyranny went on for seven years, while the good priest Jehoiada (Incidentally, he was of royal family connections also) bided his time.

HOW THEY DID IT

The big coup came off on a Sabbath. The high priest managed it down to the last detail. You can read those details for yourself in the Bible. Essentially the plan called for tripling the number of soldiers on duty at what we would call "churchtime", introducing the boy king to the army men, (and what a thrill it must have been to see a real, live lawful king, even a child, after seven years of Athaliah) and hailing the young heir to the throne as King of Judea. Athaliah was a little late getting to the temple court, and saw that something had happened. Then when she heard the shouting "Long live the King!", "Treason!" she screamed. But she was (no doubt) pointing her finger at the high priest and the boy king, whereas she should have been pointing at herself. Anyway, in a few minutes the soldiers carried out their orders, and "the wicked old witch was dead."

THINKING ABOUT COUPS

So the people were as happy over this coup as they had been unhappy over Athaliah's. All this gives us something to think about, in our world where coups of one sort or another are being pulled all the time. — Santo Domingo, Cuba, Jakarta, Korea, Congo, Moscow, to name a few in recent months. The Bible gives us some hints of how to look at these things. Some coups, rebellions, political shake-ups, are good, some are bad. Few are wholly bad, few wholly good. Athaliah's own coup was wickedly selfish. The coup that killed her was unselfish since the high priest ran a good deal of risk and could get nothing personal by the event. Force, even violence is in itself not good nor bad. Whether it is a blessing or a curse depends on who uses the force, and how, and why.

More than 30 percent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1965 were under 25 years of age.

Walton Literary Club Holds May Meeting

The Walton Women's Literary Club met May 4 in Fellowship Hall of the Walton Christian Church at 2:00 p. m.

Mrs. L. M. Gabriel called the meeting to order. The group gave the salute to the flag, sang America, and then repeated the club collect. Mrs. Julia Rouse then read minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. A. H. Gaines suggested that the club take up the old project of improving and beautifying the school grounds.

Mrs. Grace Knox chose the devotional from Acts 11, 41-47, and emphasized the great blessing of good fellowship.

Mrs. Gabriel presented the District Governor, Mrs. Frank Dils, who talked about the Federation, the new Highland Heights Club, and stressed the importance of being on the honor roll.

The seventh grade of the local school, along with their instructors rendered the "Trumpeter's Serenade" and other pieces for the enjoyment of the club.

Boone County DHIA Meets in Burlington

A meeting of the Boone County D. H. I. A. was held in the Extension office in Burlington, May 3. Officers were elected as follows: Owen Sprague, president; Albert Bruggemann, vice president, and Joe Clinton Berkshire, secretary and treasurer. Arlie Miller is tester for the county.

Mr. Roamans of the Dairy Department of the University of Kentucky discussed the Articles of Incorporation and by-laws of the Kentucky Dairy Records, Inc. and counseled with the dairymen in regard to DHIA records.

It was decided that the Association would have an annual meeting each year.

Canneries are operated at Kentucky State Reformatory and Kentucky State Penitentiary.

How wonderful to see God through the eyes of a child. The wonder of bright blue eggs in a nest of twigs, the path of the wind through tooting treetops, moonlight dancing on a lake. All these are to him the fingerprints of God.

Too often we are caught up in a world of worry and concern. Worrying how to make ends meet, we forget to stop and see God in the world around us. Jesus said, "Whoever shall not receive the Kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein."

Your church offers you moments of worship and inspiration, so that you may see all things bright and beautiful and find for yourself the Kingdom of God as He reveals it daily through the beauty of His earth.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest force on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four good reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

PROTEIN, FAT, AND FIBER IS NOT THE ENTIRE STORY

Just because a tag shows less fiber, the same protein percentage, and fat percentage, doesn't always mean it will perform the same as a ration with the same tag or higher fiber. Carefully selected ingredients blended together in "Just right" amounts to help your cows produce all that's in 'em plus accurate mixing and pelletizing is needed. This calls for years of extensive research. Purina Checkerbord Dairy 14% has the selected ingredients. It is MICRO-MIXED, a registered process of the Ralston Purina Co., plus it carries years of extensive research behind it. Many local dairymen report increases of over 2,000 lbs. more milk per cow in their first year on Purina Checkerbord Dairy 14%. Try it today!

CONDITION SHOW STOCK

It will be show time before you know it and we would like to tell you about a wonderful product that can help you earn that blue ribbon...PURINA SHOW CHOW. Purina Show Chow is a well-balanced supplement for grains and roughages...providing protein and energy sources...enriched with the important vitamins and minerals which can be lacking in the diet of confined show animals. Years of Purina purebred nutrition research have developed Show Chow expressly for show-winning qualities...Fast growth and muscle development...Firm, uniform show ring fleshing...Rich bloom and growth of haircoat. We work closely with those who use Purina...the feed of Champions—as part of their fitting rations. We predict that some of these youngsters have animals that will be hard to beat.

COWS LOVE NEW PURINA
GOLDEN BULKY

M...M...M...stands for more, more, more, in cow talk. If cows could talk they would be saying more Golden Bulky because cows and growing heifers love the sweet flavor and aroma of new Purina Golden Bulky. It's sweet because it's high in molasses. It's light and bulky...100 pounds fills six bushel baskets. It's a high protein ration fortified with Vitamins A and D. Use versatile new Golden Bulky to balance the grain in your milking ration...top feed for more milk or to preserve silage. Mixed 50-50 with corn it makes a wonderful heifer ration. Golden Bulky is excellent to feed when cows are on pasture...they will clean it up and say...M...M...M... (more, more, more).

Jack Twyman, member of the Cincinnati Royals, a professional basketball team, will deliver the commencement address to the 37 graduates at Walton-Verona High School on Friday, June 3, beginning at 8:00 p. m.

Mr. Twyman, a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., is the Royals "old-timer," as for as longevity is concerned. He has been with the Royals all of his ten years in the NBA.

Twyman is a former University of Cincinnati basketball star. Jack has gained national recognition for his guardian efforts on behalf of the one-time Royal, Maurice Stokes, who has been hospitalized in Cincinnati since 1958.

Parents and friends are invited to this '66 commencement to hear Mr. Twyman speak to the graduating class. We have heard him on television and he never seems to lack for words. It should be an interesting speech.

Other events relating to the end of school activities are Baccalaureate services, Sunday, May 29, at 8:00 p. m., and Awards Night, on Thursday, June 2 at 8:00.

Kindergarten Teacher Needed

The Walton Kindergarten which is sponsored by the Wa-Na Woman's Club are seeking applications for a Kindergarten teacher to replace the present teachers for the term starting in September, 1966. According to state Kindergarten regulations and State Fire Inspector, the Kindergarten will be limited this next year and only one class with one teacher will be conducted. This is due mainly because of the limited room area that are provided for the classes. In order to maintain a Kindergarten, there are many regulations to be followed.

Under the Educational Qualifications for a regular permit, the teacher shall have at least two years of college training (60 semester hours) including child development methods course in Primary Teaching, Children's Literature, Science, Music, Plays and Games, and Arts and Crafts.

For a Provisional Permit the teacher shall have minimum of 18 semester hours in elementary education with the same recommended courses as above stated.

Mrs. Mike Ryan is the Kindergarten Chairman from the Wa-Na Club. She is very anxious to have applications for either or both types of permits. Send a written application giving your qualifications and salary expected. Classes are conducted in the morning at the Walton Baptist Church and follow the same schedule of days as the local school with exception of starting and closing dates.

A registration of Kindergarten pupils will be conducted later this month and more complete information will be available to any sending in their application. Send applications to Mrs. Mike Ryan, Route 2, Walton or call at 485-4756 for any further details.

Kenton Co. Garden Club Holds Meeting

At a meeting of the Kenton County Garden Club, Miss Elma Taylor called the group to order and requested a reading of the minutes. She then read a report which she sent to the state headquarters. The triangle and sign were discussed, and it was decided to leave the matter up to the committee, Mrs. Gabriel and Mrs. Rutter.

Plans for the Kenton County Fair were discussed, including the question of club participation. It was decided the club would have a booth at the fair with Mrs. Leontine Stephens as chairman. Election of officers resulted in Mrs. L. M. Gabriel being named treasurer, and Mrs. Leontine Stephens vice-president.

Miss Margaret Stephens and Mrs. Wesley Hall were asked to prepare a list of hostesses for the year. Mrs. Hall will be hostess in June.

Tickets were offered for the garden tour sponsored by the Garden Clubs of Cincinnati and the Post-Times-Star. Since the year began in April, dues were paid by those present.
